The Coronation.

The coronation of Edward VII as King of Great Britain and the colonies took place on Saturday last, and his Majesty stood the fatigue and excitement of the long ceremony remarkably well, though Queen Alexandra showed symptoms of weariness. God save the King and his good and beautiful wife. Long may they live to reign over us.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Episcopal church in this village came off on Wednesday afternoon, according to announcement, and the erection of the sacred edifice will now be proceeded with as rapidly as possible. The weather being delightful, there were numerous Church of England people from a distance in town, and as the stores were all closed for a couple of hours, quite a crowd of persons assembled on Bond street to witness the ceremony. In the absence of Bishop Sweatman, who is in England, the corner stone, which has the figures 1902 on its face, was laid with Masonic ceremonies—which we do not attempt to give in detail—by his Honor Judge Harding, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada A. F. and A. M., assisted by the officers of the Grand Lodge, and the glittering regalia of the assembled brethren formed a pretty and imposing spectacle. A gem jar containing what is called the "scroll," or record of the event, and one of each of the various Canadian coins, was placed in a cavity under the corner stone, and a copy of the Fenelon Falls Gazette, the Fenelon Falls Star, and, perhaps, one or two other papers, will be placed in a cavity in the top of the corner stone itself. Last week's Gazette was below the average, editorially, but we shall not be around when—perhaps hundreds of years hence—the buried copy will be exhumed. The Grand Master delivered an address "suitable to the occasion," and two addresses to the Grand Master and Masonic officers were read—one by the Rector of the parish, Rev. R. MacNamara, on behalf of himself and his congregation, and the other by Dr. Gould, on behalf of the reeve and members of the council. They were as follows:

RECTOR'S ADDRESS.

TO THE MOST WORSHIPFUL THE GRAND MASTER OF THE GRAND LODGE OF ANCIENT FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS IN CANADA, IN THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

Most Worshipful Sir:

It affords me the greatest pleasure on behalf of my congregation and myself to welcome you here to-day. I assure you we appreciate fully the favor which is being conferred upon us in having the corner stone of our new church laid with Masonic honors. We are also indebted to the officers of the Grand Lodge and other Masonic brethren for the kindly interest manifested by their presence in such goodly numbers. There is, I take it, an exquisite propriety in having this ceremony performed in this way. It is not only most agreeable to the members of St. James' Church, but it is, I believe, in keeping with the traditions and history of Masonry.

While, no doubt, the origin of Free Masonry is lost amid the unrevealed records of the dim and distant past, yet this, at least, is known, that it was originally a fraternity of practical builders. It is also agreed that much of its early work was of a distinctly religious character. In Phoenicia, whose capital cities were Tyre and Sidon, there existed a semi-religious society to which I believe modern Masonry is related, known as the "Dionysian Architects." Their founder had migrated to Europe from Egypt as early as 1500 B. C., and thence his followers went to Asia some 300 years later. The influence upon the ancient world of the wisdom and skill of the brotherhood was great. The raising of costly temples to the gods, the building of rich palaces in which dwelt the kings and nobles of the land, and the erection of walls and citadels to strengthen their cities were some of the works of this fraternity.

But the wisdom and skill of these early builders did not only find expression in structures erected for the comfort and ambition of heathen kings and peoples. It rose to a much higher plane. Josephus tells us that the temple at Jerusalem was built on the same plan, in the same style and by the same architects as the temples of Hercules and Astarte at Tyre. And this is confirmed by a far greater authority than Josephus—the authority of God's Word. We read that Hiram, king of Tyre, sent cunning workmen to aid King Solomon in the erection of the temple. True, Masonry is no longer an association of practical builders, but this does not lessen the importance of its work. It has laid aside its operative character and become a purely moral and benevolent association. And in its efforts to ennoble and educate, to purify and help mankind, it bears a strong resemblance to the Christian Church. It is the claim of Masonry that its members are craftsmen still, but the work they are now engaged in is for eternity. They are preparing and upbuilding "living stones" for "that spiritual building, that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." The day will come when "every man's work shall be tried of what sort it is." And as we stand in the light of His presence who is the great "Master Builder," we shall listen for no other voice and fear no other blame, for, gazing into the eternal future, we shall know, as Kipling has it, that

"Only the Master shall praise us,
And only the Master shall blame,
And no one shall work for money,
And no one shall work for fame;
But each with the joy of the working,
And each in his separate star
Shall work with the skill of a craftsman
For the God of things as they are."

I have pleasure, most worshipful sir, in presenting you with this trowel for your use in laying this corner stone, and also as a token of our esteem.

R. MACNAMARA,
Incumbent of St. James' Church,
Fenelon Falls.

CORPORATION ADDRESS.

TO THE MOST WORSHIPFUL MASTER, OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF THE GRAND LODGE OF A. F. AND A. M., G. R. C.

On behalf of the citizens of Fenelon Falls and the reeve and members of the council, I beg to extend a hearty welcome to you on this occasion of your visit to our village in connection with laying the corner stone of the new St. James' Episcopal Church.

Representing as you do the oldest and most widely disseminated Fraternal Society among the many now vying with each other in their efforts to ameliorate the condition of the unfortunate or distressed members of the human family, and having in your membership some of the most distinguished men of every civilized country, philanthropists and philosophers of every creed and party eminent in the distribution of public as well as private charity, we deem it a privilege to embrace this opportunity to offer this slight evidence of respect, and to express the hope that in the future, as in the past, your noble order may continue to aid in spreading blessings of consolation and substantial help in time of need.

Referring again to the reason of your presence with us, I suppose we may assume that our Episcopal friends, in choosing you on this auspicious occasion of the completing of the foundation of their new church by the laying of the corner stone, had in view the propriety of having this done by a Master Mason, rather than, as some do, entrust it to a novice, who might not handle the trowel gracefully and skilfully, as we may presume all good Masons can do.

The Masons present were, as far as we can learn, as follows:

M. W. Bro. J. E. Harding, D. M., Lindsay,
R. W. Bro. Walkey, D. G. M., Peterborough,
R. W. Bro. H. Rush, G. S. W., "
R. W. Bro. A. Gibson, G. J. W., "
R. W. Bro. Rev. W. Armitage, G. Chap., "
R. W. Bro. Dr. Shaw, G. Treas., Keene,
R. W. Bro. R. Munroe, G. Reg'r., Peterboro',
V. W. Bro. E. W. Harding, G. S. D., St. Mary's,
V. W. Bro. J. W. Watson, G. J. D., Minden,
V. W. Bro. Boucher, G. Supt. of Works,
Peterboro',
R. W. Bro. E. Fitzgerald, G. D. C.,
Fenelon Falls,
V. W. Bro. Rogers, G. Sword Bearer,
Peterboro',
V. W. Bro. Rev. W. Farcomb, G. Organist,
Newcastle,
V. W. Bro. Denniston, G. Pursuivant,
Peterboro',
W. Bro. McNeil, G. S. D., Keene,
" J. J. Lundy, G. S. D., Peterboro',
" D. J. Hartie, G. S. D., Minden,
" McMahon, G. S. D., Lindsay,
" D. R. Anderson, bearing ewer corn,
Lindsay,
" F. McDiarmid, bearing ewer wine,
Lindsay,
" Stocker, bearing ewer oil, "
" Dr. Wood, bearing Corinthian Column, Kirkfield,
" E. Mosgrove, bearing Ionic Column, Kirkfield,
" Dr. Graham, bearing Doric Column, Fenelon Falls.

The ladies of the congregation gave a first-class dinner and tea in the red stores, kindly loaned by Mrs. McArthur for the occasion, and the receipts, including contributions after the laying of the corner stone, amounted to nearly $200.

A Word to Girls.

The following is from the New York Outlook. Every girl and every mother of a girl should paste it up somewhere—on her looking-glass, for instance—where she is sure to see it frequently, and, having learned it by heart, should govern herself in accordance with its precepts:

"Every girl ought to understand that she is respected in the exact degree in which she is inaccessible to any kind of familiarities, and that it is impossible for a woman, if she wishes to secure not only confidence, but admiration, to hold herself too sacred; and it is the fundamental duty of every mother to protect her daughter by instilling into her an adequate idea of the relation between the essential dignity of womanhood and the conventions which protect that dignity in social life. If American society is to preserve in any way the qualities which the best Americans in every generation have instilled into their children, there must be a far deeper sense of responsibility on the part of heads of families than at present exists. There must be far less license permitted; there must be far more judicious and rational supervision."

Busy Kawartha.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: "The large influx of tourists to the Kawartha Lakes reminds us all of its growing popularity as a summer retreat. Each day the G. T. R. depot and T. V. N. wharves present a very busy scene. Tourists arrive daily bound for the many resorts on the lakes. Indications point strongly to a general increase in Tourist trade this season. A much improved boat service plies between Lakefield and Cobocook (70 miles.) A double daily service is given, which enables Torontonians and others arriving at Lindsay by G. T. R. Kawartha train to reach Bobcaygeon and other points on the lakes the same day, while close connection is made with all out-going trains at Lindsay. The natural beauty of the Kawartha Lakes is much admired by those who are visiting us this year for the first time. Undoubtedly the lakes possess more natural scenic grandeur than any other place in Ontario, and it is a source of more than satisfaction to know that recognition of that fact is becoming apparent."
