Mr. Hugh Brownlee Tells How He Was Cured of Sciatica After Much Suffering -Miss Delia Main Suffered From Trouble Incadent to Girlhood-Her Case Critical-How She Found Release.

From the Kemptville Advance.

One of the best known men in the county of Grenville and the adjacent county of Carleton, is Mr. Hugh Brownlee, of Kemptville. Mr. Brownlee was born in Carleton county in the year 1834, and until about five years ago resided in the township of North Gower. Having by industry and good business ability acquired a competence he determined to retire from the somewhat laborious life of a farmer, and taking up his abode in a beautiful home in the village of Kemptville, has since continued to reside here. It is well known to Mr. Brownlee's friends and acquaintances that he has suffered for years from Sciatica of a violent form, and it has lately been understood that he has at last been relieved from the pangs of this excruciating disease. Recently while in conversation with Mr. Brownlee, a reporter of the Advance asked him to give his experience for the benefit of other sufferers, which he gladly consented to do.

"You are aware," said Mr. Brownlee, "that most of my life has been spent upon a farm, and in addition to farming I followed the business of buying cattle, sheep and lambs. In doing so I was exposed to all sorts of weather and over exertion, which brought on severe attacks of sciatica. suffered for about ten years, trying all sorts of powerful remedies, but without doing me a particle of good. During the long period of suffering I was deprived of much sleep and many a night I tumbled about in bed nearly all night long suffering the most excruciating pains. In fact I was rapidly approaching the condition of a chronic cripple. I had tried so many remedies that I was becoming discouraged, and almost despaired of obtaining relief. While in this condition I was induced to try Dr. Williams' 'Pink Pills. I took the pills for some time without any noticeable results, but feeling as if they were a last resort I continued their use. Then came a slight change for the better, and every day added to my steady improvement, until now after the use of about eighteen boxes I am nearly as well as ever I was, being almost entirely free from pain. I am still using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and feel confident that my cure will be permanent. You may be sure that splendid and nearly starving, and kings I am grateful for what Pink Pills have done | were magnificent who could have underfor me and I am only too glad to bear stood the position and felt the pride of the testimony to their merit. A YOUNG LADY'S EXPERIENCE.

Having heard that Miss Delia Main, a young lady who lives with her parents not far from Mr. Brownlee's residence, had also been greatly benefited by the use of Pink Pills, the reporter next called upon her. Miss Main is a handsome young lady, eighteen years of age, with the glow of health in her cheeks. In reply to enquiries, Miss Main said that some two years ago she began to be affected with weakness peculiar to many young girls. Her face was pale, she was troubled with heart palpitation, and the least exertion left a feeling of great tiredness. She had good medical treatment but without getting relief, and at last her condition became so bad that her parents and friends feared she was, going into a decline and almost despaired of her recovery. At this juncture Miss Main was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are an unfailing specific in cases of this kind. Having lost all confidence in medicine, Miss Main took Pink Pills irregularly at first, but finding that they were helping her she began to take them regularly according to directions. From this time out improvement in her case was steady and rapid, and after the use of a dozen boxes she found her health fully restored. "I believe," said Miss Main, "that if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would not be alive to-day, and I strongly recommend them to all girls who find themselves in a condition similar to what mine was." Miss Main's mother was present and fully endorsed what her daughter said, adding that she believed Pink Pills had saved her life.

Mr. Angus Buchanan, druggist, who is also reeve of the village, was asked if many Pink Pills are sold. His reply was that they had a larger sale than any medicine, and still the demand steadily increases, which is the best evidence that Pink Pills are a great remedy, and there can be no question of the great good they accomplish.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, restore the glow of health to pale and sallow complexions, and relieve the tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such a scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over-work or excesses of whatever nature.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes covered with the firm's wrapper | ranks, and thus outflanking the Spartan and trade mark, (never in loose form by the line.

dozen or hundred and the public are caution ed against numerous imitations sold in this share) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or t direct by mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

than was expected. When going out to shoot wild ducks at Slipperfield loch Mr. Oswald was accidentally shot by his servant, who was walking behind him with his gun, and he thus died while still a young man in 1726. His widow, a daughter of Russell at Kingseat, followed out his wishes by placing the table over his grave. Subjoined is a translation of the epitaph, including the additions made to it by the bereaved wi'e:

COST OF BEING A PRINCE.

Kings and Other Royal Travellers Being

Scarce, They Pay Nigh for Everything. There have been times when a court was away, probably forever. The prince of to-Mrs. Erownlee was present and said that day who is to be magnificent at all, who is pay away money at every turn and always of course, there is such a thing, and it is worth perhaps 30 per cent. of additional income. But no extent of good management will reduce the cost of any kind of magnificence, and do away with the feeling of the innkeeper who charged a royal guest a franc apiece for eggs, not because eggs were scarce, but because kings were. We have heard of charges paid by an Indian vicerov at a Paris hotel which would have made Mr. Vanderbilt wince, and there is not an uneducated man in any land who, if a prince disputes his charges, does not become thenceforward a republican. Nor, within limits, is this feeling altogether unreasonable, for the demands of princes, which are usually only demands for freedom, upset the usual routine, just as the queen's train though her majesty asks only a little extra security and some privacy, upsets the routine traffic on the great railway by which she travels. Moreover, though extravagance is a vice, economy is often a foible, and one rather sympathizes of Other Medicines Failed with the hint given by the noble who assisted Louis Philippe in his search after a lost so vereign by lighting a bank note. State in fact, in our day costs money, and it is as ex pensive to be a prince, if you live as a prince, as to be a spendthrift heir.

Saltan Fryint. Sultan Faysul, Imam of Muscat, is a very young man, not much over twenty. We caught him the first English travellers who had visited the first English travellers who had visited so much better, got two bottles more; took them during the summer, was able to do my peeping at us over the balcony as we passed through the courtyard below, and he was at the top of a ladder, up which we had to clamber to the gallery, ready to welcome us. He seized our hands and shook them warmly, and then led us with much effusion to his khawah, a long room just over the sea, which is his reception and throne room. Here we found tall cane-bottomed chairs around the walls. And at one end a red chair, which is the throne, just beneath two grotesque pictures of our Queen and the Prince Consort, such as one would buy for a penny at a fair. They are looked upon as objects of great value here, and act as fitting symbols of our protectorate.

The Imam fed us with sweets and coffee, LIAN BRIGGS, Publisher, Toronto. asked us innumerable questions, and seemed full of boyish fun. Certainly, with his turban and blue-and-red checked cotton, which would have been a housemaid's duster at fastened round his slender waist with a red girdle, he looked anything but a King. As we were preparing to depart, the young monarch grew apparently very uneasy and shouted something to his attendant impatiently, and when he came in, Faysul hurhome, his faded greenish-yellow cloak, ried to him, seized four little gilt bottles of attar of roses, thrust two of them into each | F YOU WOULD SAVE TIME AND MONEY of our pockets, and the audience was at an end.

Praying by machinery is usual among the inhabitants of Central Asia. A large hollow cylinder like a drum is erected, and within it are enclosed the prayers that anyone may wish to offer, written out neatly. The cylinder is then made to revelve by wind or water power, and every time that it goes round the devotee imagines to be equivalent to a verbal repetition of all the prayers it contains.
