YORK STATE MIRACLE.

A Young Lady's Grateful Acknowledge ment of a Timely Rescue.

Miss Lillian Sparks Restored to Health and Strength After Medical Aid had Failed -Her Condition That of Thousands of Other Ladies Who May Take Hope From Her Story.

From the Hornellsville, N. Y., Times. Painted Post is the name of a pretty little village of one thousand inhabitants, situated on the line of the Erie Railroad, in Steuben county, two miles from Corning, N. Y. The name seems an odd one until one learns the circumstances from which it was derived. When the first settlers came here from Pennsylvania, all this beautiful valley was heavily wooded, and abounded in many kinds of game, and was a favorite hunting ground for the Indians who then claimed exclusive right to the territory. An object which attracted the attention of the first settlers and excited their curiosity, was a painted post which stood prominently in a small clearing skirted by great spreading trees. It was stained red, as some supposed with blood, and evidently commemorated some notable event in Indian life. And so from this incident the place naturally took | war of 1812 as justifying historically such its name. The city of Baton Rouge

(which means "painted post,") La., also took its name from a similar circumstance. But the main purpose for which your correspondent came here was to learn the particulars of a notable, indeed miraculous, cure of a young lady and her rescue from death by the efficacious use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Your correspondent only knew that the name of the young lady was Lillian Sparks, daughter of learned that he lived on the road to Hornby, five miles from Painted Post village. "And, said a young man who overheard the daughter who was so sick that the doctors gave her up and she was cured by Pink Pills." And the young man volunteered to guide me to Mr. Spark's home. The courteous young man was Mr. Willie Covert, a resident of the place, organist in the Methodist church, and formerly organist for the Young Men's Christian Association of Rochester. By the time I had taken the first box I was feeling better than I had been in a long time, and I continued their use until now as you can see, and as my father and mother know, and as I know I am perfectly well. I don't look the same person, and I can now enjoy myself with other young people. In-deed I can't say too much for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I am sure they saved my life. I have recommended them to others who are using them with much benefit, and I earnestly recommend them to any who may be sick, for I am sure there is no medicine like them. I am entirely willing you should make any proper use of this statement of my sickness and cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." In further conversation Miss Sparks said she fell away during her sickness so much that she only weighed 80 pounds, while now she weighs 107.

"I suppose," said her father, "that it was overwork that made her sick. You see we have 400 acres of land, keep 35 cows and there is a great deal to be done and Lillian was always a great worker and very ambitious until she overdid it and was taken down."

The facts narrated in the above statement were corroborated by a number of neighbors, who all express their astonishment at the great improvement Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have worked in Miss Sparks.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' Dance, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in Rev. A. A. Monstrous Cruisers Not as Effective as Smaller Ocean Craft.

Admiral Colomb writes to the London Times to protest against the admiralty policy which is disclosed in the intention to build two cruisers, the Powerful and the Terrible, each costing £700,000, and each being "superior in speed, coal capacity, defence and armament to any cruisers that exist, or are being built, in any part of the

Says the gallant admiral: From the days of the Armada downward we have made our naval position by the employment of numbers of moderate ships, and we have ever laughed during war at the spirit which built Santissima Trinidadas. Men sometimes now ignorantly quote the American projects as that before us. Roosevelt's book explodes the fallacy. r'rench War Office experts are divided in opinion concerning the value or danger of Eiffel's tower in case of a siege of Paris. German staff officers have written quite freely about the matter, principally holding that the tower would afford a fine target. Some French officers agree with this view; others say that the forts around the city would keep the tower out of range, while it would afford an excellent post for observation. From it the operations of an enemy could be observed for a radius of fortyfour miles.

King Alexander, of Servia, probably had some Russian advisers of back him when he cials. Alexander is not yet 17 years, but he says he is of age, and as Hamlet says: "Nothing is but thinking makes it so." The young King starts out with a new Ministry and intends to have a new Parliament as soon as elections can be held. As he had the support of the army and of the people and is very likely to be backed by Russia, he will probably be able to hold his throne, but it is thought that a reopening of the Eastern question may follow his assumption of power.
