

A Story of a Lost Diamond Ring.

"It is queer how lost valuables are sometimes recovered, and the story I tell you was related to me by George T. Dawson, who breathed much easier after he had secured possession of his diamond ring," said Tom Larrimore recently. "Dawson was courting a pretty country girl, and on Sundays would drive out to her father's farm in a buggy and take her out riding. He was the proud possessor of a $300 diamond ring, which he transferred to his girl's finger one Sunday morning as they started to a country church to attend meeting. The ring was too large for her finger, and somewhere on the road it slipped off and was lost. Paterfamilias with other members of the family followed with a 2-horse wagon, and all gave up the trip to church and joined in the search for the diamond, but the gem could not be found. It was springtime, and the roads were very soft, which allowed the wagon wheels to become covered with the loamy soil. After dinner the boys were strolling about the yard, and one of them stopped at the wagon. Taking out his pocketknife, he began cutting the mud on the wagon, when off dropped a lump of dirt, displaying the diamond ring sticking in its centre. The ring had fallen in the wagon track and had been carried at least three miles encased in the lump of mud which had adhered to the wheel.—St. Louis Republic.

Sawdust Explosion.

A sawdust explosion is a rather common occurrence in the Ottawa river, says the Ottawa Citizen, but in a stove is something almost unheard of. Nevertheless, one took place on Wednesday in a stove in Mr. Esmond's grocery store, at the corner of Bank and Maria streets, which will not be forgotten in a hurry by the occupants of the establishment at the time. Mr. Esmond had received a consignment of bottled preserves, which were packed in sawdust. After taking the preserves out of the case, he went to burn the sawdust and threw a shovel full into the stove. He had no sooner done this than an explosion occurred. The pipes were demolished and a dumb stove attached to the pipes on the second flat of the building was destroyed. Mr. Esmond was thrown about eight feet from where he was standing at the time, from the force of the explosion. Whatever was mixed with the sawdust is not known, but the rest of the sawdust has been handed over to the government officials to be analyzed.

A Country Newspaper.

Willis B. Hawkins, in "Brains," thus describes the idyllic life of the country editor:—For seven years I had no use for money. My paper was published in a small town in Illinois. Everybody in town owned the paper, the paper owned everybody, and no one ever thought of settling an account on either side. If I went anywhere on the railroad I had a pass. If I wanted a suit of clothes or a ham I went into a store and got it. I don't know whether it was charged or not, and it didn't make much difference. Probably the dealer's advertising and subscription bill was enough to cover the cost; if not, no matter. The barber shaved on account, and on account the grocer sold potatoes. Into that Eden of delight came the serpent when our feeble imitator across the way got the telegraph plate-service away from us. His circulation doubled right away; ours, alas! didn't.

An Unexpected Turn.

Irate Parent (making preparations to chastise his unruly boy)—"So you tied a tin kettle to the dog's tail, did you? And stoned the neighbor's goat, and turned the garden hose on the minister when he was coming up the walk—huh! And you expected you wouldn't be found out, eh?"
 Penitent Son—"I told grandma."
 Irate Parent—"You told your grandma? And what did your grandma say?"
 Penitent Son (whimpering)—"She said I was a chip off the old block, and that my father was just like me when he was a boy."
 Irate Parent (growing very red)—"Huh! I tell you what, young man, you'll have to do better or I shall be obliged to whip you some of these days. Now, you can go back to your play."
New York Press.

It is going around that a farmer sold a calf to a butcher in Oshawa, the other day, for three dollars, placing the bills in the back pocket of his pants. On returning home he went to pump water for his stock. Being asked by his son if he got his cash, he replied yes. Pulling the bills out of his pocket he held them up for his son to see, when a yearling heifer, standing by, stretched out her neck, licked the bills out of his hand and went off on the double quick with the farmer after her, but it was too late. They went down, too rich a morsel to give up.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE TONIC

AND Stomach and Liver Cure
 The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nerve tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, '88.
 To the Great South American Medicine Co.:—
 DEAR GENTS:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful power to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic
 Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unerring remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the one and only one great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIS E. HALL, of Waynesville, Ind., says:
 "I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

Mrs. ELLA A. BRATTON, of New Ross, Indiana, says:
 "I cannot express how much I owe to the Nervine Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the grandest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

No remedy compares with SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of falling health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.
