

Orioles.—This year Baltimore orioles, or golden robins, appear to be more numerous than usual at the Falls, and though the Watchman-Warder may not believe it, the wicked English sparrows are not making the slightest attempt to "drive them away." The male oriole is a beautiful bird, in color orange and black, and he has a clear, loud, fluted-like song, not unlike an English blackbird's, though the notes in it are differently arranged. Orioles subsist chiefly upon leaf-eating caterpillars and beetles, in pursuit of which they spend a good deal of their time in orchards, and occasionally eat a little fruit, no doubt causing "observers who do not observe" to advocate their extermination.

A COMPLAINT.—An old subscriber who was in the Gazette office last Monday complained that some of the residents are in the habit of setting their dogs upon cows, and even of pelting them with sticks or stones. That he told the truth we know from our own observation, and the best way to put a stop to it is to prosecute those who indulge in it. Cows have a legal right to be at large within the corporation between the hours of 6 a. m. and 8 p. m., and neither the useless dogs that swarm in the village nor their owners have any right to molest them. In some cases the dogs chase and occasionally bite the cows out of "pure cussedness," but in others they are encouraged to do so by their owners or by mischievous boys, who ought to be hauled up and fined for doing it.

SIDEWALKS.—From what we hear, very little money is to be expended on sidewalks, but there are some that must be repaired (unless they are replaced by new ones) and among them is the one on the north side of Francis street, from Mr. Golden's house, now occupied by Mr. Robert Thompson, all the way down to Clifton street. This sidewalk is in a shameful condition, as we pointed out last year, and it is one over which there is a great deal of traffic, and we are told that there are two or three in other parts of the village nearly or quite as dilapidated. At the very least, new sleepers will have to be put in, as the old ones are so rotten that they will not hold nails, and many of the planks are rotten too. A few days ago a girl put her foot through one of the holes in the Francis street sidewalk and fell in such a way that one of her arms was badly bruised.

A POPULAR RESORT.—On Saturday and Sunday last the interior of the iron kiln across the river was quite a popular resort, and a good many men and boys climbed up the scaffold erected by Mr. F. Northey (as recorded in last week's Gazette) and peeped over the edge, from which a splendid view of land and water was to be had. An amateur artist took his camera with him, but when he had got part of the way up it by some means slipped from his grasp and was smashed to pieces. Mr. J. H. Stanton, our professional photographer, made the ascent on Saturday and took four pictures, which will be finished, and exhibited in the window of his gallery by the end of the week. He says that it would take a good bit of money to tempt him to go up again, and that, while on some parts of the scaffolding, he was so nervous that he thinks the kiln must have trembled as well as himself. The work of taking down the kiln is in progress, but it will be a rather long job, owing to the frequent stoppages to temper and sharpen the chisels with which the rivets are cut.

ILLEGAL SPRAYING.—The Ontario Bee Keepers' Association has issued a small poster calling the attention of the public to the fact that a number of members of the association suffer from persons spraying fruit trees in full bloom, which is prohibited by an Act of Parliament assented to in 1892. It says: "(1) No person, in spraying or sprinkling fruit trees during the period within which such trees are in full bloom, shall use or cause to be used any mixture containing Paris Green or any other poisonous substance injurious to bees. (2) Any person contravening the provisions of this Act shall, on summary conviction thereof before a justice of the peace, be subject to a penalty of not less than $1 nor more than $5, with or without costs of prosecution; and in case of a fine or a fine and costs not being forthwith paid, the justice may commit the offender to the common goal for any term not exceeding thirty days, unless the fine and costs be sooner paid." The Act is in the interest of orchardists as well as of bee-keepers, as it has been proved that spraying trees, to be of any use, must be done before or after they are in bloom.

"WE ARE SEVEN."—That is what the Fenelon Falls agents for the sale of agricultural implements will be able to say when Mr. John Northey has finished the building he is putting up on Colborne street and got in his stock. There was, unless we are mistaken, always an agent for at least one farming implement factory in the Falls, but of those at present in the business Mr. Thomas Robson, who sells for Peter Hamilton, Peterborough, has been in it longer than any of the others; Mr. Hugh McDougall is agent for the McCormick Manufacturing Co., of Chicago; Mr. Peter Perdue, for the Sylvester Manufacturing Co. of Lindsay; Mr. G. A. McGee, for the Massey-Harris Co. of Toronto; Mr. Edward Johnson, for Ernst & Wood of Smith's Falls; Mr. Thomas Graham, for the Noxon Co. Ingersoll; and Mr. John Northey, for Deering Harvesting Co. of Chicago. With so many of them in the village, the farmers of the vicinity need not go elsewhere to make their purchases, especially as they have the comfortable assurance that the keen competition amongst the numerous manufacturers will keep prices down to the lowest figures that will afford a living profit.
