

Mad a Big Haal.

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS CAPTURE A LARGE CARGO OF SMUGGLED LIQUORS.

QUEBEC, Nov. 23.—Through the vigilance of the customs authorities there is every prospect of smuggling in the Lower St. Lawrence being stamped out. The largest seizure of the season was made last night in the capture of the schooner Waterfly with $25,000 worth of whisky and gin on board, including nearly 200 barrels of high wines and 80 cases of gin. The local customs officers boarded the tug Dauntless to go down the river in search of smugglers, and off Goose Island sighted the Waterfly, which immediately ran into eight feet of water on a shoal, where the tug could not follow. The officers lowered the tug's boats and went in pursuit. When they had boarded the prize and made a seizure they found that the captain had already made good his escape ashore, and the crew refused to obey the orders of their captors and weigh anchor. Men had to be put aboard her from the tug, which then towed her to port. Other cargoes are said to be on the way up from St. Pierre and Miquelon, and the customs authorities are keeping a sharp lookout for them.

Another Fatality.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—Another fatality has to be added to the notoriously impudent custom of lighting stove fires by means of coal oil. At an early hour this morning Mr. Edward Clement, of Sorel, began to prepare the kitchen fire as usual, and while pouring the deadly oil over some dry wood he applied the match, and at the same instant the jar containing the oil fell from the unfortunate man's hand, followed by a flame of fire leaping up and laying hold of Clement's clothing. His cries brought Madame Clement downstairs holding a infant in her arms, and in an instant mother and little one were likewise enveloped in fire and smoke. Some men who were passing, hearing the frantic appeals of the terror-stricken wife and mother, burst open the door and saved at least the entire family from being wiled out. The baby, a few months old, was dead in a short time, and the mother's burns are almost sure to prove fatal. Mr. Clement is suffering greatly, but will recover. The accident has caused a great deal of excitement in the sister city.

More Nickle Experiments.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22.—An experiment was made here yesterday to a certain what effect cold will have on an armor plate. A Holtz six-inch projectile was fired at a nickle armor plate which had been frozen to a point of four degrees below zero. The nickle plate was reduced in temperature by a package of ice and salt at its back. The shot, the seventh projectile fired at the plate, was the same in character as those used in the tests several months ago. The projectile penetrated the plate about the same distance that the previous shots did, but did not go through, and, as far as could be observed, had no greater effect upon the plate than when it was at normal temperature. Winter weather, it is held, therefore, will not render our vessels easier to penetrate.

A solicitor named Mayhew, of London, Eng., has got away with $655,000, leaving only $900 of assets.

At San Francisco on Friday nearly a million dollars' worth of Australian gold sovereigns were deposited and melted down at the mint.

At West Duluth, Minn., a man named Morland put a can of dynamite in the stove to thaw out. Morland was killed, his wife and four children were seriously injured and the house was burned.

The three flat glass factory buildings of the Illinois glass works at Alton, Ill., were destroyed by fire Saturday morning. The loss is $100,000, and 500 hands are thrown out of employment.

On Saturday morning as Mrs. William Hill of Beverly was driving into the town of G. A., and when near the Main-street crossing of the G. T. R., the horse was so startled by the whistling of a passing train that it fell dead on the road.

Alex Young, the big Irishman who was sent down to Barrie some time ago to stand his trial for assaulting Mike Lamb with a knife is a good 'un. The jailer at Barrie relates that the morning Alex left, he wrapped his blanket around him, put his clothes over it, and thus got away with it. The jail officials would like to meet their late charge.

Indian agent Leahy has returned to Ashtabud, Wis., from the Indian reserves, and says the Indians have plenty of rice and wild game, but most of the women and children are going about bareheaded and bare-footed in two feet of snow. The women have to do the work, while the men drink and play poker. Polygamy is practised by some of the Indians.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN INSURANCE COMPANY,

VS. THE LONDON MUTUAL, FOR FARMERS.

The Royal Canadian offers the following advantages over the London Mutual:

1. If a building worth $1200 is insured for say $1000, the Royal Canadian is obliged to pay $1000, if a loss occurs. In such a case the London Mutual is obliged to pay only two thirds of the cash value, or $800.

2. If a horse worth $30 is killed in the fields by lightning, the Royal Canadian is obliged to pay $90. The London Mutual pays only $60.

3. For a cow worth $30 killed by lightning the Royal Canadian pays $30. The London Mutual pays only $20. For other animals the Royal Canadian pays the full value. The London Mutual pays not more than $5, no matter how valuable the animal may be.

4. In the Royal Canadian animals are insured against lightning while at pasture anywhere. In the London Mutual they are insured while pasturing on the premises of the insured only.

5. When articles are insured specifically, such as musical instruments, the Royal Canadian is obliged to pay the full amount insured up to the cash value of the article. The London Mutual pays only two-thirds of the cash value, no matter what the insurance may be.

6. When "ordinary contents" of out buildings are insured by the Royal Canadian all implements are included. In the London Mutual only one reaper and one mower are included, no matter how good others may be.

7. When the outbuildings are not joined to each other the Royal Canadian insures under one sum the "ordinary contents" of all building not cut off by a distance greater than 40 ft., the same as if the contents were all under one roof. The London Mutual requires a separate sum on the contents of each building, if the distance is more than 12 ft. This is a very important difference in many cases.

8. In the Royal Canadian it is a part of the contract that standard STEAM THRESHERS may be used without a special permit and without any restriction as to the distance from stacks or buildings, caretakers, pails of water, kind of fuel or direction of the wind. Many of the policy holders in the London Mutual were obliged to run their own risk while threshing last season, because it was found to be impossible to comply with the conditions of their permit. When a farmer pays for insurance he should secure a policy which will hold him safe when it is most required.

9. The Royal Canadian is obliged to pay its losses within sixty days and usually takes much less. The London Mutual need not pay for ninety days, and since it has become so hard up as to be obliged to borrow money largely, it usually takes about the full time allowed.

10. The Royal Canadian policy is subject to the statutory conditions only. It has none of the numerous variations against the policy-holder printed in red ink on the back of the London Mutual policy.

11. As to security, the inspector of insurance reports that the Royal Canadian has $202,728, the amount he estimates to be necessary to enable the company to carry out all its engagements with its policy holders. Besides this he reports that it has to the good the $300,000 capital paid in cash by the shareholders, and a net surplus $117,667 making in all a total cash surplus of $517,697 to protect its policy-holders against unexpected contingencies. In addition to these cash items it has a subscribed capital of $100,000 not called up. Regarding the security of the London Mutual the inspector reports that the amount of unearned premium it should have on hand is $290,309. To make up this amount in cash a second call would have to be made on the premium notes for a large amount, leaving a surplus of only $74,218, even if there were no bad debts, and this surplus is made up wholly of the unpaid balance of premium notes already heavily assessed. The company reports the losses adjusted but unpaid at the close of the year at $6,387, but the Inspector of Insurance finds that the liability for unpaid losses at the end of the year was $29,286. The cash on hand to pay these losses only amounted to $13,911.

In view of the foregoing facts farmers will have good difficulty in deciding as to the company in which they should be insured. For insurance apply to

17-3m. Agent, Lindsay
