imbues a man with confidence, and preposes others in his favor—which is important. When rich, a man may indulge his eccentricities, and appear in the shabbiest attire without losing "caste," but not so the young man who is just making his way in the world: it's ruinous to his chances to wear ill-fitting clothes.

Fire Protection.

Last week a large and powerful force pump from Toronto was received by Mr. Sandford, and is now in a neat and commodious building erected for its reception between Mr. Welsh's woollen mill and the house that contains the turbine wheel that drives the machinery used by Mr. Sandford and Mr. Welsh. The two are in partnership as far as fire protection is concerned, and the pump, which is new and cost $350, is their joint property. The house, which measures about 12 x 16 feet, is to be made as nearly as possible frost proof, and the water below, from which the pump will be supplied, never has much more than half an inch of ice on it. The pump will be driven by a belt that passes through an opening in the back of the house, and around the shaft that runs from the wheel house to the factories. It is guaranteed to throw two 1 1/2 inch streams 70 feet from the nozzles of the hose, and would afford a very considerable degree of protection to the buildings on the business portion of the main street, if the council would act upon the suggestion made some time ago by Mr. Sandford and purchase enough hose to reach to Bond street. It is estimated that the pump can be got to work in three minutes after the alarm of fire is given, which is quick enough, surely, to satisfy the most impatient. Neither Mr. Sandford nor Mr. Welsh has any insurance, as they will not pay the high rates demanded, preferring to trust to their own vigilance and the protection afforded by the means they have always provided and that are now more effective than ever.

Another Fire at Kinmount.

About 3 o'clock on Monday morning fire broke out in Mr. C. J. Smith's saw-mill a mile and a half north of Kinmount, which was totally destroyed, together with the office, store, store-house, a large boarding-house, about 100 cords of slabs, 20,000 ties, a small quantity of lumber, and a few posts and shingles. The bulk of the lumber was piled at a considerable distance from the mill and out of danger with the wind the way it was. A train that was waiting to be loaded next morning did good service by drawing water from the tank at Kinmount to the scene of the fire, and by removing ties, &c., that might otherwise have been burned. Mr. Smith is on his way home from California, and Mr. McNeilly, his foreman, was at Haliburton superintending the loading of ice. The loss is estimated at about $12,000, and there was considerable insurance, but we have been unable to learn how much. Mr. S. Swanton had been negotiating for the purchase of the ties, which, however, had not been formally transferred to him. As the fire was burning in two or three places when it was discovered, there is but little doubt that it was the work of an incendiary.

An Ice-house Burned.

The most northerly of the ice-houses on the shore of Cameron Lake was totally destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock last Monday night. It was owned by Messrs. John and Henry Austin and Wm. E. Ellis, measured 60 x 120 feet, cost over $500, and was uninsured. Only one train-load of ice had been taken out and it contained about 2,500 tons, the property of the Grenadier Ice Co., of Toronto. The ice was valued at $4,000 and was insured for 2,000; but to what extent it was damaged is not yet known. The fire is supposed to have been unintentionally caused by an old tramp who has been in this vicinity lately, begging his living and camping out wherever it suited his fancy. He was seen at the pulp-mill at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon, and the ashes of a small fire were found near the house; but, on the other hand, it is reported—but whether correctly or not we are unable to say—that he was at a farm house eight miles away about two hours later.

School Board Proceedings.

Fenelon Falls, Oct. 29th, 1890. The Board met; all the members present except Mr. Austin; the chairman in the chair.

Moved by Mr. Ellis, seconded by Mr. Robson, That, owing to the decrease in the attendance of pupils at the public schools, this Board considers it advisable to close one room in the south ward school after the Christmas holidays.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Nie, seconded by Mr. Nevison, That this Board re-engage the following teachers for the year 1891.—

Miss Anderson, salary	- $300 00
Miss Macneiven, " "	- 275 00
Miss Sullivan, " "	- 300 00
Miss Hand, " "	- 212 50

—Carried.

PHOTOGRAPHS VERY CHEAP.—During the month of November we will make Card size Photographs for $1 00 per dozen up; Cabinet size $2 50 per dozen up, and all other sizes at reduced rates, at FOWLER & Co.'s, Lindsay.—36-3w.

HALLOW E'EN.—This being the last day of October, the village boys will, we suppose, be playing the usual Hallow E'en pranks to night. It is to be hoped that nothing will be done by which any person will be put to loss or serious inconvenience.

ANOTHER THOROUGH-BRED.—A few days ago Mr. Archibald McArthur, of Fenelon, received a thorough-bred Durham bull calf, three weeks old, from the famous herd of Mr. John Miller, of Markham. It is a handsome and promising young animal, and we hope it will live and do well.

THE ORANGE ENTERTAINMENT.—Don't forget the Orange entertainment in Ingram's hall on the evening of Wednesday next, the 5th of November. It will be well worth attending, and a full house is hoped for. Particulars were given in last week's Gazette and in the posters issued about ten days ago.

ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday, the 22nd inst., as Mr. Robert Frise was engaged on his own premises in the township of Somerville in sawing lumber, a piece of board struck the circular saw and was sent with great force, striking Mr. Frise on the arm and breaking it about midway between the shoulder and elbow. Dr. Graham, of Fenelon Falls, was sent for and set the fracture.

A HEAVY LOSS.—Mr. Nathan Day's well known Percheron stallion, Champagne, died on Tuesday, the 21st inst., after a fortnight's illness, but we did not hear of it until last week's Gazette was printed. The causes of death are said to have been rheumatic quinsy and inflammation of the lungs. The horse was only ten years old, and Mr. Day valued him at $1000. There was no insurance.

THANKS AND KICKS.—Thursday next, Nov. 6th, will be Thanksgiving Day, and of course will be observed as a general holiday. A football match between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls will be held in the afternoon, weather permitting, and the village kickers are requested to meet in the park at 4 p. m. on Monday for practice. On the evening of the 6th a thanksgiving service will be held in St. James's Church.

AGRICULTURAL MEETING.—A meeting of some of the directors of the Fenelon Branch Agricultural Society was held in the McArthur House on Friday last; but, owing to a change of date after the meeting had been announced, there were not enough present to form a quorum, and nothing of importance could be done. Some errors in the prize list were, however, rectified, and arrangements for paying the prizes were made. We are glad to learn that, notwithstanding the poorness of the show this year, it was financially a success.

A WARNING.—Last Wednesday an eight-day clock that had been hung over a stovepipe hole in the dining-room in Brookes's hotel was taken down because, from some reason, it refused to go; and, when it was examined, a good sized hole was found to have been burned in its back. The kitchen stovepipe entered the chimney on the other side, and some sparks from it had no doubt fallen down and set fire to the clock. Had it not been there, the sparks might have come into contact with something else and another mysterious fire might have occurred. This incident will, it is to be hoped, be a warning to everybody to fit caps into the unused holes in all chimneys that have openings into more than one room.

ESTRAY CATTLE.—This is the time of year at which the owners of lost cattle are anxious to find them, and those upon whose premises they have strayed are equally anxious to get rid of them. Very few farmers need now be told that the law requires of them to advertise all strange animals they find among their own; and that the costs of the advertisement and a reasonable sum for the animals' keep will have to be paid by the owner before he can take them away. We are uncertain whether any charge can or cannot be made for pasturage before the stray animal is advertised.

OUR HUNTERS.—Messrs. Whissie, Edwards, Ellis, Bailey, Fitzgerald and McCallum returned from the north on Tuesday morning, bringing with them five deer, two of which were fawns. The members of the party who returned a week or so earlier brought four, making a grand total of nine killed by the party, the youngest of whom, Mac McCallum, was the most successful, three of the deer having fallen before his rifle. On Wednesday Messrs. John Thompson and Alfred Stevens, accompanied by Charley and Tommy Edwards went to Grand Island to look after some deer said to be thereon, and saw two, but could not get a shot at either of them.

CUT BY A STONE.—While the children of the south ward school were playing during recess on Wednesday forenoon, Joseph Nevison, about 8 years old, second son of Mr. J. J. Nevison, was struck on the top of his head by a stone, which cut a rather deep gash about two inches long. Miss Sullivan, the teacher, immediately took him into the school house, washed the wound with cold water and then covered it with sticking plaster, after which the little fellow was taken home. His head ached badly for a considerable time after the accident; but fortunately he was not dangerously hurt. Some of the children say that the stone was thrown by one boy at another; others, that it was thrown straight up into the air, and struck Joey in its descent.

Germany and Russia.

Berlin news from a well-informed quarter gives indications that William II. entertains a feeling of great irritation against Russia, which frequently insists upon the presence of 450,000 men out of a nominal 850,000 of the Russian peace standard in a peculiarly mobilised condition in the Polish frontiers of Germany and Austria, and is thus a standing menace to European tranquillity. But for this attitude of Russia it is believed that France would disarm and Germany and Austria follow suit. Meanwhile extra vague reports come from Russia about the state of the interior country, that arrests have been frequent during the last two months, that the prisons of all the large towns are crammed with suspects, and every town harbors two or three secret societies. Things in the remoter districts are even worse, where the population refuses altogether to accept the new law now being introduced, which abolishes the people's right to self government and establishes peasant tutors with extensive administrative and judicial powers. The attempted enforcement of this law has caused serious riots in many places. The disaffection is spreading everywhere, and it is feared that it will have a bad effect on Russia's foreign policy.

A Farmer's New Industry.

The Globe of the 27th says:—Mr. Isaac Haun of Beamsville brought to market a load of syrup and vinegar made from a crop of sorghum sugar cane grown by him. He said to-day that he had found his venture a profitable investment. He planted one and three-quarters-acre, and when the cane was crushed it yielded him in syrup alone double the amount made from any other two-acre crop. He obtained seven barrels of syrup, six barrels of vinegar from the washings, without counting the value of the seed—as good as a crop of oats or corn—and the strips and suckers, worth to him as much as a ton of hay for feed. The farmers in the vicinity of Beamsville and Grimsby propose to go in for growing the sorghum sugar cane.

There was a light fall of snow throughout England on Sunday.

Oklahoma settlers are threatened with severe suffering from cold and starvation. Snow fell to a depth of three inches in Greenfield, about two miles from Saratoga, N. Y., Friday night.

The Minister of Finance is following up his enquiries in regard to cold storage accommodation on board the Atlantic lines for the shipment of eggs and poultry to Great Britain. There is no lack of shipments of eggs, but exporters are somewhat diffident about embarking in the poultry business until they are assured of the requisite refrigerator accommodation.
