

before they long to do without them; but Mrs. Littleton, who was far worse injured, will be laid up for some time longer, though she is doing as well as can be expected, taking her great age into consideration. Mr. W. A. Gillis's little boy was all right again a day or two after he got hurt; and Mr. Pinkham, being a hardy, temperate man in the prime of life, and having a fine constitution, has suffered very little from his terrible accident and the subsequent surgical operation, and his badly mangled elbow is healing rapidly. He is still at Mrs. Patton's, with his wife in attendance upon him, but will be taken home in, probably, about a fortnight.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On the morning of the 12th inst. Mr. R. B. Sylvester, of this village, met with a very serious accident, which we did not hear of until some days later. While he was knocking an old box to pieces with an axe, a splinter flew up and struck his right eye, cutting from the pupil through the retina to the white. Notwithstanding the intense pain, he was in his photograph all day; but next morning, by the advice of Dr. Graham, he went to the Toronto General Hospital to consult Dr. Burnham, the celebrated specialist, and, as he has not yet returned, we are unable to say whether he will lose the sight of the eye or not.

Manufacturers Would be Benefited.

(From the Toronto News, Conservative.) Notwithstanding all the information contained in the census, a city paper is still raising the foolish cry that our manufacturing interests would be destroyed by a policy of free trade with England.

No statement could be farther from the truth. Take the Province of Ontario as an example. Here there is a total of thirty-four millions invested in plant and tools in classified establishments, and of this twenty-three million dollars is in industries that would actually be benefited by the abolition of duties on British imports. Of this twenty-three millions, two and one quarter millions is in foundries and machine shops, five and one half in gas works, sash and door factories, agricultural implement works, cheese factories, brick and tile works, bakeries, tailoring establishments, oil refineries and tanneries, and ten millions in saw and grist mills. What is more important than all, however, is that in some of the chief of the unprotected industries—unprotected so far as Britain is concerned, at least—the increase in the number of employees was one hundred and fifty per cent. in ten years as against an increase of only thirty three per cent. in those most highly protected against British competition.

With these facts before the people pray let us hear no more of the ruin that would be wrought to the manufacturing interest by granting the relief that is so badly needed by other and vastly more important interests. It may be true that some few pampered hot-house industries would suffer by competition on equal terms with British producers, but for one home industry that would be injured a dozen would be benefited directly, besides sharing in the bounding prosperity that would come to the country as a whole as a result of the adoption of a policy of free trade between Canada and the Mother Land.

Spooner, a Chicago bicyclist, established a new world's record by riding 375 miles in 24 hours.

To be more or less shaken 500 times every year by earthquakes seems to be the lot of every dweller of Japan. When the earthquakes are more active than usual one or two thousand additional shakings may be added to the usual minimum of 500.

The passage through the Suez canal grows shorter every year. According to the annual report the average duration is 23h. 31m.—some 31 minutes less than twelve months ago. This improvement is due to the electric light enabling their voyage at night.
