Forehandedness.

A household writer gives some very sensible suggestions on plans and system in housekeeping, as follows: One of the secrets of being able to have one's plans frustrated without serious inconvenience is in being forehanded. Never allow work to accumulate if it is possible to do it. Keep everything in such order that a little neglect will not show. Occupy spare moments of the days that are not very busy ones, in doing work a little ahead of the time when it is actually needed. Then one will be the mistress and not the slave, of her housework, and the true work of the homemaker will be accomplished.

But one may even be a slave to the idea of being forehanded; and many a housekeeper frets herself nearly to death in order to keep everything done ahead of time, so that there will be no accumulation of work. It becomes almost a mania and though each season's work is done so long ahead of time that she could give herself weeks of complete rest, she seems only to get it done in order to begin the next, and thus keeps herself as much a slave to her household work as if it were always behindhand.

The only advantage in doing work ahead of time is that one may do it easily, and at such convenient times that it will hardly seem to be work. If the habit becomes so fixed that it seems a necessity, the work has become the master, and the mistress of the house is the slave.

Useful Recipes.

Beet Bouillon.—Take lean beef from lower round and shank of veal in equal proportion. Put a heaping tablespoonful of butter into your kettle, put in meat, cut into small pieces; stir over hot fire until meat begins to brown. Then add one pint of cold water and cook until there is a thick glaze on bottom of kettle, which should be about an hour. Add cold water in proportion of a pint for every pound of meat. Let it come to a boil, skim and set back where it will simmer for six hours. Strain through a fine cloth, season with salt and red pepper and set away to cool. When thoroughly cold skim off the fat. When ready to use, bring to boiling point and, if necessary, skim again. It should be served hot in cups, without spoons, and with salted wafers, as a first course or sort of introduction to the supper. If preferred, serve chick bouillon, which is prepared in the same way. But if bouillon is not served, serve instead chocolate with sweet graham wafers.

Cheese Sandwiches.—Grate one pound of rich, soft cheese and mash it into one cup of butter; season with cayenne pepper and salt. Chop celery or olives very fine (preferably celery because many people do not like olives). Spread thin slices of bread, cut to match together neatly with the cheese and butter mixture, sprinkle with the chopped celery, put two slices together and keep in a cool place till ready to serve.

Perhaps it would be well to serve plain bread and butter as well, since there are a few people who don't care for cheese.

Salted Almonds.—Blanch your almonds by pouring boiling water over them. Let them remain in the water till cool and the skins will readily slip off. Dry thoroughly, then spread in a baking pan, add a teaspoonful of butter to every half pound of meats. Stir on top of the stove till the butter is melted, then put in the oven and allow them to remain till they are a delicate brown. Remove from the oven and while hot sift over sufficient salt. When cold, sift off superfluous salt. Salted peanuts are also good, though not so fashionable.

Chicken Salad.—Boil three chickens till very tender, salting to taste. When cold cut in small pieces and mix with equal amount of celery cut fine. For dressing, beat thoroughly two or three eggs (eggs with yolks in are beaten thoroughly when you can dip a spoonful without having it stringy); stir in two tablespoonfuls mustard, $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoon black pepper, two of sugar and one of salt; add butter (melted) size of an egg. Heat one pint of vinegar and pour slowly into above mixture, stirring constantly; steam or heat until it thickens. When cold pour onto chicken and celery.

Wedding Cake.—Two lbs. brown sugar (2 level teacups sugar is equal to 1 lb.), $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. butter (1 lb. butter equals 2 teacupfuls), 12 eggs, 2 lbs. flour (1 qt. sifted flour equals 1 lb.), 8 tablespoonfuls some kind of wine, six nutmegs ground or grated, 5 lbs. raisins, 4 lbs. English currants, 2 lbs. citron (if citron is not convenient use preserved watermelon rind.) Chop the seeds in raisins, citron and currants till fine, and dust over them before mixing into cake dough 1 cup flour. Mix first four ingredients, add wine, spicing and fruit. Line cake tins with buttered paper and tie more paper around outside of tins with twine.

A PECULIAR CASE.

A PRETTY BRUNETTE STRICKEN DOWN IN PHILADELPHIA.

A Story of a Young Girl That Created a Great Fetter Among the Medical Fraternity.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1st.—A case that is creating a great flutter among the medical dove-cots is that of Nellie Taylor, whose parents reside on Powieton avenue. Miss Taylor is a pretty brunette with red cheeks and a smile that would set the heart of the sternest reporter fluttering in two seconds. The facts of the case are sooner told in her own words. "Three years ago," she said, "my father moved from the country into Philadelphia. I determined to seek some employment, not wishing to be a burden on the family. I obtained employment in Wanamaker's store and I had not been long there, when the indoor work began to tell on me. I lost the color in my cheeks and I grew pale and thin. My food did not agree with me and I had a headache all the time. I finally grew so ill that I had to quit work. The doctor was called in and he said that I was suffering from chronic dyspepsia and habitual constipation and he gave me very little hope of recovery. He gave me several doses that nearly doubled me up with pain but gave no permanent relief. Finally I was that ill that food would only stay on my stomach for a couple of hours. After eating I would suffer from dizziness, and I would see everything double. Then a terrible headache would set in followed by vomiting and pain. I tried a lot of medicines of different kinds but they did me no good. At last a friend advised me to take Schiller's Sarsaparilla Pills. I followed his advice, and much to the wonder of my friends I began to recover at once. Ten boxes of Schiller's Sarsaparilla Pills have completely cured me. My mother was completely run down nursing me and Schiller's Sarsaparilla Pills have cured her also." Know your own mind. If your druggists will not get Schiller's Sarsaparilla Pills send to us and we will mail you a box on receipt of 50c. or six boxes for $2.50. Address K. H. Schiller & Co., Toronto.

Don't be Imposed Upon.

When you ask for Doctor's Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Go to a reliable dealer. He will sell you what you want. The ones who have something else to urge upon you in its place are thinking of the extra profit they'll make. Those things pay them better, but they don't care about you.

None of these substitutes is "just as good" as the "Discovery." This is the only blood-cleanser, flesh-builder, and strength-restorer so far-reaching and so unerring in its effects that it can be guaranteed. In the most stubborn skin, scalp, or scurfous affections, or in every disease that's caused by a torpid liver or by impure blood—if it ever fails to cure, you have your money back.

It is reported in London that Lord William Beresford will shortly be married to the Duchess of Marlborough.

An eminent American divine writes:—God has been pleased to store the earth and the air with remedial agencies for the cure of disease and the prolongation of life. I believe St. Leon Water to be one of these agencies. It is invigorating exhilarating and remedial. Used copiously its effect upon the whole urinary passage is most beneficial.

Get Rid of Neuralgia.

There is no use in fooling with neuralgia. It is a disease that gives way only to the most powerful remedies. THE PREACHER'S TRIAL.

AN INTERESTING CHAT WITH THE REV. W. J. CHAPIN.

In the Strain of Pulpit Labor He Had Overdrawn His Health Account—How He Met the Crisis and Returned to His Duties with Renewed Health.

From the Springfield, Ill., Journal.

In the pretty village of Chatham, Ill., there lives a Baptist divine, whose snow white hair is the one outward sign that he has encroached upon the days beyond the allotted three score years and ten. His clear eye, keen mental faculties and magnificent physique all bear witness to a life well spent. This pioneer in God's eternal vineyard is Rev. W. J. Chapin, whose 72 years are crowded with noble deeds in the Christian ministry.

To a Journal representative who asked him something of his career in the ministry, Mr. Chapin talked in an interesting strain, and said that, in spite of the indications to the contrary, his life had not all been sunshine and good health.

"As my present appearance testifies, I was fortunate in the possession of a very vigorous constitution. But as is too often the case, I overestimated my physical resources, and when it was too late learned that I had overdrawn my health account. The crisis came about eighteen years ago. At the time I was preaching the gospel from the pulpit, and I became suddenly so ill that I was compelled to stop before my sermon was finished. It was a bad case of nervous prostration, and for a time my friends and family were greatly exercised over my condition. Complete rest was imperative, and Mrs. Chapin and I planned and took a long trip. My health was sufficiently restored to resume work, but I was not the same man. I felt absolutely worthless physically and mentally. I had so lost control of my muscles that my fingers would involuntarily release their grip upon a pen, and my hand would turn over with absolutely no volition on my part. About two years ago, to intensify matters, I was seized with a severe attack of the grippe. I recovered only partially from it and had frequent returns of that indescribable feeling which accompanies and follows that strange malady. I looked in vain for something to bring relief and finally I read an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Something seemed to tell me that they would do me good and I commenced using them. They gave me additional strength from the start and toned up my system from a condition of almost absolute prostration so that I was able again to resume my duties as a minister. The improvement was simply marvelous, and the credit is due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Mrs. Chapin was present during the conversation and said: "I don't think Mr. Chapin could ever have resumed his preaching after he had the attack of the grippe had it not been for Pink Pills. They did him so much good that I decided to try their efficacy on myself. I have been troubled for years with what our physician, Dr. Hewitt, called rheumatic paralysis, and since taking the Pink Pills I have been stronger and the pain in my right arm and hand is less acute. We keep the pills in the house all the time, and they do me a great deal of good in the way of toning up my system and strengthening me."

In all cases like the above Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure. They act directly upon the blood and nerves. Sold by all dealers, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 50 cents a box, or $2.50 for 6 boxes by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.
