GAS.—(VITALIZED AIR.)

Go to J. NEELANDS, Dentist, Lindsay, if you want teeth extracted positively without pain. Gas has been given by him with great success for over 21 years. He studied with Dr. Colton, of New York, the inventor of gas for extracting teeth. Numbers of persons are wearing artificial teeth made by Mr. Neelands 20 years ago, and never required any repairs. Gold crowns, porcelain crowns and bridgework done. Visits Fenelon Falls, McArthur House, on the third Tuesday of every month. Call early the day.

Frozen Milk.

Monsieur Guerin, an engineer residing in the department of the Vosges, has been presented with the gold medal of the French Society of Agriculture for his successful experiments as to the freezing of milk for transport. He was led to find out a process and report on the result of his trials at the instance of a society of farmers, who were dissatisfied with the local market for their milk, but knew it was useless to attempt to compete with the dairymen nearer Paris, unless they could ensure the freshness of their commodity on its arrival in the capital. M. Guerin found that samples of milk from the same cows, one of which had been frozen and the other perfectly fresh, could not be distinguished by a jury of twenty experts. Moreover, when boiled they behaved alike, and the cream of the frozen took no longer to rise. The frozen milk remained perfectly sweet for four days, and made excellent butter.
He submitted samples to the leading cheese-factories, and they also reported favorably upon it. The chief precaution that it seems necessary to take is not to allow the milk to remain at any time at a temperature higher than thirty-five degrees F. The process of freezing is completed in five or six hours.

A Narrow Escape.

KINGSTON, Feb. 8.—About 400 Napanee people had a marvelous escape from disaster and death last night.
They attended an entertainment by the Smith bell ringers in the Opera house and dispersed about 10.30 o'clock.
Half an hour later the care-taker locked up, and was just descending the stairs when the tons and tons of snow on the building caused the walls to bulge outwards, and the roof fell in with a loud crash. The building was completely wrecked. Had the accident occurred sooner not one of all the persons in the place would have escaped injury. The seats were smashed to matchwood.
The Opera house was 110 feet long and the western half of the roof jutted against the eastern half of another roof.
In the triangle thus created snow had piled to the depth of many feet. The building was erected ten years ago by Mr. Abel Yates. On his failure it was converted into a roller rink and partially destroyed by fire. Benjamin Brisco again transformed it into an Opera house.

Steel rails have grown in weight from 56 pounds to the yard to 90 and 100, and it is probable that in time they will be even heavier.

A Drawback Wanted.

A curious illustration of the working of a high tariff is seen in the proposal that a drawback should be given to manufacturers of agricultural implements upon goods sent to the Argentine Republic. At first a heavy duty was placed upon agricultural implements so as to give the Canadian manufacturer an advantage in Canadian markets.
Then a heavy tax was placed upon iron —to encourage mining and melting, it was said, but the effect has been simply to raise revenue, and that was probably the real intention. The Canadian manufacturer of agricultural implements, hampered by the heavy duties on iron, is compensated by the duties on goods he manufactures. But being so hampered, he cannot trade to advantage in countries where he must encounter competition. He believes, however, that he can sell his goods in these foreign countries if he is given a drawback—that is, if the Government will refund to him the duty which he has paid on the raw material of the implements he exports. In other words, if he has not to pay duty on the things he buys he can do without the duty on the things he sells. It is obvious that this remark applies as well to sales in Canada as to sales in the Argentine Republic, and that if it were not for the oppressive iron taxes the oppressive duties on farm implements would not be necessary.
Wages would be just as high and the difference in the price would be so much money in the farmer's pocket.—Globe.

In preaching against extravagance a Western minister looked straight at Mrs. Hiram Torver, who had on a $12 bonnet, and she fainted dead away.

The thistle at the antipodes seems to attain a most vigorous growth. Its root penetrates to a depth of from twelve to twenty feet, and this root, even when cut into small pieces, retains vitality, each piece producing a new plant.

A rather strange affliction happened to a Minnesota couple who were sleigh-riding. The young man's right ear and the lady's left ear were frosted, while the other two were not cold at all.
Why all four ears were not frosted is a problem.

The monks of St. Vincent's Monastery at Greensburg, Pa., who have operated a brewery for the past half century, are going out of the business, having become convinced that it is not becoming to the religious and educational life of the institution.

Wanamaker, the celebrated Philadelphia merchant, has increased his advertising 300 per cent. because of the dull season. He wisely argues that it is in the dull times the dealer should take special pains to let the public know the merits of his wares.

A gentleman who recently attended service at Whitehall Chapel, Louth, on gives the following inventory of what he saw:—Two clergymen, two pewopeners, two sextons, two organists, sixteen chorists, seventy-seven lighted candles and a congregation of thirty-three, including children.

A man named W. W. Bury was arrested at Dundee last Monday for the murder of his wife, whose mutilated body was found squeezed into a wooden chest. They left Whitechapel less than a month ago, and the police think they have got hold of the veritable "Jack the Ripper." He is believed to be of unsound mind, and subject to fits of unconscious murder mania.

The Emperor of Russia has just rewarded and decorated a private soldier for fidelity to duty during an earthquake which destroyed a small Russian town in Central Asia. The soldier was on duty in the military treasury, and, although the houses were crashing around him, the faithful fellow remained motionless, awaiting death. Fortunately a sergeant in the street saw him amid the ruins and instantly ordered him to quit his post, which he did right willingly.

A number of Chinese laundrymen, while on their way to Sunday school in Peoria, Ill., last Sunday, were jeered at by two bad boys. The spirits of their proud ancestors strove mightily within them, and they sailed into those hoodlums, smote them hip and thigh, and rolled them ignominiously in the dirt.
Having done this, they gathered up their Bibles and Sunday school books, and went on their way placidly to church. From this instructive incident bad boys should learn that the old plan of disciplining Chinamen by concentrating their energies on our lone victim is still the safest. The Chinaman's squad is apt to resist.
