

Seeking a Separation.

REPORT FROM CHICAGO OF THE VERY LATEST METHOD OF GETTING A DIVORCE.

"Do you give gas here?" asked a wild-looking man who rushed into a dentist's office the other morning.
 "We do," replied the dentist.
 "Does it but a fellow to sleep?"
 "It does."
 "Sound asleep, so you can't wake him up?"
 "Yes."
 "You could break his jaw or gouge out his eye and he wouldn't feel it?"
 "He would know nothing of it."
 "How long does it make him stay asleep?"
 "The physical insensibility produced by inhaling the gas lasts a minute, or probably a little less."
 "I guess that's long enough. Got it all ready for a fellow to take?"
 "Yes. Take a seat in this chair and show me your tooth."
 "Tooth nothing!" said the excited caller, beginning rapidly to remove his coat and vest. "I want you to pull a porous plaster off my back."—Chicago Times.

His Doubt Dispelled.

One afternoon Mr. B's Irish man-of-all-work came to him and requested to have the evening off to go to a wedding. The request was granted and nothing more was seen of Thomas until the next morning, when he appeared in a decidedly used up condition. One eye was black, his nose jammed in, and strips of court plaster adorned his face in every conceivable direction.
 "For heaven's sake, Thomas!" exclaimed Mr. B. upon catching sight of him, "what have you been up to? I thought I gave you permission to go to a wedding."
 "And so youse did, sor."
 "Well, did you go?"
 "Shure I wint, and when I got to the house I found a felly sitting in the parlor. He waz dressed up in foine shape, wid a long-tailed coat and a white neck tie. Sez I to him 'And who may yez be?' Sez he to me 'Can't yez see, yer Irish mick, sez he, 'I'm the best man.' And he waz, sor."—Brooklyn Life.

The Real Thing.

"Did you have a nice dinner?" asked Mrs. Norris of her little son, who had been spending the day with a friend.
 "Outer sight!" replied Bobby enthusiastically. "Say, mamma, why can't we have things like that?"
 "What did you have?" said Mrs. Norris, quickly, to avoid discussion.
 "Oh, we had soup and soft-shell crabs and spring chicken and sparrowgrass and puddin'."
 "What sort of pudding?"
 "I don't know. It was kinder fluffy, with wine sauce to it. It was outer sight!"
 "How did you know it was wine sauce?"
 "Easy 'nough."
 "Did they say so?"
 "Nop! But I could taste it," cried Bobby, scornfully. "I can just tell you it wasn't one of the kind what some one has to lean across the table and whisper to you it's got wine into it 'fore you'd know it!"

Mrs. Hicks—How?

"Elsie's afraid of growing fat," said dear little Tommy, who was being exhibited before company.
 "How do you know?" asked one of the guests.

"Because," replied Tommy, confidently, "last night when she an' Mr. Makeluv were on the piazza I heard her say: 'I'm afraid I'm heavy, ain't I?'"—Chicago Record.

Pat was an Irishman who never would admit that there was any subject that he did not know about. One day a gentleman said to him:

"Well, Pat, do you know anything about the Wilson Bill?"
 "O! do, sor; O! know all about it."
 "Well, what do you think of it?"
 "Well, O! I'll tell ye," said Pat, with an air of profound wisdom, "O! think ekac if that mon Wilson is anything of a gentleman, he'll pay that bill!"

The Leader of the Patrons.

SKETCH OF THE MAN WHO HAS BEEN THUS HONORED.

Joseph I. Haycock, M. P. P. for Frontenac county, who has been elected leader of the Patrons party in the Provincial Assembly, is comparatively a young man, being only 44 years of age, having been born near Switzerville, Lennox county, in 1850. He was the third son of Frederick Haycock, an Englishman, who came to Canada in 1837. His mother was a Thompson, who came from Ireland in 1810, and a sister of Rev. James Thompson, a pioneer Methodist minister. Mr. Haycock attended a common school near his home, and later took a course in the Newburgh grammar school with such instructors as H. M. Deroche, Q. C., and Prof. J. Campbell, of Montreal, of heresy fame. Here Mr. Haycock laid the foundation for the flow of language with which he is so capably endowed. Then came the activities of life, and for three years he dealt out goods to the farmers and villagers who frequented T. Sexsmith's store at Selby. Soon he quit storekeeping and returned to his father's farm. In 1872 the family removed to Cataract, having secured the Beamish property. But farm life was, just at this juncture, too monotonous for the bustling youth, and he came to Kingston. He spent three months in the Glasgow warehouse, and then found more congenial employment with Sexsmith & Stevenson, of Napanee. Some time later he resumed farm studies, though in different form, he and his father going into the handling of produce. For ten years the partnership existed, and the firm had the most extensive and profitable dealings in New York, Boston, Montreal and elsewhere. In 1882 the member bought out his father, and since that date he has been successful as a market gardener. He has also combined auctioneering with his business, and his voice has been heard to the decided advantage of the sellers of stock, implements, etc.

Writing con amore the Canadian Farmer's Sun, the organ of the party, says:—Mr. Haycock is a man of progressive ideas; he has a wonderful capacity for legislative enactments, and in the excitement of debate and the turmoils of strife of opposition he always maintains a calm, imperturbable spirit. Seldom does he get "rattled," to use a vulgarism. For seven years he served as a municipal legislator in Kingston township, as reeve three times and deputy-reeve three times. Twice he was elected by acclamation, and the last occasion he was in the council the reeveship was again offered him by acclamation. He has been a vigorous worker in farmers' institutes and agricultural societies, and is now president of the Frontenac Association. He has served as a school trustee, and is a past master of Frontenac lodge, No. 362, A. F. & A. M. In his early life and until recently his political leanings were Liberal; but he always maintained and declared for the interests of the farmers, and when the Patrons' platform was formed he became an ardent supporter and an active worker in the lodge formed at Cataract. Because of his qualifications as a speaker, thinker and worker, he has always been foremost in the ranks of the yeomanry, and there is no doubt of his zeal and ability being utilized in the Legislature of Ontario. In social life he is witty and genial; religiously he is attached to the Methodist Church. He was married in 1877 to Miss Martha Grange, of Napanee, a sister of J. T. Grange, ex M. P. P., Lennox. The home is blessed with five children.

Mr. Haycock is one of the leading poulterers in Canada, in fact his plant is said to be the largest in the country. Only for his enterprise and industry Frontenac would not have been represented in live stock at the World's Fair. At the Industrial Fair Mr. Haycock won 53 prizes with 58 exhibits in the poultry line, and at the World's Fair his success was equally great, his prize earnings last year being about $1,000.

Ploughing Old Pastures.

Dr. E. H. Jenkins, in a lecture before the students of the agricultural college at Burlington, urged very strongly against the practice of ploughing old pastures. He would not destroy the turf of old pasture, because it contains a variety of grasses which have proved themselves best able to stand close grazing. The fittest has survived. New seeding will not equal the turf which nature has formed by a long struggle between the good and the bad. If there is a reasonably good number of grass roots, then the position is well taken, and it would seem better to broadcast fertilizers rather than to plow. But if the pasture is largely covered with moss or weeds we should prefer to try ploughing.
