NEVER SINCE THE FLOOD

When the old man Noah drove the animals two by two into the Ark for protection have Dry Goods and Clothing been so cheap and so handsome as they are for the Fall of 1885, and never since Adam was a boy has there been such a large and well assorted stock in Lindsay to make your selections from as is now within the four walls of the City Store. We are as full of bargains as the victorious politician is full of votes on election day. We therefore without the least equivocation, hesitation or mental reservation of any kind proceed to give you some unadulterated pistol grip advice, or in other words pour some wisdom into your ear. To begin, times are hard and money is tight, therefore it behooves everybody rich and poor alike to be economical and tight fisted, and to exercise wisdom and foresight in expending money to the best possible advantage in purchasing the actual necessities of life. The question then arises what are the actual necessities of life without indulging in luxuries? Actual necessities are food to eat and clothing sufficiently heavy and warm to protect you from blizzards and things which during our long Canadian winters are always on the alert for victims, consequently they are treacherous foes and stab you the more severely when you are least protected, hence the necessity for armor that will protect you from the attacks of Jack Frost.

We therefore warn you in time to prepare for the enemy, and would advise that you equip yourself thoroughly well and at once in the City Store accoutrements and blizzard protector garments at prices that will knock the blizzards cold and drive you wild with delight.

Our 25 cent Grey All Wool Flannels are such prime value that actually people are hungry for them. Our stock of Ladies' and Gents' all wool underclothing is simply immense, while the prices are ridiculously low. Heavy all wool and Union dress goods and ladies' cloth suitings in great variety. Roman Stripes in Pushes, Silks, Velvets and Shirtings, Salisbury and Gladstone Flannels, the noblest goods of the age.

We are the fashionable Merchant Tailors of Lindsay and take special pride in serving our patrons with style, fit and finish that cannot be duplicated, and our stock of foreign and Canadian Tweeds and Suitings is ample and complete.

We cordially invite a visit from you.
