

Henry Swore.

AND SOME PEOPLE WILL THINK HE WAS JUSTIFIED TOO.

The Brownsmiths had not been married long. They live in a suburban town in the Queen Ann house to which they were in the habit of inviting their friends from the city, apparently for the purpose of telling them how well the trains are arranged and that they intend to raise all their own vegetables next year. Mr. Brownsmith is also in the habit of telling his intimate friends just what he would do in case he should discover a burglar on his premises, and his wife had been known timidly to express the hope that Henry would confine himself in such a case to inflicting merely moderate injuries upon the would-be marauder.

The other night she was aroused by sounds proceeding from the lower part of the house. The long expected burglars had arrived! Her husband was sleeping the sleep of the suburbanite by her side, and she shook him, whispering tragically in his ear, "Henry, Henry, I hear some one moving about down stairs!"

"Um—hm!" "Henry, Henry, wake up. We will be murdered in our beds!"

The response was a murmur in which the only articulate words were, "the cat." "No, it isn't the cat. Oh, why did I ever leave my comfortable home, where there were burglar alarms at every window, and come out here to be murdered in my bed?"

To which Mr. Brownsmith, nettled and wide awake, made reply in sarcastic tones: "But, my dear, you are not murdered yet. When you are, it will be time to complain."

"This is no time for joking, Henry Brownsmith," retorted his wife, "and I thought you intended to steal down and surprise any burglars who entered the house, overwhelm them and march them to the station house."

But Henry displayed a singular caution not in keeping with his words. "You see," he explained, "we don't know how many may be down there, and"

"But, oh, Henry, my new bonnet! I left it on the library table."

"Never mind, my dear," with a groan, the bill is with it. He may take that too. Besides you oughtn't to be so careless."

"Oh, Henry, how can you be so cruel? But why don't you go down and scare them off?"

"All in good time, my love. It is best to move cautiously in these cases. Besides—ah—my—life insurance policy has run out. I do not fear death myself, but the idea of leaving you penniless"

"Oh, Henry, how brave you are, but perhaps it is only the wind."

"No, I am sure that it is burglars, and I will go boldly down. But promise me that if I am killed you will not marry that abominable cousin of yours."

"Oh, Henry," weeping, "don't go, don't be so rash! Never mind about the bonnet. It wasn't so very becoming after all."

"Very true," with alacrity. "Besides, if I were killed you would have to wear a black one."

"Ye-es. Oh, why doesn't somebody come along? We could call for them to send the police. What time is it, Henry?"

At this Henry, glad of a diversion, began feeling under the pillow. Suddenly he sprang out on the floor, crying: "By George, it isn't there! I must have—I did leave it on the mantelpiece after I wound it up. I say, this is an outrage. That watch cost $200. I'll go down and"—Here he began a search for his clothes.

At this his wife began to weep wildly. "Oh, Henry, don't go; he'll kill you! Oh, there he is coming up stairs now!"

And, sure enough, a rather heavy footstep was heard coming up the stairs, and Mrs. Brownsmith rapidly got behind her husband.

"Who—who are you, and what do you want?" he called in rather shaky tones.

"It's me," replied a familiar and injured tone, "an' breakfast is ready, as ye told me. Th' train'll go in three-quarters of an hour."

"Oh, Henry," cried his wife, "I forgot all about it! You see, I wanted to go into town and do some shopping, and I thought I would take the 5 o'clock train, so I told the girl to have breakfast, and—oh, Henry, if you continue to use such language I shall certainly go home to mamma!"—Chicago Tribune.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of failing health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great nervine tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., AUG. 20, '88.
 DEAR GENTS:—I desire to say to you that I have suffered for many years with a very serious disease of the stomach and nerves. I tried every medicine I could hear of, but nothing done me any appreciable good until I was advised to try your Great South American Nervine Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and since using several bottles of it I must say that I am surprised at its wonderful powers to cure the stomach and general nervous system. If everyone knew the value of this remedy as I do you would not be able to supply the demand.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nervine Tonic Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unerring remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the stomach, because the experience and testimony of many go to prove that this is the ONE and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unmalignant disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nervine Tonic.

HARRIET E. HALL, of Waynesboro, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration, and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors, with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

Mrs. ELLA A. BRATTON, of New Ross, Indiana, says: "I cannot express how much I owe to the Nervine Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nervine Tonic, and continued its use for about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the greatest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

No remedy compares with SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE as a cure for the Nerves. No remedy compares with South American Nervine as a wondrous cure for the Stomach. No remedy will at all compare with South American Nervine as a cure for all forms of failing health. It never fails to cure Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It never fails to cure Chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasant to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.
