Mr. J. B. Traves Dead.

THE EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR OF THE PORT HOPE TIMES PASSES AWAY—HIS USEFUL CAREER.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 14.—The journalists and the masonic fraternity of Canada will be shocked to learn of the death of one of their oldest and most highly esteemed associates, Mr. John Brock Traves, editor of the Port Hope Times. His death occurred to-day after a short and violent attack of congestion of the lungs. The deceased was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, where he was born on July 31st, 1842. Ten years later he came to Canada with his parents, who settled in Montreal, and at the age of eleven years he entered the office of the Montreal Pilot as an apprentice under the seven years system. The result was that he mastered every branch of the trade. In 1862 he went to Port Hope to accept the formanship in the office of the British Canadian, established in that year. Five years later he purchased the paper and changed its name to that which it now holds. He has been connected with the Canadian Press Association many years. He was elected in 1877, and on through the offices of a member of the Executive committee, vice-president, second and first, to that of president in 1880. He has since been on the Executive Committee, and was for several years assistant secretary. An active worker, he shared in the agitation which resulted in the removal of the postage on newspapers, and was a member of the deputation to whom is due the amendment of the Ontario Libel Law by the Legislature a few years ago. A Conservative in politics, he did his party excellent service. Mr. Traves was one of the most popular citizens in Port Hope, and a prominent member of many societies, his character endearing him to all his brethren. He was a past district deputy grand master of the Masonic fraternity, and was first noble grand of the Durham Lodge I. O. O. F. He was also first master workman of Safety Lodge A. O. U. W., and a prominent member of the Royal Arcanum. The deceased leaves a wife and two children, Mrs. J. Endore Pauchand of Montreal, and Mr. W. F. Traves of this town. The most heartfelt sympathy is expressed for the bereaved family. The deceased will be buried on Sunday next with Masonic honors.

A Fearful Death.

MR. THOMAS D. MOASE FALLS HEADLONG INTO A WELL AND IS DROWNED.

ORILLIA, Oct. 17.—A most distressing accident happened here this afternoon whereby Mr. Thomas D. Moase, one of Orillia's most popular citizens, lost his life. Mr. Moase was florist for the Northern and Northwestern railway. He resides at Couchiching Point, where he has large greenhouses. Shortly after dinner he told his wife he would fix up his pumps for frosty weather. He went to the well which is a few yards from the house, and taking off the covering he endeavored to pull the plug out of the pumps. The well is about 20 feet deep, about three feet in diameter and there were about 15 feet of water in it. The plug was 3 feet below the ground, and in trying to pull it out it snapped off short and Mr. Moase was precipitated head first into the well. There are two pumps running into the narrow shaft and consequently the unfortunate man was unable to turn, nor could he raise himself out of the water. His wife saw him fall and ran to the well, where she could see his feet a few inches below the water. He was struggling hard and as she could not reach him she ran to the nearest neighbor's, a quarter of a mile distant. It must have been 15 minutes before assistance came, and when the body was secured a few minutes later it was about 10 feet under the surface. There was a slight bruise on the forehead and the hands were lacerated in trying to raise himself out of the well. Deceased was 40 years of age and leaves a family of six small children, the youngest being but two months old. He was a prominent society man, being a member of the A. O. U. W., the Royal Arcanum and of the Masonic order.

He Has His Queen.

THE KING OF TRAMPS IS NOW WALKING FOR THE CASH.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 17.—Hasson Mohammed, the "King of tramps," arrived in Denver yesterday. He was very much begrimed with travel and glad of the prospect of a week's rest. The "King" started from Cincinnati on a wager to walk 10,000 miles in 450 days for $10,000 on the following conditions: He was to begin his journey with one copper cent and stop at first class hotels. He was not to beg, or borrow or steal, and was to meet and marry on the road a woman he had never met before.

He stated last evening that he had received applications from 15,000 women whom he did not consider fit to become the "Queen of Tramps," but on September 18 he married a young woman, a telegraph operator at Ogden. He lost thirty days' time by reason of injuries received in falling through a trestle, and this time has been added to the limit, which expires May 10 next. He comes from San Francisco, and is now 500 miles ahead of his schedule time.

The Lockup Was Cold.

A MAN ARRESTED AT DUNNVILLE SUES THE TOWN FOR DAMAGES.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17th.—At the Cayuga Assizes, which open on October 31st, a unique suit for damages will be tried. On April 22 Seaman Tisdale was arrested, near Dunnville on a charge of cattle stealing. He alleges that he was put in the Dunnville lockup, where he was first nearly suffocated and roasted by a big fire and smoky pipes, while he had to yell for help to the passers-by on the street. He had almost fainted when E. Lalor, reeve of the town, and the constable came and opened the doors. The pipes were not properly fixed, however, and again he had to endure partial suffocation while the fire went out. Then he was nearly frozen. Between the heat and excitement of the early part of the night and the severe cold of the early morning he was made seriously ill and his health was injured. He was subsequently acquitted of the charge. In consequence of the treatment he was subjected to he has sued the town of Dunnville for $2,000 damages. J. W. Nesbitt, Q. C., of this city has been retained as counsel for the plaintiff.

The Foundered Bokhara.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWO OF THE CREW MISSING.

HONG KONG, Oct. 18.—The chief officer of the steamer Bokhara has arrived here. He reports that the steamer struck at midnight on October 10. The steamer ran into the storm before dark and would probably have come through all right had it not been for the seas boarding her. The water poured in torrents through the hatchways, the covers of which were carried away, and down the companionways leading to the fire room. The fires were soon extinguished, and then the steamer became helpless. The officers and crew, both European and Lascars, behaved splendidly. Of the crew 102 are missing, and little if any doubt is entertained that they were drowned. The survivors passed two days on Sand Island. They were rescued by Chinese and taken to Wakung, where they embarked on the Thales. They were afterwards transferred to the Porpoise.

A Woman's Weight of Woe.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14th.—Mrs. Mack, on her way home with the dead body of her convict son, met at the depot here yesterday another son on his way to States prison.

James Mack, of McKean County, died at the Western Penitentiary. His mother had nursed him in sickness, prepared his body for burial and had started with it for home. While waiting for a train she saw Sheriff Grubb with five prisoners, among them her youngest son, Jack. John Mack is said to have a callous heart, but he wept at seeing his brother lying dead within a few feet of him, and his mother pleaded for mercy for him.

Another son is serving a term in prison. The three boys were thieves.
