The British Parliament.

The formal organization of the House of Commons was completed last week, and on Monday the members were summoned to the House of Lords, where the speech from the throne was read, after which both Houses took a recess until 4 p. m. The business of the session having been completed before the dissolution and this being an unusual time of year for Parliament to sit, it will probably be prorogued at an early date. At a meeting of Unionists held in Midlothian on Saturday it was decided not to oppose Mr. Gladstone when he comes before the people for re-election after accepting office; but an attempt will be made to unseat Mr. Wm. Redmond, Parnellite, who was elected by a majority of 446 in East Clare, defeating Mr. Cox, anti-Parnellite, who has represented the division since 1885.

Sir Richard in Danger.

About noon on Saturday last Sir Richard Cartwright left Kingston in a light skiff with the intention of rowing to his summer residence about four miles down the river; but as he rounded Point Frederick he encountered a sudden squall which, a minute or two later, turned his boat upside down. Fortunately Sir Richard can swim, and, having any amount of pluck and presence of mind, he promptly climbed onto and straddled the overturned skiff, and (no doubt) wondered what was the best thing to do next. As it happened, however, there was no necessity for him to do anything but wait patiently, as the accident had been witnessed from "A" Battery barracks, and Major Drury and Capt. Gaudet put off and rescued him after he had occupied his uneasy and precarious seat fully half an hour. The Globe, in commenting on the accident, says, and all but a few boodlers will agree with it: "There can be no doubt that Sir Richard was in a position of imminent danger, and that his escape is due to his own courage and that of the gallant officers of "A" Battery. Canada cannot afford to lose men like this eminent Liberal. He is accustomed to giving and taking hard blows, and probably no other public man in Canada has received such unmeasured abuse. Yet it is no flattery to say that there is no more able or more honest man in Canadian politics. He has been an incorruptible Minister and a sturdy enemy of corruption; staunch in his convictions, loyal to his friends, thoroughly unselfish in all his aims. We trust he may be spared for many a long year to serve the public interest with a zeal, a fidelity and a courage for which he has received far too little recognition."

Probably Infanticide.

Last Saturday forenoon Mack McCallum and Robert Menzies, Jr., who were engaged cribbing logs in Mowry's bay, near the mouth of Fenelon river, found the naked body of a new born female child floating in the water. It was taken to the lock-up and buried towards night in the cemetery. Mr. Naylor, the coroner, having decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Dr. Graham, who saw the body, found it very much decomposed, and expressed the opinion that it had been in the water nearly or quite a fortnight. As a post mortem examination was not held, he was unable to say whether it had breathed or not, but, as it was a large and fully developed infant, he thought it probable that it had been born alive. If so, it had either been drowned or allowed to die of neglect before it was thrown into the water, as the umbilical cord had not been tied. As far as we can learn there is no clue to its mother or to where it came from, and it had been in the water so long that it may have drifted many miles before it reached the bay in which it was found. Dr. Graham has no doubt that it came over the slide, and one of our villagers says that on Friday evening he saw in Cameron lake an object that he then thought and now feels sure, was a baby's body, but did not go very close to it as his niece was with him.

 Mrs. C. F. Elarding, of Chicago, who has been visiting her relatives and friends in the Falls and its vicinity since the 14th ult., left on Monday last for Toronto, where she intended to spend a few days before going home.
 Mr. John Thomson got home last Saturday from Hastings, where he has been engaged since the 5th of July building a saw and shingle mill for Mr. Fowlds, and left again on Tuesday, as it will take another five weeks, at least, to finish the contract.

Powles's Corners.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

The spring wheat in this locality is not as good as it was expected to be, and the yield per acre will not be more than half what it was last year, the weevil and rust having "played hob," as the old saying is. Pease and oats will be good, but barley will be a little lighter than last year.
 Mr. R. Taggart and Mr. Wm. Deyman, Jr., who are in the employ of Mr. Joseph Heard, of Fenelon Falls, were out here a short time ago putting up the eave-troughs on the new church. Since then an application for painting the edifice has been received. The congregation are anxious for an early completion of the church. Credit is due to everyone who has lent a helping hand, and especially to the building committee.

POSTPONED.—Owing to the rain on Wednesday evening, the garden party at Mr. W. L. Robson's has been postponed for a week.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT KINMOUNT.—About 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning, during a violent storm, Dutton's (late Deau's) mill at Kinmount was struck by lightning, set on fire and totally consumed, together with a dwelling house and a large quantity of lumber and shingles. The peal of thunder that followed the lightning was so terrific that half the people in the village were instantly awakened and leaped in terror from their beds.

BINDER TWINE.—At the request of his customers, Mr. Heard has succeeded in buying half a ton of "Common Sense" binder twine from a dealer. First come, first served.

THE LITTLE DUMP.—A large quantity of stone from the township of Longford is being taken north by train to build a culvert at what is known as the "little dump" about three miles the other side of Kinmount, after which the dump, a small ravine, will be filled in and the track laid across it.

A MISTAKE.—The Salvationists had beautiful weather for their excursion to Indian village on Tuesday last, and the trip was exceedingly pleasant, but the attendance was much smaller than they probably expected. It was a mistake to out in with an excursion on the 9th after the True Blues had advertised one for the 12th.

JOHNSTON & SISSON.

The Great Shoe Men of Lindsay.

THANKS.—Mr. Samuel Pinkham, who went home on Saturday last, asked us to thank, in his name, the parties who took him to the doctor's on the 13th of July, as well as all who have shown him kindness or soothed him with their sympathy since the accident. We are glad to be able to report that his injured arm is doing remarkably well and does not pain him in the least.

KICKED.—Mr. W. L. Robson's pretty little pony mare, who is raising a baby this summer, was badly kicked on the haunch last Sunday by one of Mr. E. B. Whytall's horses in a field on the Smith farm. Dr. R. M. Mason put eleven stitches in the edges of the wound, and has made such a neat job of it that he and Mr. Robson both hope it will heal up so as not to leave much of a scar.

SHORT NOTICE.—Three or four days ago the great majority of our merchants signed an agreement to close their stores on Friday, of this week, and notices to that effect were promptly posted in their windows or doorways; but it is to be regretted that the arrangement was not made earlier and more thoroughly announced, as the notice is so short that some few, at least, of their country customers will come to the village to make purchases and go away disappointed.

NEW STORE-HOUSE.—Mr. F. Sandford is building—or, rather, Mr. George Littleton is building for him—a store-house on the south side of the track and opposite the platform east of the station. The frame, 30 x 50 feet, is already up and it is expected that the siding and roof will be on by the end of next week. The store-house will consist of one story, divided into ten bins, and in the centre there will be a tower surmounted by a cupola and containing an elevator, which will be operated by horse-power. The lot on which the building is situated was bought a short time ago by Mr. Sandford from the G. T. R. Co.

SCHOOL BOARD & COUNCIL.—The trustees met last Friday evening for the purpose of preparing an estimate of the amount required for school purposes for 1892, which was found to be $125, about $100 less than for the previous year. The council met on Monday evening to receive the estimate; but as Dr. Graham, one of the members, had a patient whom he could not leave, and Mr. T. Austin, another member, was also absent, the reeve thought the business was too momentous to be transacted by a bare quorum, and the meeting was therefore adjourned until Thursday evening. It appears to be rather hard work in this village to get a full attendance of either councillors or school trustees.

SPARROWS.—A lady writes to the Orillia Packet in defence of the English sparrows, two pairs of which have built their nests under her verandah, and are busy from morning 'till night carrying grubs and other insects to their voracious off-spring. We have always "stuck up" for the sparrows, partly from old country associations, but chiefly because we believe that they do a great deal more good than harm. The stories about them driving "native birds away are all fudge as far as our observation enables us to judge. We have watched them closely for years, and we never saw them molesting or fighting with "natives," except when the newly arrived martins try to forcibly eject them from bird-houses of which they have taken possession, and in those fights the martins are almost always victorious.

Harvest hands are badly needed in the North-West.

A farmer named Fagan, of Colborne Township, had seven head of cattle killed by lightning.
