Buchanan's Steel-Picket

WIRE FENCE.

Strong. Durable. Cheap.

To the Farmers of Canada. GENTLEMEN:

In most sections of our country timber for wood fences has become so scarce that the farmer and land owner have been compelled to look for some other material with which to fence their land. Several kinds of wire fence have been placed upon the market, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory; but, in placing before you my Steel-Picket Wire Fence, I do soconfidently believing that in it I have over come all of the objections that have been raised against wire fences in the past. The principle of the fence is easily understood; it is composed of any number of galvanized steel wires desired-placed any desired distance apart-upon which are placed corrugated steel pickets, which are secured to the wires with a galvanized steel wire stay, and the wings of the picket drawn back tightly against the wire, which prevents it being moved sideways on the wire. The pickets are painted with a weatherproof paint, which fully protects them from rust. Made of No. 9 Galvanized Steel Wire -which has neither been partially broken, nor had the galvanized coating destroyed, by crimping or twisting (so that it will break easily and commence to rust almost as soon as it is built); but, on the contrary it retains its full tensile strength, and the coating is unharmed.

admit its body. The breadth of the picket makes it visible to all animals, and they donot have to run into it to find out that there is a fence there—as is the case with most fences. It is so arranged that the action of heat and cold, in expanding and contracting the wires, is thoroughly controlled, and the fence can be kept taut at all seasons of the year, and every year.
All I ask is an examination of its merits, and I am satisfied you will decide that it has no equal.

The Election.

On Tuesday next, the 26th inst., the electors of East Victoria will have to decide by their votes whether Mr. Thurston, the Patron candidate, or Mr. Carnegie, the Conservative, shall represent the riding in the Local Legislature during the next four years. Mr. Carnegie is an avowed enemy (though he has given but very inadequate reasons for being so) of the Mowat administration, and will turn it out if he can. Mr. Thurston informed us in his speech at the nomination that the Patrons had exacted no pledges from him, and as, being a moderate Reformer, he will not, if elected, go to parliament predetermined to oust the Government, we nat urally give him the preference and advise our fellow Liberals to do the

The supporters of Mr. Carnegie pro fess to feel quite sure of electing him. but we are firmly of the opinion that their idea that Conservative Patrons will not keep faith with the gentleman they have placed in the field will prove to have been erroneous. A few old style Tories left the Order when they found that the candidate chosen was not of their own political faith; but a very large number of what we call rational Conservatives are still to be found in its ranks, and will, with possibly a very few exceptions, vote for Mr. Thurston. That Sir Oliver Howat and his colleagues have, year after year done all they possibly could to benefit the agricultural community is undeniable, and it is not unreasonable to believe that thousands of farmers, who have hitherto voted Conservative from force of habit rather than from any deep-rooted conviction, have joined the Patrons of Industry with the intention of releasing themselves from the thraldom of party, and supporting the men who have been so persistently their friends.

East Victoria Nominations.

The nominations of candidates for the representation of the east riding of the county of Victoria in the Local Legislature were held according to proclamation in Dickson's hall, Fencion Falls, on Tuesday last, the 19th inst., commencing at 12 o'clock noon, a few Barr, returning officer, and Mr. R. MR. CARNEGIE, who was the first to | Nearly all the speakers were on their lay and clerical speaker, and, considerhimself very creditably.

Mr. THURSTON said he was a Patron candidate and did not consider it incumbent upon him to defend the Mowat Government. He was an independent candidate, not having given any pledges to the Patrons of Industry, whose object was not to defeat any Government, but merely to secure legislation likely to be beneficial to farmers. He was not in accord with the Patron platform as far as the prohibition of the bonusing of railways was concerned, as he thought that such as were intended to open up the country should be assisted, but that public money should not be voted to old lines. Like Mr. Carnegie, he objected to the high salaries paid to some of the Government officials, but he thought partyism was a great deal too strong and led to unpatriotic opposition. The Patrons were neither Grit nor Tory, but were far better than either, and both of them appeared to think that the Patrons would hold the balance of power in the next parliament. Mr. Thurston concluded his quiet and sensible spech by replying to and refuting the charges o inconsistency brought against himself.

MR. JAMES JUNKIN made a lively and capital little speech, in which, after stating that, as a dyed-in-the-wool Grit. he was not in sympathy with either of the candidates, he made a vigorous onslaught upon the Tory policy, and contrasted the Ontario timber policy with that of the Dominion.

MR. GEO. H. HEWSON, of Norland. made a rambling attack upon Mr. Thurston, the Patron platform and the Mowat Government, but could not answer a plain question or two put to him. at the close of his oration by Mr. Junkin and Mr. Dickson.

MR. GEORGE BAKER of Ingoldsby led us to infer that he was a member of the P.P.A., because, when giving a list of the institutions which, as recipients of public money, he thought ought to be subject to Government inspection, he included "monasteries," and then slightly checked himself as if expeeting "loud applause," which, however, did not come. If he did not know that no monastery in Ontario receives a cent from the public, he was merely showing his ignorance; if he did, he of it. was attempting to stir up the sectarian prejudices of his hearers by grossly deceiving them. Mr. Baker theh "went for" the Patrons and Mr. Thurston, and a charge of insincerity regarding railway bonuses brought who was prominent in the formation of against Mr. T. was disproved by the evidence of Mr. John Junkin, who was one of the delegates who waited supon the Patron candidate to ask him to accept their nomination.

Roman Domination.

Speaking at Toronto Junction the other night, Sir Oliver Mowat, in dealing with the charge that the Government is under the domination of the Church of Rome, said : " I am prepared to say to you that during the twentytwo years of my premiership I have never had a single demand from any Roman Catholic priest or bishop, and with reference to the Acts which have been passed in regard to separate schoolsthere is not one in respect to which I have had an interview with any of the-Roman Catholic clergy or ever received a letter from any of them. These Acts were passed at the instance, in every case, of laymen of that church, and they were passed because the general sentimeut of the country approved of them. When they are referred to as proofs of the subservience of the Reform party and the Reform Government to the Church of Rome, it should be remembered that the fact is what I have just stated, that every one of these laws. which are now objected to had the approval of the general sentiment of the country. There was not a church or society that objected to them; there was not an individual that I have heard of in the Legislature or out of the Legisla. ture who objected to them. They were not objected to, in fact, until years . afterwards, when our political opponents, anxious to find some policy or other that might bring them votes, chose to adopt this cry of subserviency to Romish authority and Romish demands, notwithstanding the fact that the Acts had been passed with the concurrence of the Opposition themselves."

Sir Oliver then dealt with the charges that had been made against the Government in connection with the separate schools, and showed that they are absolutely foundationless. It was folly, he said, to assert that Protestantism would be crushed out by what had been done for separate schools, and to say that onesixth could crush out five-sixths of the people was a heresy. It could not be, and there was not the slightest danger
