A Well-Fitting Suit of Clothes

imbues a man with confidence, and prepossesses others in his favor—which is important. When rich, a man may indulge his eccentricities, and appear in the shabbiest attire without losing "caste," but not so the young man who is just making his way in the world: it's ruinous to his chances to wear ill-fitting clothes.

Our New Fall Goods Have Just Arrived,

Execution of Birchall.

The sentence of death against Birchall was carried out a few minutes past 8 o'clock last Friday morning, as no doubt all our readers are by this time aware. He met death as bravely as he always said he would; for, though his face looked like marble, he marched unassisted to the gallows, and exchanged a few words in an unflinching tone with the hangman. He was jerked upwards by the fall of a 350 lb. weight, and it is believed he suffered no pain, though his neck was not broken and more than six minutes elapsed before he was quite dead. After the usual inquest, his body was buried in the jail yard; but as it was embalmed and enclosed in a metal coffin, it is evident that his wife has hopes that her request that she be permitted to take it with her to England will be acceded to. The executioner is an Englishman named Thomas Rasley, who for some time past has been Steward of the Sunnyside Yacht Club, of Toronto, a position which he has been requested to resign, although some of the members (he says) do not object to him on account of his being "the finisher of the law." Birchall is the fourth man hanged by Rasley, who has applied for the position of state executioner, and it is said that Mr. Mowat has promised to use his influence to get him the appointment, as it is more seemly that there should be such an official than that the present system should continue. About three minutes after the drop fell the news was received in the old country, and all the leading papers commend the firmness of the Canadian Executive in carrying out the death sentence, notwithstanding the efforts that were made to obtain a commutation. A few days before his execution Birchall wrote a declaration, which appeared in print, to the effect that he had made no confession, either total or partial, of his guilt, and that if any statement that he had done so were made after his death it would be false. The Rev. Mr. Wade, who has been constant in his ministrations to the doomed man, was so incensed by the declaration that, although he read the prayers for the dying, he refused to officiate at the funeral, from which it is inferred that Birchall had made admissions that were tantamount to a confession; indeed, it has been stated that the reverend gentleman said Birchall died with a lie in his mouth. But, whether he confessed or not, there cannot be the slightest doubt as to his guilt; for a longer and stronger chain of circumstantial evidence than that upon which he was convicted has never yet been given in any court.

Another Big Fire.

Fenelon Falls was visited by a very disastrous fire on the evening of Friday, 14th inst, which totally destroyed Mr. John A. Ellis's saw mill. The fire broke out about 7.15 p. m. and ten minutes later the whole structure was a mass of flames. After the mill closed for the day, night watchman A. Torrance took charge, and went through the usual routine of extinguishing the fires, placing a dozen pails of water in front of the boiler, and cleaning the engine. When he quitted the engine room, he left a lamp burning on the engine frame. He then made a complete tour of the mill both inside and outside, and, finding everything all right, crossed over the railway track to the lime kiln, where he had not been over five minutes before flames were discovered issuing from the direction of the mill. He quickly re-crossed and endeavored to enter the engine room to blow the fire alarm, but was prevented from so doing by the intensity of the heat. However, the glaring light made by the fire was not long in attracting a large crowd, which, however, was powerless to do anything towards saving the mill. A pail gang organized and worked with a will on the adjacent buildings, while others got the horses and other movables out of harm's reach. The fire engine did good service in extinguishing the fire at the platform opposite the mill; and had it not been for it, combined with the calmness of the evening, there is little doubt that the fire would have spread to the lumber yard and made a clean sweep of over two million feet of lumber, a quantity of lath and shingles, and the large ice house erected in the yard last winter. The cause of the fire is attributed to the exploding of the lamp left on the engine frame, beneath which a quantity of waste oil had been accumulating since the mill was erected, and this igniting, spread with lightning speed to the other parts of the engine room, all the materials of which were as dry as tinderwood. This is the only reasonable cause that can be assigned as to the origin of the fire. The loss is placed at $15,000; insured for $9,000. In the destruction of this property the Falls has lost one of its main stays, as Mr. Ellis gave employment to a large number of men all the year round, both at the mill and in the woods. It will be greatly missed by the farming community until such time as it is rebuilt, as it is Mr. Ellis's intention to do.

Local Items.

FREE TO ALL.—The Independent Order of Foresters will give a free lecture and entertainment in Ingram's hall next Tuesday evening, to which all are invited. For particulars see bills.

LOOK OUT FOR IT.—Look out for H. Austin's new advertisement next week. He has a big stock of boots and shoes that he is selling very cheap, and the same may be said of a lot of fresh teas that have just arrived.

NORTH VICTORIA.—The Conservatives of North Victoria will hold a convention in this village next Tuesday to nominate a candidate to oppose Mr. Barron at the next election for the Commons. The man who gets the nomination will find that "there ain't much sugar in it."

PERSONAL.—Mr. & Mrs. Andrew McFarland returned from their wedding tour last Friday. Mrs. George G. Keith, of Toronto, was at the Falls from Friday last until Monday. Mrs. B. H. Wills, of Toronto, returned home last Monday, after a visit of about a month to her relatives at the falls.

A SAW-MILL COMING.—We are authorized by Mr. Scott to state that the Naparoc Paper Co. have at Deseronto a saw-mill of modern construction, which they do not require there, and which they intend to remove to Fenelon Falls, and that they will have it in running order for the spring work.

BANK OF MONTREAL SAVINGS DEPARTMENT.—As announced in another column, the Bank of Montreal has opened a savings department in connection with its Lindsay branch. This step has been taken in order to meet a growing demand, and to provide additional banking facilities for the public. Interest will be allowed on sums of $4 and upwards.

BURY'S GREEN.—A tea in connection with the union bible class will be given in the Presbyterian church at Bury's Green on Friday next, the 28th inst. Tea from 5 to 7 o'clock, after which Rev. Mr. Parker, of Fenelon Falls, will deliver a lecture on the North-West, and Rev. Mr. Lockhead will address the audience. Music by the choir. Admission, adults 25 cents; children 15 cents. All are invited.

ON SCHEDULE TIME AGAIN.—Ever since last spring there has been a standing order to G. T. R. engine drivers running between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls not to exceed 12 miles an hour between the two points named. The order was issued on account of the then condition of the track, but was cancelled a few days ago, and trains are now allowed to resume schedule time, as the track has been put in first class repair, the greater part now being laid with steel rails.

A TERRIBLE MISTAKE is often made by letting a Cold or Cough run too long. Red Spruce & Wild Cherry Cough Balsam stops it at once. Try it—at Ellis's Drug Store.

FOUND A NICKEL MINE.—A lucky find; but the Farmers and owners of Stock who feed Dr. Kendall's Condition Powders are on the right road to wealth. For sale only at Ellis's Drug Store.

PHOTOGRAPHS VERY CHEAP.—During the month of November we will make Card size Photographs for $1.00 per dozen up; Cabinet size $2.50 per dozen up, and all other sizes at reduced rates, at FOWLER & Co's, Lindsay.—36-37.

A Five Thousand Dollar Tree.

On the side of the Big Black Mountain, three hundred yards from Wias County line, in Harlan County, Kentucky, and about ten miles from Big Stone Gap, there stood, until a short time ago, a tree that is thought to be the most valuable tree in the South Appalachian Mountains, and is perhaps without a peer on this continent. It is a curled-grain black walnut, and the owner had it grubbed up by the roots, so as not to lose even a chip. It is between five and six feet in diameter at the base, and five cuts, eleven feet each, have been sawed, the diameter of the fifth cut being four feet. Some additional smaller cuts were gotten out of the top. The grain runs in graceful wavy curls, and is one of the most valuable woods known; being used in veneering. Capt. Pleasants, of New York, who for years has dealt exclusively in this class of timber, purchased it for $40 from a mountaineer, and thinks it is the finest tree he ever saw. He paid George H. Shatterfield $300 to move the trunk 6 miles, to the end of the S. A. & O. R. R., on Looney Creek, whence it was shipped direct to the factory in New York. Capt. Pleasants thinks that the tree will realize him at least $5,000.—Canada Lumberman.

During the past three months 300,000 Polish peasants and Jews are said to have left Russia for Brazil.

An attempt will be made to raise the hull of the seamanship, Cynthia, sunk in the St. Lawrence just below Montreal.

Anthrax is reported to be raging in Wawayanda township, near Middletown, New York state. Half a dozen cattle have died on one farm.

Sir Charles Tupper has cabled to Minister Bowell that a consignment of Canadian eggs recently received in Liverpool met with great success.

William Thompson, a wealthy farmer of Kansas, suicided because the Farmer's Alliance candidate for governor was defeated. He had made heavy bets on the election.

It is said Prince Bismarck will refuse to let Emperor William revise proof of his book, The Life of Emperor William I, even if he has to get the work published in England.

Lee Ching, a Chinaman who had been smuggled across Suspension bridge on top of a freight car, has been arrested at the Bridge, along with a white man named Muldoon, said to belong to Toronto, who is charged with assisting the Chinaman in evading the law. They are in the hands of the United States district attorney.

A French attorney was writing out a brief. He was in splendid health, only 40 years old, and was writing rapidly; when all at once he stopped, and from that moment could not tell his own name. Memory went out from him like a flash of lightning.

Adam Kern, a successful and prominent farmer of Boone county, Indiana, began ten years ago to keep a dairy. He was an eccentric man and on the first page he wrote: "At the end of ten years from this entry, if I am alive and out of debt, I intend to take my life." The time expired Friday, and Kern killed himself. He was 70 years old.

A rare incident in the history of the London stock exchange occurred during the past week. It was the action of the committee in expelling from the institution Percival Preston, a broker, for breach of faith with a client. It seems that the client had ordered Preston to sell a large parcel of Mexican securities, but that the broker, disregarding the interests of his client, first sold for himself, thus spoiling his client's market.
