A Nice Point of Law.

SHALL THE BARS CLOSE BY STANDARD OR SOLAR TIME.

LONDON, May 27.—The Police Magistrate yesterday heard the case of Chas. W. Davis, proprietor of the Tecumseh House, who was charged with selling liquor during prohibited hours on the night of May 18.

Mr. Robert Henderson, license Inspector, swore that at 10.24 o'clock on the night in question he entered the Tecumseh House bar and found several men there drinking liquor.

Mr. McKillop, for the prosecution, contended that all places of business and all courts of justice opened and closed by standard time. The licensed hotel keepers had never in any former years endeavored to use solar time, and not until 18 days after the new regulations came into force did they attempt to do so.

Mr. Gibbons, who conducted the defence, said that standard time was 25 minutes faster than solar time. If the former was to govern the defendant was guilty; if the latter, then there could be no conviction. He cited an instance where a petition was filed in the South Bruce election case after the hour for closing, 3 o'clock. Mr. Justice McLellan decided that the petition was not too late, as it had been filed before 3 o'clock by solar time. Eight or nine years ago the railways adopted standard time without any authorization, and no legislation had made standard time legal. Therefore, as yet, solar time was the only legal time.

The magistrate hardly understood the significance of standard time until it was explained that the meridian passing through Prescott governed the standard time here, but that the solar time here was 25 minutes slower than the standard time at either place. He admitted that although the solar time should govern, the license commissioners evidently meant standard time.

Mr. Gibbons said that the regulations must be applied to mean legal time. He quoted another decision by Chief Baron Pollock, who decided that, no matter what the standard time was, legal time must be used in deciding questions of law.

Mr. McKillop then urged that Mr. Gibbons used standard time in attending courts.

The Magistrate: Yes, you came here this morning by 10 o'clock, standard time.

Mr. Gibbons: That was simply out of respect for your worship.
 Judgment was reserved until Monday.

The European Situation.

"Jacques St. Cere" cables from Paris to The Herald:—The European situation continues to be dominated by German politics, and the efforts made by the Emperor and the empire show how grave the conditions are. Many other indications increase this impression, especially in Catholic diplomacy. The different nuncios of the pope are all restless, as if some hint of restlessness came from Rome. The nuncios relate that the Emperor William told the pope that he was determined to make war, as France was a danger to European monarchies. It does not accept the situation brought about by the events of 1870. Therefore war is inevitable. Consequently it would be better to make war now in order to seek to diminish as rapidly as possible the burdens weighing upon the people. The pope in relating the interview is said to have remarked:—"I pleaded with him, I wept with him, I have not convinced him." One proof to the truth of these reports is that since the interview with the emperor the pope has a mass said daily to turn away threatening evils. With such symptoms it can easily be understood that the tone of international politics is not rose-colored. Another political factor is the ever-increasing friction between France and England. Every question between the two countries takes a bitter aspect, especially in colonial affairs, in Madagascar and Siam, where France has a great deal to bother her just now, since it has been proved that the natives receive ammunition and arms through the intermediary of England. As to internal affairs, France is making ready for the elections. All the reports coming from the province show that the Panama scandals have produced no effect upon the public mind.

Cyclones did great damage in the western states on Friday and Saturday.
