

BREAKING THE NEWS GENTLY.

"What do you want, little boy?"
"Is this where Mr. Upjohn lives, ma'am?"
"Yes."
"The Mr. Upjohn that runs the bank?"
"He is an officer in the bank."
"The Mr. Upjohn that went downtown on a trolley car this morning?"
"I presume he went on a trolley car. What is—"
"Is he the Mr. Upjohn that was in that horrible street car accident?"
"I haven't heard of his being in any street car accident."
"Didn't hear 'at he'd sprained his ankle jumpin' out of the car when the train run into it?"
"No, my little boy; you frighten me. What has—"
"Didn't hear how he run into a drug store for a piece of court-plaster to stick on a little cut he'd got over the eye?"
"Not at all. For mercy's sake—"
"He isn't in, is he, ma'am?"
"No; he's—"
"Name's John U. Upjohn, isn't it?"
"Yes; that's his name."
"Then he's the same man. He won't be here for an hour or two, I guess, 'cause he's stoppin' to have one of his teeth tightened that got knocked a little bit loose when he was jumpin' out of danger, y' know."
"Little boy, tell me the whole story. I think I can bear it now."
"Well, ma'am, he's in the hospittle with four ribs broke, an' one leg's in a sling, an' his nose is knocked kind of sideways, but he's gettin' along all right, an' he'll be out again in about a month, an' here's a letter f'm the doctor tellin' y' all about it, ma'am."

A THOUSAND THANKS.

JEAN BOIVUE IS VERY HEARTY IN HIS EXPRESSIONS OF GRATITUDE.

In Graceful Sentences He Pours Out His Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills, the Remedy Which Has Done So Much for Him.

St. Elzear, Que., May 26.—(Special)—It is a well known characteristic of our French Canadian people, that they are fearless and enthusiastic in their praise of anything or anybody that has benefited them.

No one is more capable of gracefully expressing gratitude than the average French gentleman.

A recent case illustrates this point. Mous. Jean Boivue has for many years been afflicted with a terrible malady of the Kidneys.

He suffered a very great deal of pain, and his disease forced him to rise every hour during the night.

He was advised to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking a short treatment, found himself completely cured.

His gratitude knew no bounds, and ever since he has recommended to all his friends the wonderful remedy which cured him so promptly and completely.

When he finds anyone who has no confidence in them, his first act is to give them some Pills, and explain to them how to use them, and he has found this method very successful. He has found this method very successful. He has found this method very successful.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are good. I know this because while at one time I suffered very severely from Kidney Disease, now I am well."

"Not long ago I used to have to get up several times during the night now I can sleep well all night without rising."

"You can believe me, I am glad to have regained my health, and I say thanks a thousand times to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

HIS MOTHER'S DARLING.

"My niece Mary was always a well-meaning girl, but she would say the wrong thing almost every time," said one old gentleman to another; "and she's got a boy that's going to be her very counterpart."

The old gentleman's eyes twinkled, and his plain, good-natured face was puckered with enjoyment as he drew from his pocket-book a small sheet of note paper.

"I sent Hal a toy monkey that plays all kinds of pranks when it's wound up," said he, chuckling. "Sent it to him for his birthday. Now you listen to this letter of thanks I got from him to-day. He's just eight years old."

"Dear Uncle Ned,—I am delited with the monkey, thank you. He makes me think of you very often. And whenever mamma winds him up and he begins to jump, mamma and I feel as if we were back at your house where all those toys are, and mamma will look at the monkey and say, 'That's your Uncle Ned all over.'"

"Good-bye from your greatfull Hal."

Indian English.

An intelligent sepoy one day came to a telegraph office in India and handed in a message to send to a station in central India. Having read the message, the operator said there was something wrong. "No, sahib; me knows English," he said. Again an attempt was made to explain to him that it was wrongly worded. "Me knows English," he declared haughtily and indignantly. "If you no send, me report Superintendent Mandalay." Thus threatened, the message was forwarded. "Come quick; father dangerously dead."

One Way to Cut Brass.

To cut short brass chemically the following method meets with great success: Make a strong solution of bichloride of mercury in alcohol. With a quill pen draw a line across the brass where it is to be cut. Let it dry on, and with the same pen draw over this line with nitric acid. The brass may then be broken across like glass cut with a diamond.

Pimples.

A great many persons are troubled with pimples on the face, which are unsightly at best, and especially annoying when they come, as they often do, on the nose. Of course they arise from some impurity of the blood and need constitutional treatment, but until this is obtained a safe and easy way of preventing them is to apply arnica to the skin. A simple never comes without warning. A few hours before there is always a slight inflammation or swelling, and if a drop of arnica be applied to the spot when the swelling begins half a dozen applications in the course of a day will drive the pimple back under the skin.

The Obedient Child.

There was once a little girl who found it very hard to wash her hands just before dinner. She meant to be clean for the table, but there was so many things to think of that it was impossible to remember. Her mother reproved her very severely one day, and she promised to do better. That day at dinner her mother asked the usual question, "Have you washed your hands, dear?"

"Yes," came the satisfied reply. Her mother looked smilingly down at the little one's hands, and then she uttered an exclamation, for there was no sign that soap or water had been used on them. "Why, your hands are black," she said. "Didn't you say you washed them?"

"Well, I just did, mamma, but I was afraid I'd forget, so I washed them right after breakfast."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Take one-half cupful lard to a pint of flour, rub well together (or better, cut it in the flour with a knife); take water sufficient to make a dough (not too stiff). Roll out and spread with butter; fold over evenly after sprinkling the butter slightly with flour. Then form it into a roll from the opposite direction and roll out and spread again with butter and flour; then roll over and over into a large roll, and cut from the ends. A very little of the stiffly-beaten white of an egg stirred into the water is an improvement.

THE CURIOUS UPS AND DOWNS OF THE WHEEL.

Almost in the Catalogue of "has-beens"—Now Popular Everywhere.

The varying mood of the public, influenced as it is by fads and fashions, is a curious study. In this regard there is no more interesting history than that of the bicycle. From its crude introduction until the pneumatic tire and cushion frame were established its progress was remarkable, and the climax was reached three years ago when whooping amounted to a positive craze. Then there were black days, but this year again finds it in universal favor. The truth is, there never will be anything to take the place of the bicycle as a convenience, especially in the country where one has not city accommodation for travel. The big revival is due to this and to the fact that a good bicycle is now within easy reach of any pocket book.

DEAN HALE'S WIT.

In his new volume, entitled "Now and Then," which the venerable Dean Hole of Rochester has just issued, there are many pleasurable anecdotes, a few old and many new. One of the most tickling, is that about a jury at an Irish assizes, most of whom when told by the Judge to go to their usual places forthwith walked into the dock.

Another anecdote, bearing on the temperance question, is as follows:—"John," said a clergyman to one of his parishioners, who had been in the habit of tarrying long at the wine, "John, I'm pleased to see you've got a nice new pig. I know you've been wanting to buy one for a long time. How did you manage it at last?" "Well, sir," said John, "I gup uv makin' a pig of myself!"

But the Dean's best tale is of a parson who was in the habit of offering up the following prayer for Queen Adelaide:—"O Lord, save thy servant, our sovereign lady, the Queen! Grant that as she grows an old woman she may become a new man; strengthen her with thy blessing, that she may live a pure virgin, bringing forth sons and daughters to the glory of God; and give her grace, that she may go forth before her people like a he-goat on the mountains."
