The Suspected Murderer Caught.

William Walter McWhirrell, alias Maguire, who is accused of the atrocious murder of old James and Elizabeth Williams of the Middle road on Friday, December 15th, has at last been run to earth.

Inconceivable as it may appear, he was captured but twelve short miles from police headquarters, in a district where he was well known and where for days he mingled with his friends, and went about the duties of life as unconcerned as if two staffs of detectives in Toronto and every policeman in the country were not on the lookout for him.
It was in the dead of Tuesday night, and while he slept in the house of Henry Stableford, a Scarborough farmer, his former employer, that he was taken. He submitted quietly to the arrest, but stoutly protested his innocence of the awful crime which a tell-tale trail of circumstances has apparently laid at his door.

One word of caution should be added.
The detectives should not rest satisfied with the assumption that McWhirrell committed the double murder of the Middle road. There are some facts which render that hypothesis improbable. It is scarcely credible that a sane man would be concerning himself for three days in the sale of a horse and vehicle which he knew to be the proceeds of a murder about which the whole Province was talking and speculating.
Such recklessness is unnatural, and should suggest caution in rushing to the conclusion that the author of the murders is in the hands of the police. The task of the detectives is not yet finished.

The village of Dundalk has been put in for $2,500 damages through an uncovered drain.

Twenty one horses owned in Waterville, Me., have entered the 2:20 list this season.

It is said that Cornelius Vanderbilt has given a million dollars to religious work in the last two years.

Itch on human beings and horses and all animals cured in thirty minutes by Wool-ford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails.
Sold by W. R. Madill, druggist.

It is said that while T. C. Anthony of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was duck shooting recently, an eagle swooped down and carried off one of his duck decoys, sinker and all.

An authority is credited with saying that the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. burns over 12,000 tons of coal a day between Pittsburg and Jersey City for the making of steam only.

Miss Gertrude Mitchell of Liverpool, 18 years of age, has achieved the first place in all England and Wales in the examinations for the queen's scholarship.
Her triumph is gained over 4,750 competitors.

The Duke of Teck pays taxes on 60 or 80 dogs. Princesses and princes of the blood royal pay taxes on nothing, but Teck is only a foreign duke, though father of the future queen of Great Britain.

The fastest mechanism, artificial or natural, made to penetrate water for any considerable distance is, according to Jeremiah Head, Thonnyeroff's torpedo boat Ariete, which on trial made 30.16 miles per hour.

The net gate receipts of the Princeton-Yale football match were a little over $40,000, which was divided between the two teams. An American exchange sagely suggests that the bill for arnica, adhesive plaster, splints and surgical attendance will largely reduce the amount. And so it will continue to be until United States footballers learn that they cannot improve on English Rugby.

Mr. J. G. Buchanan, city editor of The Hamilton Times, received a curious set of Christmas presents from Mr.
Robert Bland of Raton, New Mexico.
The parcel contained a tarantula, a scorpion, a horned toad, a centipede and a centipede's nest. The tarantula and scorpion suffered from being crushed about in transit, but the rest of the interesting articles reached Mr. Buchanan in fairly good condition.

The Meaford Mirror.—Mr. Fred.
Baker brought home a span of trained dogs of the Mastiff and St. Bernard breeds, purchased from Mr. Charles Purvis, of Webbwood. The price paid for the dogs and outfit was $100. Mr.
Baker drove a distance of ten miles in forty minutes with them. He claims that they are more serviceable for travel than horses, being speedier and longer winded. Mr. Baker will use his team for making trips to points on the North Shore.
