Black Tongue.

A TERRIBLY FATAL DISEASE WHICH HAS BROKEN OUT IN INDIANA.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—An epidemic of a new and dreadfully fatal disease has made its appearance near Kinkin, Ind., a few days ago. On of the children in the family of John Wiman was attacked with a peculiar disease that baffles all medical skill, and in 48 hours the child died. One after another the children, out of a family of four, contracted the disease and died. On Wednesday the mother, Mrs. Wiman, died. The father is left a raving maniac. The symptoms of the disease are almost too dreadful to describe. For the first few hours the patient is affected with mild fever, the tongue then becomes inflamed, and assumes huge proportions. The organ then turns very black in color, decomposition sets in, and in paroxysms of the most intense sufferings death ensues. Physicians say the disease is known to them as it is described in medical books, and that its home is in Asia, where among the natives it is as fatal as cholera. They call it Asiatic black tongue, and confess their utter inability to combat its deadly work. Later news from the affected districts says seven new cases are reported, beginning with the same symptoms.

A Hunter's Awful Fate.

STARVED TO DEATH IN A BEAR TRAP.

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., Nov. 9.—More than a month since an Englishman named David Allen, who resided in the Magnetawan District, and spent considerable of his time hunting, started out to examine his traps, but failed to return. For ten days an uninterrupted search was kept up in the woods, it being supposed that he had wandered away and become lost. The search was unproductive of results, however. The mystery surrounding his fate was accidentally unveiled on Friday by two hunters, who chanced to look in a cove of bushes. Lying upon the ground, face downward, was the dead body of the hunter, and the condition of the body and the ground showed that he had met a horrible death from starvation. Both of his hands were securely fastened in a bear trap. He had evidently been in the act of setting the trap, when by some means the trap closed upon his wrists with a vice-like grip. Unable to release himself and with no hope of making his voice heard in that vast wilderness, he suffered the most excruciating mental tortures until starvation and exposure combined ended his existence. His wrists were frightfully lacerated where an attempt had been made to wrench his hands free.

A Golden Cigar Box.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—To-day is the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. The occasion is being celebrated quietly at Sandringham. A large number of congratulatory letters and telegrams have been received. The Prince of Wales, through his patronage of various London theatres, has done much to make successful numerous plays produced at these establishments, and the managers and actors were desirous of showing in some way their appreciation. Some time ago a movement was started among the dramatic profession looking to the formation of a fund to purchase a present to be given to the Prince to-day. The subscriptions to the fund poured in rapidly, and those having the affair in hand decided upon a gold cigar box as a suitable token of their regard. To-day Sir Augustus Harris, John Hare, Mr. Bancroft, Beerhohn, Tree and D'Oyly Carte, representing the theatrical profession, proceeded from London to Sandringham. The present is a superb specimen of the goldsmith's art. It weighs a hundred ounces and the value of the metal alone is very great. The top of the box is surmounted by three ostrich feathers forming the coat of arms of the Prince of Wales, set with diamonds.

Floods in Spain are doing a great deal of damage.
It is estimated that grain is being shipped out of Manitoba and the Northwest, per C. P. R., at the rate of 100,000 bushels a day.
Editor Fortune, who sued a New York hotelkeeper for refusing to give him accommodation on account of his color, has been awarded $325 damages.
