Rioting in Russia.

PEASANTRY SHOT DOWN BY SOLDIERS. MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 29.—Details of the rioting at Vitekesk, capital of the Government of that name, occasioned by the people's protest against the exportation of rye, show that the disturbance was serious. The governor reports that there was evidence that a general revolt of peasantry had been planned. The peasants attacked the railroad officials, demanding no more rye should leave Vitekesk, and severely beat the Jewish grain dealers, who are blamed for the whole trouble. The peasantry also plundered the residences of the grain dealers, and finally attacked the railroad station. The military was then summoned. The rioters resisted stubbornly and their supporters outside the railroad station made a fierce attack upon the soldiery, severely injuring many of them. Finally the officer in command, after repeatedly threatening the crowd, gave the order to fire upon the rioters. The soldiers then fired a volley, killing two peasants and wounding a number of others. The rioters soon afterward dispersed. Similar disturbances are reported from Dunsberg, Vint and other places, but no details have been made public.

Terrible Cloudburst.

AN OHIO RAINSTORM'S AWFUL HAVOC.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—A terrible cloudburst occurred here yesterday. The wife of Thomas Taylor was drowned in her home in sight of her husband, who was outside and could not get through the window to save her. His two children were saved. James Smith was found dead standing in the mud up to his neck, horribly mangled, about half a mile from a barn in which he was last seen alive. The Lebanon Springs Railroad between here and Petersburg, a distance of about five miles, is washed away into the meadow for many rods half a dozen places. A large railway bridge is also gone, besides a score or more highway bridges. The residences and outbuildings of F. M. Coe, near here, narrowly escaped total destruction. The mountain stream running into the Little Hoosick River, became a cataract, and, changing its course, ploughed deep gorges on both sides of the dwellings. Stones weighing a ton are frequently seen washed rods from their former resting places. Meadows are ruined and crops in the line of the flood are destroyed. Part of the village of Petersburg lying near the Little Hoosick is completely wrecked. A score of residences and workshops are washed from their foundations and much personal property has been destroyed. The loss to property in that village will reach not less than $25,000. No lives were lost in Petersburg.

Explosion in a Colliery.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—An explosion of fire damp took place this morning in the malage colliery, near Bedminster. A large number of miners were at work at the time of the disaster. An exploring party was sent down and signalled that it had found four dead miners. The bodies of these unfortunate men were hauled to the surface. A moment or two later four other miners, all seriously injured, were brought out of the mine, and it was announced that many others were known to be either dead or seriously injured. Additional exploring parties were sent down the shaft. The greatest excitement prevails.

LATER.—It has been ascertained that the explosion occurred at 3 o'clock this morning when only a small force of men was in the mine. The concussion shattered all the windows in the houses near the shaft and wrenched all the shaft workings. The bodies of seven dead miners have been recovered and two others are missing. About a dozen men are seriously injured.
A later despatch from the scene says 10 men were killed.

The coal ring in Hamilton is said to be "busted," and the dusky diamonds are selling at $5 a ton.

A train frightened a yoke of oxen near Canton, Dakota, and they ran away. They were attached to a binder and were led by a woman, the man who operated the machine being perched on the seat. The woman was cut to pieces by the binder, her legs being cut off, also her arms and head. The man escaped.
