The Sick Prince.

ANXIETY REGARDING THE ILLNESS OF
THE DUKE OF CLARENCE.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Reports from Sandringham received up to noon to-day by the Exchange Telegraph Co. state that the pneumonia from which the Duke of Clarence is suffering has developed into a more serious type than is announced by the physicians in their statements for the information of the public. The Queen, who is sojourning at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, is very anxious regarding the condition of her grandson, and has ordered that information be immediately telegraphed to her of the slightest change in the Duke's condition. It is highly probable that unless there is soon a change for the better her Majesty will go to Sandringham.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Inquiries have been made at Sandringham all to day to ascertain the actual condition of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, but all information beyond that contained in the bulletins is refused. Special precautions have now been taken to prevent reporters from approaching the hall.
The official statement issued by the physicians this morning says the inflammation of the lungs, from which the Duke is suffering, is pursuing its course.
They add that his strength is well maintained, but no improvement can be reported. This guarded statement of the physicians is taken to indicate that the condition of the Duke is less favorable than yesterday or last night.

Dramatic Scene in Court.

A PLAINTIFF SWOONS AT THE FEET OF JUDGE MACMAHON.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—At the Assizes yesterday Alfred Green sued for $1500 damages for injuries to his head received at the Incline Railway by a falling derriek on Jan. 27, 1891. Green said in the course of his examination that since the accident whenever he shuts his eyes he becomes dizzy and falls down.
The defence had an idea that Green was shamming, and Mr. Carscallen, with the judge's consent, decided to test the man in the presence of the jury.
Green had said that when he shut his eyes that usually in 30 seconds or less he would become so dizzy that he would fall to the ground. Mr. Carscallen drew a stop watch on him and proceeded to try the experiment. Amid a profound silence in the court room the judge told Green to step back three paces, then walk forward three paces, stop and then close his eyes. The judge meanwhile left the bench and stood at the top of the steps near the witness box looking down at the man. Every eye in the court was fastened on Green as he came deliberately forward, stopped and shut his eyes. In a moment he changed color, reeled back and, clutching the rail of the witness stand, swung round and fell in a heap on the steps at Judge MacMahon's feet. Instantly all was confusion. The scene was too real to doubt the genuine character of the man's affliction. The judge directed the windows to be opened. Dr. Leslie and Dr. Husband, who were in court, came forward and several constables carried the man from the court room.

Would be a Cowboy.

A TORONTO YOUTH LOADED UP WITH WILD READING AND A REVOLVER.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8.—Charles Todd, 16 years of age, was arrested last evening on telegraphic instructions received from the Toronto chief of police. Young Todd had been indulging in a long course of sensational reading and had come to the conclusion that he was intended to shine as a cowboy and Indian fighter. Under this belief he left his home and beat his way from Toronto to this point. When arrested he had in his pockets a new English "Bulldog" revolver and a stock of five-cent "Libraries." He refuses to go to school, and declares he will run away and seek adventure in the wild west on the first opportunity. His father is a ticket agent at Toronto.

W. M. Herschmer, assistant commissioner of the Northwest mounted police, died suddenly at Calgary on Friday night last.

The Androscoggin river in Maine is the highest it has been known for 30 years. Booms are broken and many logs are escaping.
