

or their clerks, but no shovelling or wrapping worth mentioning is done anywhere else, and this season they are about as bad as we ever saw them, in consequence of the great quantity of snow that has already fallen. A snow plough would cost but a trifle, and no doubt somebody who owns a horse would gladly take the contract of keeping the sidewalks in a passable condition for a small consideration.

RUNAWAY.—Last Wednesday evening a span of colts owned by Mr. Edwards were invited to a wedding, and, being left unattended for a moment after they were hitched up, it occurred to them that it would be a good idea to run away. Turning to the right when they left the stable yard, they ran as far as the railway crossing, where, instead of going on to Cameron lake, only a few yards ahead, they headed north up the track and galloped on until, just beyond Mr. J. A. Ellis's sawmill, they plunged into a cattle guard, where they remained quietly side by side until Mr. Edwards and his son, who were in hot pursuit, came up. When the animals, after considerable work, were got out of the pit, it was found that one was entirely uninjured, that the other had only received a few slight scratches, that the sleigh was not damaged in the least, and that no part of the harness except one or two small straps had got broken.

The Australian wheat crop for 1893 is estimated as follows:—Victoria, 12,500,000 bushels; New South Wales, 7,000,000 bushels, and South Australia, 11,250,000 bushels.

Itch on human beings and horses and all animals cured in thirty minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by W. R. Madill, druggist.

The wife of J. Owen Brewster, a young attorney of Louisville, Ky., died recently of heart disease, and C. Miller's Sons, undertakers, refused to take charge of the funeral services until a bill of $25 for the funeral of Brewster's father two years ago was paid. Other members of the Undertakers' Association would not take charge of the body until the debt was paid, and finally Brewster had the city undertaker take charge of it.

English Spavin Liniment removes all hard, soft or calloused lumps and blemishes from horses, blood spavin, curbs, splints, ringbone, sweeney, stifles, sprains, sore and swollen throat, coughs, etc. Save $30 by use of one bottle. Warranted the most wonderful blemish cure ever known. Sold by W. R. Madill, druggist.

Charles Prendergast, a youth of 11 years, was playing in a snow house near his residence, 116 St. Martin street, Montreal, when it collapsed, and he was buried in the snow. His companions ran away and left him. When he was dug out, after lying there for eight hours, he was nearly frozen, and, besides a broken leg, was injured internally. He was taken to the hospital, where he died next morning.

A unique character struck Kingston last Friday night, and worked a novel method of getting free drinks. He visited a dozen hotels, and at each represented himself to be Radeliffe, the executioner. He carried a coil of rope with which he said he had hanged Luckey. He offered a small portion of the rope for a drink, and found a good many who were willing to furnish him with the means to irrigate in return for a souvenir of Luckey's execution. He got drunk and then decamped. Needless to say, he was an impostor.

A plan for the distribution of electric power over a good portion of England is proposed by A. B. H. Thwate, says The Chicago Journal of Commerce. His idea is to burn the fuel at the mines, where it costs but little, and then transmit the power resulting from the combustion of the coal and gas by high pressure alternating currents of electricity. He proposes to use gas engines of not more than 500-horse power to generate the electricity. From one station he would supply the centres of industry of Lancashire and the area adjoining the ship canal; from a second those of Yorkshire; and from a third those of Midlands and London.

RELIEF IN SIX HOURS.—Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by the "New Great South American Kidney Cure." This new remedy is a great surprise and delight to physicians on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by W. R. Madill, druggist.

A horrible tragedy occurred in the little town of Burbank, S. D., twenty miles from Sioux City, Iowa, at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of December 19th. Anna and Sadie Hemple were employed in a millinery store at Vermillion. John Heacock lived at Vermillion. He had paid attention to one of the Hemple girls, but had been jilted by her. On the day mentioned he told the girls that their mother was sick at Burbank and offered to drive them across the country a distance of twelve miles. They accepted his invitation. When within a few rods of the town of Burbank he drew a revolver and killed both girls. He then walked over to the railroad track and shot himself through the brain.

A brutal double murder was committed near Port Credit, Ont., some time between Thursday, the 14th inst., when an aged couple named Williams were last seen alive, and Saturday afternoon, when they were found dead, the man sitting in an arm chair and his wife lying upon the pantry floor. They had been killed by repeated blows upon the head with a boot-heel or a potato. The crime was no doubt committed for money, as Williams was rich and kept a large sum in the house. Suspicion first fell upon the hired man, who disappeared, together with a horse and cutter, but he returned as soon as he heard of the murder, and the detectives are now after two men who are no doubt the real murderers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Grievance and its Remedy.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Sir,—As a commercial traveller who has been a monthly visitor to your pleasant village for nearly ten years, and one who hopes to do so for many years to come, and who is pretty well known here as a well-wisher in all that will tend to its prosperity, permit me to offer a suggestion respecting the neglected condition of the sidewalks. You are exceptionally situated as a summer resort. I trust that the near future will, with the completion of the swing bridge, fully establish the fact that you are entitled to rank as such second to none on the upper lakes. But when winter has to be reckoned with you—for the present, at any rate—are away behind. I mean that your sidewalks are simply disgraceful. Why should people have to plough through drifts all winter in the middle of the road. Simply on account of the laziness, selfishness or indifference—call it what you will—of property holders and property owners on the main streets, who are so disregardful of their consequent responsibility, as to allow a winter's accumulation of snow and ice to form, causing every one—including women and tender school children—to take to the road, with the possible danger to life or limb by a runaway horse or team and the probable result in the shape of a case of sickness incurred by wading through snowdrifts.

The remedy I suggest, and which should have been made a municipal by-law long ago, is, that each owner of property on the main streets should be held responsible for the clearance of snow, sleet or slush in front of his property within twelve hours after such has rendered the sidewalks in such a state as to be detrimental to public comfort, failing which, a fine, to be increased on every further occasion. Let the incoming council take this much needed reform up in earnest (and by the way, there is new blood to the fore who are prepared to make this, and other further necessary improvements, as planks in their platform) and I predict a stir for the better in "the Falls."

Yours truly,
W. L. HUNTER.

A Great Offer.

The GLOBE of Toronto is offering great inducements in connection with their weekly for 1894. To all subscribers who forward them one dollar by the end of December inst., they will send The Weekly Globe for 1894, and, in addition, present them with a copy of "Hints for the Million," published by Messrs. Rand, McNally & Co., the celebrated publishers of Chicago and New York.

This work is an invaluable book of reference and handy for the household, being a compendium of thousands of new and valuable recipes and suggestions on hygiene, medicine, business affairs, travelling, the workshop, laboratory, house, kitchen, garden, stable, etc. The regular selling price is 35c.; it is worth one dollar.

PRESS NOTICES.

Useful to an inquisitive and economical housekeeper.—New York Sun.

A book which will be found useful by everybody.—Boston Traveller.

A very useful thing for a handy person.—New Orleans Picayune.

The "Hints" are comprehensive enough, and the wonder is they aren't called a "Household Encyclopedia."—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

More useful information could not well be crowded in the same space.—San Francisco Bulletin.

No well regulated household should be without a copy of "Hints for the Million."—Spirit of the Times.

In a wonderfully compact form a vast amount of information.—Manchester Union.

The book will be forwarded free of postage. The offer is a most liberal one, and should secure a large increase in the circulation of that old established and excellent newspaper.
