Annexation a Question of Time.

At Chicago, Ill., a few weeks ago, F. L. Thibaudau, an ex-member of the Canadian Parliament, who passed thro' the city en route to New Orleans, in an interview said: "Canada's annexation to the United States is inevitable. The word Canada does not alone mean a certain portion of the North American continent: it means, in addition, a certain portion of the North American people. Now, the only question is, shall Canada submit to annexation while people still exist, or shall she wait until all these people have moved over to the United States, and then submit to the empty formality of allowing her depopulated country to be annexed!"

Every effort has been made to conceal the truth regarding the alarming character and size of the exodus to the United States from Canada, and from lower Quebec especially. The most violent abuse has been heaped upon those who have dared to point out the danger in this state of affairs. The priests have been telling the Government the truth, and a few newspaper have hinted at it.

"The mildest term of reproach for these honest people is that they are unpatriotic. The priests have fought hard to stem the tide of immigration.

"Failing utterly, they have appealed to the Government. Their action, while perhaps not disinterested, has been truly patriotic. We cannot much longer ignore the facts that they have presented, or dispute their evidence.

"We may sneer at or ignore the annexation of Canada, but all the while the Canadian people by whole trainloads are, as individuals, annexing themselves to the United States. These emigrants are, almost without exception, farmers. They desert Canada because they are being taxed out of existence. The McKinley bill has limited our market and the farmers are not yet accustomed to the new order of things. The Government gives no heed to this. It imagines that the country is better off without the discontented people who move to the United States. The people who leave will, it is true, stir up no rebellion, but the time will come when the Government would thank the Lord if enough people had remained to form a respectable rebellion."

A Nihilist Plot.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27.—Numerous arrests continue to be made at Kieff of persons suspected of Nihilism. Nine more officers are among those imprisoned either under suspicion or direct charges of connection with a conspiracy against the Czar. The Russian authorities believe they have unearthed a widespread plot, in which a number, not only of the lower officials, but also those of a higher rank, are involved, and several officers having positions of trust and confidence near the person of the Czar, having been put under surveillance, although not under arrest, being given leave of absence from duty until the suspicions resting upon them are verified or disproved. The extent of the plot is not yet known, and there seems no doubt this time of its genuine character, although it is not certain that the motives of the plotters are Nihilist.

A Bad Wreck.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—The Chicago express on the Santa Fe road, which left here at 11.30 last night, was derailed about two miles east of Halstead while running at a high rate of speed. The passenger coaches and Pullman sleepers were hurled down an embankment 50 feet high, and landed in a heap at the bottom. The overturned cars immediately caught fire, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the imprisoned passengers were rescued from an awful death. It is said that two unknown boys, said to reside in Denver, were fatally injured. A number of passengers and several of the train crew are reported injured, but none were killed. A relief train with physicians and surgeons was sent from here, and rendered assistance and relief to the injured. The accident is attributed to spreading rails.

Kansas, Oklahoma and the west generally experienced a genuine blizzard on Sunday.

The Pittsburgh Times gave 350 suits of clothes to as many newsboys as a Christmas gift.

The Montreal Street Railway Co. presented each of its 1,000 employees with a Christmas turkey.
