

SPRAYING MIXTURES.

Ingredients and How to Mix Some of the Most Useful.

Bordeaux Mixture.—Dissolve four pounds of copper sulphate in forty gallons of water, and add four pounds of fresh lime. Strain out the lime and test for proper strength with ferro-cyanide of potassium. If the lime is deficient, a few drops of the cyanide will turn brown in the Bordeaux, when add more lime till the cyanide, when dropped in, remains colorless.

Copper Sulphate Solution is made of one pound of copper sulphate dissolved in twenty-five gallons of water, and is for use only before foliage appears.

Paris Green.—For fruit, add four ounces to forty or fifty gallons of water, and for potatoes, add six to eight ounces to forty or fifty gallons of water. The Paris green may be added to the Bordeaux mixture the same as water, and thus apply the fungicide and insecticide together.

Hellebore.—Mix fresh white hellebore one ounce with three gallons of water.

Kerosene Emulsion.—Dissolve half a pound of hard soap in one gallon of boiling water; remove from the stove and add two gallons of coal oil, and churn until it becomes of a thick creamy consistency. Dilute with water, about twenty times its bulk, for use.

Lime and Sulphate.—It is desirable to dilute both the lime and sulphate before mixing, and especially important that the sulphate be poured into the lime, and not the lime into the sulphate.—F. A. Waugh.

Arsenite of Lime.—This insecticide is coming more into popular favor yearly, and is worthy of it. Arsenite of lime is at least one-half cheaper than Paris green, is equally efficient, and will not burn the tenderest foliage at the strength ordinarily applied. To make 800 gallons of spraying mixture: White arsenic, 2 pounds; sal. soda, 8 pounds; water, 2 gallons.

War of the Roses.

At last month's international rose exhibition held in London one flower created a furor. It appeared only about three years ago and was seen at this exhibition for the first time outside the United States.

It is named the "Alice Roosevelt," in honor of the President's daughter. It is pink and of large size. The color is so deep as to be almost a vermilion at the centre, shading to a softer tint at the edge of the petals.

Raise Food at Home.

We must raise more of our food at home and pay out less cash! That applies not to all but to many farmers. It has come to be a habit to patronize the butcher, grocer and baker until the good share of food on some farms is grown, baked or canned elsewhere. Cash is hard to earn at present prices of farm produce, and when we pay it out in this way we are forced to pay big profits to the handlers. We are sometimes told that it costs more in the end to grow food on the farm, but that is not always so, because the extra labor has no such cash value as the money we pay out of pocket. With many of us the time has come when we must reduce cash expenses as far as possible and utilize farm labor and, if possible, unsalable products in providing food to eat and sell. Some of us are trying to do special crop farming on farms that ought to be used for a great variety of crops.—Rural New Yorker.

Care of Grapevines.

Perhaps that grapevine has bothered you a good deal and given but few grapes. Give it a severe pruning. Cut out all last year's growth except three or four buds next the old wood. If you have allowed the vines to grow old in length, cut off freely of this old wood. Put up a good post to hold the old vine and what support is needed, either by frame or wire, for the growing wood. Then give a good mulch and cultivate during the summer. The main reason for early pruning is to prevent bleeding, as this weakens the vine when done in the flush of spring-time.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law), when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office and state the reasons for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.
3. Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.
4. If a subscriber orders his paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send, and the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post-office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.
5. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncollected for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.
