Five Killed Outright.

HALIFAX EXPRESS GOES THROUGH A TRESTLE.

GREENVILLE, Me., July 2.—The Halifax express, leaving Montreal at eight o'clock last evening on the Canadian Pacific railroad, was wrecked at the bridge over the west outlet of a small stream near here, at five o'clock this morning. Five persons were killed outright and eight injured, some fatally. As soon as the news was known, a wrecking train was despatched from Brownville, equipped with the necessary supplies, and having on board Surgeon Boothby, of the Atlantic division, C. P. R., and a staff of assistants. The dead and injured were placed on board the wrecking train, and taken to Greenville, where an inquest was held this afternoon by Coroner W. B. Hanson, of Jackman.

At Moosehead Inn, the scene of the accident, the bridge crosses a gorge, through which runs a rapid stream, the west outlet of Moosehead lake. The nearest Canadian Pacific station, Moosehead, is three and one-half miles west. An iron bridge spans the gorge, approached by a trestle some 25 feet high. The train was made up of express and baggage car, first and second class coaches and Pullmans, and was running about 33 miles an hour when it struck the trestle. The entire train, with the exception of the Pullman at the rear, went through the trestle. The wooden trestle at the eastern end of the bridge completely collapsed, with 40 feet of the roadbed approaching it. There were on board the train 23 passengers, all of whom have been accounted for.

Grateful and Hopeful.

On the eve of the twenty-seventh anniversary of Confederation Canada can reflect on the past with satisfaction and look forward to the future with hope. The cause for gratification is found in the work already accomplished. A territory greater than that of any other nation save Russia has been brought under the control of one central government; the vast areas west of Lake Superior, an unbroken wilderness 25 years ago, have been transformed into prosperous provinces; a band of steel has been laid across the continent from Halifax to Vancouver; our foreign trade has been increased from one hundred and thirty-eight to over two hundred and forty millions, and in no part of this vast Dominion is there serious discontent or dissatisfaction.

And of the future! Never was the outlook brighter. The country is, on the whole, enjoying a fair degree of prosperity; the prospects for this season's crops are favorable; there is a strong probability of somewhat improved trade relations with our neighbors to the south, and in the Intercolonial Conference now being held there is an all but certain assurance of an impetus to our prosperity surpassing even that brought about by Confederation. Sincere gratitude for the past and bounding hope for the future are manifest throughout Canada to-day to a greater extent than at any previous period in the history of the Dominion.—Toronto News.

Confessed on His Deathbed.

DUBLIN, June 30.—The Irish newspapers publish a statement to the effect that a sailor named Kennedy, now in Belfast, has made a declaration that while serving on board the barque Trafalgar in the Indian Ocean the cook, Daniel Sheehan or Sheenan, a native of Cork, died of fever. Before he expired, according to Kennedy, he said he, and not his brother, who is in prison, attempted to blow up the Houses of Parliament in 1885. Kennedy adds that Sheehan refused to give any details of the affair, with the exception of saying that he and his brother, who were then in America, traveled from Chicago to London on purpose to commit the outrage.

Signor Baudi, an Italian official, was stabbed to death by an anarchist at Leghorn on Sunday. The crime was committed in the same way as that at Lyons, France, when President Carnot was murdered.

Near Montgomery, Vt., Merrill Baker and his wife quarrelled and separated. The trouble preyed on the woman's mind, until she became insane, and on Saturday she hanged her four children to the posts of a bed-head. When found all were dead.
