

FENELON FALLS GAZETTE SUPPLEMENT.

Counterfeit Money.

A number of confiding Canadians who have been anxious to get rich speedily, but by not over-scrupulous means, have placed themselves in a tight corner. Within the past three or four weeks hundreds of circulars have been delivered in Canada offering counterfeit bills on the usual terms. The recipients of the circulars were to address Thomas Root, P.O. Box 143, Oxford Furnace, Warren county, N.J., for full particulars, this address being good for thirty days. Now under chap. 40 of the statutes of last session, an Act respecting the advertising of counterfeit money, any one who advertises, offers to sell, purchases or offers to purchase a counterfeit token of value, meaning by that any spurious or counterfeit coin, paper money, inland revenue stamps, postage stamps or other evidence of value by whatever technical, trivial or deceptive designation the same may be described, is guilty of felony and liable to five years' imprisonment. Scores of persons in Ontario snapped at Mr. Root's bait, and their letters are now in possession of Major Sherwood, chief of the Dominion Police. One of the earliest circulars received in Canada was sent to the Department of Justice, and Mr. Sherwood at once placed himself in communication with the P. O. Inspector of Warren county, N. J., who retained all letters addressed to Mr. Root and forwarded those bearing Canadian postage stamps to Ottawa. The first indictment under the Act of last session was recently chronicled in this column, and, if this Ottawa prosecution be successful, those who were so foolish as to write Mr. Root may look out for squalls.

An Imperial Dude.

When the Imperial German mourning terminates young Kaiser Wilhelm's court will become the most gorgeous in Europe. He has ordered that court dress shall comprise knee-breeches, buckle shoes, three-cornered hat and colors presumably ad libitum and according to the individual fancy. This fondness of William's for splendor is inherent. It is but the development of his love for brilliant and showy uniforms. The personal equipment of some officers of the Kaiser's great army to-day would abash the most fantastic and decorative dreams of Beau Brummell. When the craze for gaudy trappings reaches Court there is ground for hope that the German women may take it up. At present the women of Berlin enjoy the reputation of being the worst dressed in Europe.

An Albany doctor the other day captured an adult tape worm forty feet long and saved the life of a baby only 19 months old. The worm was twenty-five times as long as the child.
