OUR NEW 1893 FLOWER SEED OFFER.

A Magnificent Collection of FLOWER SEEDS
200 Varieties, FREE!

An unparalleled offer by an established and reliable Publishing House! The Ladies' World is a large 20-page, 24-column illustrated magazine for ladies and the family circle. It is devoted to stories, poems, ladies' fancy work, artistic needlework, house decoration, housekeeping, fashions, hygiene, juvenile reading, etiquette, etc. To introduce this charming ladies' paper into 100,000 homes where it is not already taken, we now make the following colossal offer: Upon receipt of only 12 CENTS in advance, we will send "The Ladies' World" for Three Months, and to each subscriber we will also send FREE one Flower Seed, two hundred varieties, including: Apple Blossom, Apricot, Peach, Pear, Plum, Cherry, Strawberry, Raspberry, Currant, Gooseberry, Elder, Honeysuckle, Lilac, Magnolia, Rose, Sweet Pea, Pea, Bean, Vetch, Clover, Alfalfa, Lucerne, etc. etc. etc. We guarantee every subscriber many times the value of both seeds and Magazine. If you are not satisfied, our 30-day old and reliable publishing house, endorsed by all the leading newspapers of both Canada and America, will refund your money and make you a present of a new copy of "The Ladies' World" for Three Months. We have received hundreds of testimonials from pleased subscribers during the past five years: "I had beautiful flowers from the seeds you sent me two years ago, and from experience know the seeds are really an advertisement."—Mrs. N. C. Baynes, Penn. Wis. "Myself and friends have sent for various things advertised by you, and have found them to be entirely satisfactory."—Mrs. J. M. Davis, Brooklyn, N. Y. "Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher (a regular subscriber), and Grace Greenwood, each ordered our seeds last season. Do not count on our seeds being ordered by unscrupulous persons. Write today, don't put it off! Six subscriptions and six Seed Collections sent for 60 cents."

SPECIAL OFFER! To any lady sending for above offer, and naming the paper in which she saw this advertisement, we will send free, in addition to all the above, one packet of the celebrated Bokford Sweet Peas, embracing the most popular varieties, including: Bokford's Splendor, The Queen, Orange Prince, Apple Blossom, etc. Sweet Peas are the most popular and fashionable long-stemmed flowers, and the Bokford Varieties which we offer are the largest, finest and most celebrated known. They grow to a height of 4 feet, and produce one month a continuous profusion of fragrant blossoms of the most brilliant coloring.

ANOTHER GREAT OFFER! Five Cents (our regular subscription price) we will send "The Ladies' World" for Three Years, together with our magnificent Collection of Choice Flower Seeds above described, likewise one packet of the extensively advertised and justly celebrated Bokford Sweet Peas. Address: G. H. MOORE & CO., 27 Park Place, New York.

Gladstone's Marvellous Effort.

The Sun's London cable says:—London is torn by conflicting political emotions. Last night's great home rule triumph in the house has inspired the Liberals wonderfully. The Tories are rejoicing with equal vim over the demonstration by the visiting Irish unionists. Friends and foes alike are marvelling over the magnificent speech with which Mr. Gladstone brought the debate on the second reading of the home rule bill to a close, and over the matchless eloquence of its delivery. It was a far finer effort than the speech with which he introduced the bill a few weeks ago. It is, indeed, pronounced by competent opinion to be the greatest utterance of Mr. Gladstone's life, both in matter and in manner. The moment he took the floor the great and grand old man seemed to feel that the climax of his life had come. His voice dropped from him like a cloak. His voice was like a deep-toned bell, clear and clarion. Not for a moment did it fail him during the hour that he held the house under the absolute spell of his eloquence. Not a single oratorical arrow was absent from his quiver, and he used them all. Wit, satire, invective, logic, pleading, scorn and denunciation followed each other in overwhelming succession. Mr. Gladstone in oratorical passion is magnificent and terrible. Last night he was vengeance incarnate. Words that were blows fell upon his enemies with a fury that made the great gladiator seem something more than a human antagonist. At the same time it was a scene and a speech which make it more evident than any previous event in his career that Mr. Gladstone at the present moment embodies greater power in personal leadership than any man of his time.

How Some Clergymen Talk.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson tells the following suggestive story, illustrative of the "moderation" theory in liquor-usage:—

"It was a species of a temperance meeting. Three excellent clergymen spoke. They harped on the elastic and indefinite word 'moderation,' condemning intemperance, but setting up Timothy as a model man morally and constitutionally, lauding and magnifying sobriety, but commending the temperate consumption of alcohol. When they had concluded, an elderly farmer rose and said:—

"I've heard that kind of talk for the last forty years, and can't see that people are a bit more sober now than when it commenced. It reminds me of what I once saw take place at a retreat for imbeciles. It is the custom there, after the patients have been in residence for a certain time, to put them to a kind of test to see whether they are fit to leave the asylum or not. They are taken to a trough full of water, with a pipe continually supplying it. They are given a ladle and told to empty it. Those who had not regained their senses keep ladling away, while the water flows in as fast as they ladle out; but them that isn't idiots stop the tap!"

The Last New Dance.

A young woman named May Robson has revolutionized the art of dancing by tacking on to her supple body a false leg, she thus toying the light fantastic with two legs of flesh and one of wood. It may be, and probably is, the commencement of a new era in dancing. The skirt dance was followed by the serpentine, and now the serpentine must take a back seat while the centipede dance is the craze. It will be no unusual thing in the very immediate future to see a young woman with six legs execute a pas de seal, while guessing contests will be in order to determine which are the feet and which the spurious limbs. If a couple of shapely limbs are enough to turn the average dude's head, how will a wild gyration of centipede-like parti colored hose affect his sappy cerebellum?—Philadelphia Music and Drama.

While searching in a blizzard on Friday for his missing daughter, Henry Graham, of Harri-on, Mich., perished almost within reach of his own door. The girl has not been found.

Mrs. Durham, a resident of Niagara Falls, N. Y., attempted to smuggle four milk pails, worth about a dollar, across the river. She was arrested by a Canadian officer and compelled to pay $55 in fines and duties.

It is stated that when the Irish home rule bill reaches the committee stage a large section of the Radicals will support a proposal to leave the counties of Londonderry, Antrim, Down and Armagh, in the province of Ulster, under Imperial rule.

Forty thousand little children in London go breakfastless to school. Delegates from the idle workmen have petitioned the school boards to give the children food for the body as well as for the mind. Porridge can be provided at a cost of only a cent for each person.

Flying foxes are distressing the agriculturists in some parts of Australia, and a local paper says that at the present rate of increase it is generally feared they will soon become almost as great a menace as the rabbit pest. A camp of foxes, about four miles from Erin, New South Wales, contains fully 100,000 of the pests, "and when disturbed they rise like a cloud, obscuring the sun."

In cases of contagious diseases the method at present in vogue in townships is for the physician to notify the township clerk, the clerk to notify the health officer, and the officer to post a placard on the house. In townships of extensive distances this entails much trouble and delay. Mr. Balfour has introduced a bill to simplify the matter by requiring the physicians in townships to placard the houses in which they are treating patients for contagious diseases.

"A ton of pure gold," said the man at the Assay Office, is worth $602,799.21, and a ton of silver will cost you only $37,704.84. If you had a million dollars in gold coins you could haul it in one good wagon load, for it wouldn't weigh two tons by something like 300 pounds, but if you had a million dollars in silver coin you would have to charter a couple of freight cars to transport it, for it would weigh nearly thirty tons. A cubic foot of pure gold weighs 1206 2/3 pounds, and the same quantity of silver weighs but 655 1/2 pounds.

The advice of an Oxford farmer given in England, as summed up in a letter to the Woodstock Sentinel Reviewer is:— "Canadian farmers must send only the best, and nothing but the best, to the Old Country markets. If they are shipping apples they must send the best of them, packed in the best possible way; if they send cows they must be good ones; if stockers they should be well fed. Of horses nothing but the best will sell at a profit; and so on through the whole list." This is the gospel of our export trade; and it is well that the farmers of Ontario should be taught it by one of themselves.

Mrs. Burgess, the wife of a member of the Newfoundland Assembly, has performed a feat which her friends think entitles her to fame, second only to that of Mrs. Peary. She recently accompanied her husband to the scene of his legislative duties at St. John's, walking two hundred and thirty miles over snow and ice on snow-shoes. A good part of the journey was made over ice-covered bays and inlets. Once, while crossing an arm of the sea eleven miles wide, their boat became unmanageable and they were caught in the running ice and nearly carried out to sea. Several nights were passed without shelter, and sleep for the most time was impossible, owing to the intense cold.
