CROWDED OUT.—A communication from "Equal Rights" was set up for this issue, but was crowded out by advertisements. It will keep.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.—A man named Ritchie, who was in jail at Peterborough for horse stealing, confessed to another prisoner that it was he who set fire to Mr. Irvine Junkin's premises in Bobcaygeon two years ago last summer, and that he was paid for committing the crime. When Ritchie's time was up, last week, he was immediately arrested on a charge of incendiarism, taken to Lindsay, and committed to stand his trial at the next assizes. The parties who paid him are just as guilty as he is, and, if convicted, will suffer the same penalty.

The Minnesota man who says that he went out the other morning and chopped off with a corn knife the heads of 134 wild ducks which had got their feet frozen fast in the ice, has been hired to make high-tariff speeches in that State during the next political campaign.

Artificial gems at the Paris Exposition are said to have surpassed anything ever before shown, some of the specimens puzzling even experts. The artificial pearls were especially successful, no means being found to distinguish the genuine from the artificial, except the use of a file.

The action of Dom Pedro is a shining example to Royalty all over the world. When told that he must "git," but that he would be given a bonus of $2,500,000, together with $500,000 a year to live on, he promptly replied:—"Friends, countrymen, bring on your shekels while I throw a clean shirt into my grip."

Mayor Fidler, of Philadelphia, has received a complaint which he says he is going to have framed: The complainant is a woman, a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and her grievance is that the streets are kept too clean. "There isn't dirt enough on the cobble stones," she says, "to give the poor horses a secure foothold."

COMMUNICATIONS.

Whisperings from an Orange Lodge.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette,
Sir,—

It is said that on the 28th of November Mr. Chas. Fairbairn attended a special meeting of L. O. L. 996 of this village, in support of a charge preferred against Mr. A. Q. St. George by Mr. Thos. Roberts for language used in some of his letters against the County Master. When the charge was read over a discussion took place, after which a standing vote was called for, when it was found that only two stood up to sustain the charge, and about twenty against it. It is also said Mr. Fairbairn was present in the lodge all this time, and did not know what way to look when he saw himself sat upon by such a large majority of his brethren. This is the second time Mr. F. has come to Fenelon Falls to try to vindicate his actions; each time to find out that he is not just the lovely character he pretends to be. Mr. F. returned home a sorrier but a wiser man.

Yours truly,
A LISTENER.
