Third Assistant Postmaster-General Hazen has received an application from a Kansas postmaster for the employment by the Government of his daughter to sell postage stamps at the Chicago Columbian Exposition. He states that she has had much experience in selling stamps, and mentions as one of her qualifications the fact that she is the largest postal clerk in the country, weighing 472 pounds. She is 24 years of age.

In Chicago on March 31st Wm. Blunck, aged fourteen, and Thos. Luvinne, aged fifteen, were sentenced to 40 years in the penitentiary for the murder of Albert Eckroth. The crime was committed on the night of May 15, 1892, when the youthful criminals held up Eckroth on Western-avenue, shot him through the heart and robbed the body of a watch. Their extreme youth saved them from the infliction of the death penalty.

The World's Fair is giving Chicago a great boom in the building line. The building permits issued for three months include 52 blocks of stores, 423 stores and dwellings, 2,414 dwellings, 76 factories and warehouses, 65 public and office buildings, 182 barns and stables, 28 miscellaneous and 481 for basements and other additions. It is expected the work of the work of the next two months will swell the construction total of the year to $60,000,000. This is equal to the amount that is estimated to have been borrowed for rebuilding after the fire. It represents the building expenditure of about $48 for every man, woman and child in the city and suburbs, or the investments of not far from 5 per cent. of the total real and personal wealth of the city.

Parliament of Religion.

THE DISTINCTION BETWEEN DENOMINATIONAL CONGRESSES AND THE BODY ABOVE NAMED.

In the Toronto Mail, Rev. Wm. Logan contributes an article which will interest our church readers:
CANADA AND CHICAGO.

To the Editor of the Mail:

SIR.—It appears to me that your editorial of yesterday, headed, "Canada and Chicago," is misleading, as far as relates to the religious congresses to be held towards the end of the World's Fair is concerned. The congresses do not contemplate "the placing their opinions on exhibition for the consideration of pleasure-seekers and sight-seers." None, I believe, will be admitted to these congresses except those immediately interested. I quote from the papers issued by the general committee:—"The world's congresses of 1893 will be held in the Memorial Art palace, erected on the Lake Front park, in Chicago. This is not in the grounds of the World's Fair, but in the centre of the city. This building will contain two large audience rooms arranged to seat about 3,000 each, and more than twenty smaller rooms, which will accommodate from 300 to 700 persons each." Here it will be seen that the congresses will be held away from the crowd, and need not be "on exhibition for pleasure-seekers and sight-seers." It is intended to publish all the proceedings of these congresses, I believe in book form.

The "Parliament of Religions" is a different thing from the denominational congresses. "Active participation in the parliament will be limited to members of this advisory council and those especially invited." I quote again from the document issued by the general committee: "The plan of holding a parliament of religions, at which the representation of the great historic faiths shall sit together in frank and friendly conference over the great things of our common spiritual and moral life, is no longer a dream. The religious world in its great branches will be represented in this truly æcumenical conference. There will be Buddhist scholars, both from Japan and India, and probably also from Siam. One of the high priests from Shintoism is expected to be present. Two Moslem scholars, eminent in India, have accepted invitations. The eloquent Mozumdar will speak for progressive Hinduism. Arrangements are being made to secure papers from orthodox Hindus. The Chinese government has commissioned a scholar to represent Confucianism. It is expected that Parsees from Bombay will speak of their ancient faith. Jewish Rabbis of Europe and America are in earnest sympathy with this movement. The interest in the Exposition and in the approaching congress will draw to Chicago numerous representatives of the historic religions. Leading christian missionaries and native christians of many lands will be present, including some of the foremost men in India. Prominent scholars in America, England and Germany have already accepted invitations to address the Parliament."

With regard to the parliament, the world has no experience from which to reason of its probable success or failure. That will probably depend, no doubt, upon the way it is managed. If properly managed the discussions can hardly fail to be of interest to many, and also instructive to those who have in hand the training of our future missionaries for foreign fields.

Of denominational congresses we have very favorable experiences—it may be in a small way—even in this city of Toronto, where we can now come together in a friendly way and talk over our differences as well as those points in which we agree. The old mode of controversy, which in nine cases out of ten ran into personal abuse, has all but disappeared. The disputants are not now expected to hate each other because they cannot agree in opinion.

Having accepted the appointment of a member of the Advisory Council, of which I had no difficulty, after seeing the names of Sir Wm. Dawson, Principal Grant, and the Bishop of Algoma amongst those who have either accepted the appointments on the Advisory Council, or have expressed their cordial approval of the plan, I have thought it only right, and to a certain extent my duty, to give this version of the scheme.

Yours, etc., WM. LOGAN,
Toronto, March 15.
