TILITY OF HYPNOTISM.

It has been suggested to me that the curing of the corns which I mentioned in this journal two weeks ago was a mere coincident and not at all the result of hypnotic influence. Each and every attempt I have made to cure corns by hypnotism has been | How His Lite was Saved After His Condia decided success. A DUFFERIN CO. MIRACLE.

Ernest Duke's Great Peril and Wonderful Escape.

tion had Been Declared Hopeless by Three Doctors-An Interesting Narrative Given to a Post Reporter by the Boy's Mother and Other Witnesses. Dufferin Post, Orangevitle.

The great Edmund Burke once exclaimed every side of us we hear it remarked that the days of miracles are a part of the dim, superstitious and romantic past. We are not going to enter into a discussion on the merits of either statement. Much of the chivalry that we read of had a great deal of the wild and grotesque about it, while not lars of the restoration to physical strength (5) It was the 19th of June last a friend and activity of George Hewitt, of Mono persons who had an intimate knowledge of 6.30 the next morning. Mr. Langford accompanied the reporter to the road and on the way the teacher said that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not be too widely known. "I have been boarding all along at Mr. Duke's said he, "and I tell you little Ernest was in a bad state last spring. No one ever thought he would get better, and it seems so strange that he was cured by such a simple remedy. Why, three doctors pronounced his case hopeless, and yet he is at school to-day! He is a bright little boy, and the Pink Pills saved

The reporter was full of thought as he hastened to the school to interview the little fellow who may be said to have heard the summons of death, and to response. The little fellow did certainly as a remedy. appear to be in the full enjoyment of health, and no one who did not know the facts would think that he had so recently been in such a precarious condition as to be despaired of by three local physicians of standing and experience. We shook bands with the boy and started for Orangeville fully convinced that there was a good deal in the stories we had been reading of miracles wrought through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The reporter also interviewed several of Mr. Duke's neighbors, and found them all of one opinion. This was that his son would now be sleeping in the silent churchyard had it not been for the timely use of Pink Pills. He also learned that many others are using the pill with gratifying results, while many more had made up their minds since the miraculous saving of young Duke's life to try the great remedy for lesser ailments with which they were troubled. We had anticipated that our mission would be disappointing in some respects, never expecting to have the strange story which we had heard of Ernest Dake's recovery so fully substantiated but here we were returning to Orangeville with everything that was flying rumor before conclusively established upon investigation.

WHAT THE DRUGGISTS SAY.

On arriving at Orangeville we determined to interview the local druggists as to the popularity of the remedy that is working such wonders and causing such genuine sensations in many parts of the country. interviewed. "Do you sell many of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills ?" we asked Mr. Stevenson. "I should think we did," was his prompt reply. "There is no remedy in my store for which there is such a demand, and while the number we sell is very large, the sale is certainly increasing." "How do yol account for this large sale?" we asked: "u believe it due entirely to the merits of the preparation. Those who use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills report the best results. The remedy is certainly a wonderful one.

a surprise to himself. In his experience as a druggist no remedy had made such a reputation or produced such wonderful results. Scarcely a day passed that he did not hear of parties who were benefitted by the use of Pink Pills.

Mr. J.R. Dodds was equally enthusiastic. "If you call Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a patent medicine," said he, "they are the most popular and best selling patent medicine in my store to-day. The sale is undoubtedly on the increase, and I can say that scores who have bought from me are loud in their praises of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for them. They are certainly a great remedy, and my experience is that they effect all that is claimed for them." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over-work or
