Buchanan's Steel-Picket

WIRE FENCE.

Strong. Durable. Cheap.

To the Farmers of Canada.

GENTLEMEN:

In most sections of our country timber for wood fences has become so scarce that the farmer and land owner have been compelled to look for some other material with which to fence their land. Several kinds of wire fence have been placed upon the market, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory; but, in placing before you my Steel-Picket Wire Fence, I do so confidently believing that in it I have overcome all of the objections that have been raised against wire fences in the past. The principle of the fence is easily understood; it is composed of any number of galvanized steel wires desired—placed any desired distance apart—upon which are placed corrugated steel pickets, which are secured to the wires with a galvanized steel wire stay, and the wings of the picket drawn back tightly against the wire, which prevents it being moved sideways on the wire. The pickets are painted with a weather-proof paint, which fully protects them from rust. Made of No. 9 Galvanized Steel Wire—which has neither been partially broken, nor had the galvanized coating destroyed, by crimping or twisting (so that it will break easily and commence to rust almost as soon as it is built); but, on the contrary, it retains its full tensile strength, and the coating is unharmed.

The construction of my picket prevents its being moved up or down, so that an animal, by shoving its head between the wires, cannot make a hole large enough to admit its body. The breadth of the picket makes it visible to all animals, and they do not have to run into it to find out that there is a fence there—as is the case with most fences. It is so arranged that the action of heat and cold, in expanding and contracting the wires, is thoroughly controlled, and the fence can be kept taut at all seasons of the year, and every year.

All I ask is an examination of its merits, and I am satisfied you will decide that it has no equal.

Ontario's Danger.

Ontario enjoys a reputation in the money centres of the world as a stable, progressive, well-ordered Province. And in these days of financial uncausness, when every country lies on the very verge of crisis, we cannot afford to enter upon a career of rash experimental legislation. Capital is sensitive, never more sensitive than to-day. If the word should go out that Ontario had dismissed a safe, prudent, progressive administration, thrown the control of its affairs into chancery, made government a question of prorata concessions to antagonistic factions and elements, and introduced a period of apprentice, opportunist, unstable legislation, aimed at the professional classes and established interests, the consequences to Ontario would be grave indeed. It is easy to work up excitement on the eve of an election, but every financier and every business man knows that there is a real danger at hand, and that Ontario cannot afford to take risks with her credit, and cannot afford to tell the world that in this one country, where our financial institutions have stood the storm, and where our credit has stood firm in the face of great and widespread disaster in other countries, we have determined to overturn existing conditions and experiment with the fundamental laws on which our stability rests. The Western States have experienced just such conditions and developments as are threatened in Ontario, and the results have been disastrous to every class of the population. In many of these States the average rate of interest is from 10 to 12 per cent., and 8 is the best rate that can be secured. It is not too much to say that the farmers are the chief sufferers, and that there they have learned from hard experience that government is a business that in an eminent degree requires skill and training, that taxation will not always stay where it is placed, and that the attempt to punish financial institutions and cripple corporations by merely vexatious enactments always reacts disastrously upon the body of the people, and particularly upon the farming population. We say there is not a shadow of hope that the Conservative party will elect a majority of the next Legislature. They do not expect that there will be any such issue from the contest. The first duty of the country, therefore, is to take care that a majority of Liberals are again sent back to Parliament to support a Government that has always been prudent, but always progressive, always economical but seldom rigidly, and always ready to go the full length of public sentiment in reforming and simplifying the laws, ameliorating the condition of the masses of the people, protecting but regulating the professions, restraining the power and circumscribing the privileges of corporations, but maintaining as a first and paramount duty the credit and good financial repute of the Province.

A Rumored Lawsuit.

One night last week a young man named Anderson, employed in Mr. McIlmoyle's livery stable at Bobcaygeon, drove up to the Falls with a traveller and stopped at Twomey's hotel, in front of which the horse was standing, three or four minutes after their arrival, when a boy on the street let off a fire cracker, and the animal, taking fright, whirled around and started off for home at a gallop before anybody could stop him. Mr. Twomey says it is true, as reported, that the horse was not tied during the very short time he stood opposite the hotel, but that the stable boy was near his head and the driver, who intended to return at once) was almost in the act of getting into the buggy when the cracker was let off. Though Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon are about twelve miles apart, the horse got home without accident to itself or the buggy except a slightly bent axle; but when he reached his stable he turned too sharply, broke through the sidewalk and seriously injured one of his legs. And now Mr. McIlmoyle, it is reported, talks of suing the corporation of Fenelon Falls because his horse ran away in consequence of being frightened by a fire-cracker discharged in direct contravention of one of the by-laws of the village; but, though he might possibly recover compensation for the damage done to the buggy, it would be very unjust to make Fenelon Falls pay for the consequences of the rottenness of a Bobcaygeon sidewalk. It is to be hoped that the by-law against the discharge of fire-crackers within the corporation will henceforward be rigidly enforced, as they are not only terrifying to horses, but in hot, dry weather may easily ignite rubbish and thus cause disastrous fires. It is not the only by-law that is a dead letter, but it is the only one—with the exception of the by-law relating to public health—the disregard of which is fraught with absolute danger.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

Mr. Joseph Pearn had the misfortune to lose a two year old steer. The animal got in close quarters with the mail train going south at the crossing near James Miller's, and it was so badly injured that the owner had to kill it.

Farmers are getting somewhat discouraged with the continued wet weather. Reports come in that potatoes and corn are rotting in the ground. The oldest settlers claim that for the past two hundred years they can't remember anything to equal it. Farmers are anxious to prepare their turp ground, but there is not much chance at present.
