

will be held at the residence of Mr. George Brooks, lot 31, con. 5, Verulam, (Bury's Green,) on the evening of Tuesday next, March 6th. A first-class programme will be provided, consisting of vocal and instrumental music and various games. Good accommodation for teams. Admission 15 cents to those without baskets. Everybody welcome.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.—Evangelist Hill is a powerful preacher, a very patient exhorter, and sings the gospel of God's love right to the hearts of his hearers. The meetings are well attended, and quiet, thoughtful and earnest work for eternity is the object, and not the making of sectarians. All are welcome. Next week may be Mr. Hill's last week. Let all come and welcome. The subject on Sabbath evening will be "The Story of My Conversion."

GOOD ROADS.—We direct the attention of our readers, especially farmers, to the report on page 8 of the deputation of the Victoria county council to the Good Roads convention held at Toronto in December last, and we hope it will be acted upon, as our leading roads are anything but what they ought to be. Good roads are costly, we know; but the money spent upon them is well invested and pays big interest in the saving of wear and tear of horses, vehicles and harness, to say nothing of comfort and convenience in travelling.

CURLING.—Two rinks of Lindsay curlers came to the Falls and played a friendly game with a local eight. After a close game of 16 ends the home team pulled out three shots up. The following were the players:

A COLD SNAP.—Last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were, if we are not mistaken, the coldest three consecutive days this winter, our own thermometer dropping to 32 degrees below zero, and one or two others in more exposed situations going a little lower. Tuesday was the coldest day, but it was calm, and not so hard on people out of doors as Monday, when a keen wind was blowing, making it necessary to be thoughtful of the condition of one's nose and ears. We have noticed for years that there is almost invariably an intensely cold snap at the end of February, which appears to be the "last dying kick" of winter, after which the weather gradually grows milder, as we hope it will do from this out.

MOODY'S REMARKABLE LIFE.—We have received a book of much importance at the present time from the Poole Publishing Company, Toronto, "The life of D. L. Moody." The book is attractive, and is well printed on good white paper. Thirty-three illustrations embellish its pages, covering the outstanding features in Mr. Moody's career, home life and religious experience. Its circulation will probably be very large, as Mr. Moody had a powerful influence in Canada, was known here quite as well as across the line, and his was a potent name in thousands of Christian households. The book is published at 25 cents in heavy paper cover, or 50 cents bound in cloth, is for sale at all bookstores, or will be sent postpaid by the publishers on receipt of price. Everybody will want to read the story of the life work of this remarkable man.

PARALYZED.—Last Tuesday forenoon Mr. Nathan Day, of Lakeview farm, Fenelon, sent a lad to the Falls, a distance of about four miles, with three-quarters of a cord of pine wood to be delivered at the chemical works. A great deal of snow having fallen, the chief object in sending the sleigh to town was to break the road, and the load was a mere nothing to the team of large handsome grade Percheron mares that drew it. While crossing the iron bridge over the falls, the driver noticed that the nigh mare was sick, but thought she would be able to go as far as the chemical works; in which he was mistaken, for she gave out entirely when opposite Mr. Lansfield's house on Bond street. Unbitching the team, the driver started with them for the Mansion House stable; but opposite Dr. Graham's, on Francis street, the sick animal fell and was unable to rise again, though she made several attempts to do so. A knot of persons—horse experts and others—soon gathered, and, after a consultation, the equine patient was put on to a sleigh, drawn to Mr. Aldous's stable and transferred to a box stall, where Dr. Mason is attending her. She is eight years old, three quarters Percheron and weighs about 1,600 pounds. Mr. Day says that he was offered $275 for her and her mate, which, being only half Percheron, is far the less valuable of the two. The sick mare is believed to be suffering from paralysis of the spine, to which, it seems, horses
