FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the East Victoria Farmers' and Women's Institutes will be held here on Friday next, the 28th inst. The farmers will meet at 1 p. m. sharp in Dickson's hall, and their wives' and daughters' meeting will open at 2 p. m. in Twomey's hall. The proceedings at each will be much the same as usual, and at the ladies' meeting an instructive address on "Contagious Diseases" will be delivered by Dr. Graham. The joint meeting will commence at 7:30 p. m. in Dickson's hall, and a fine programme of addresses and vocal and instrumental music has been prepared. Members of either Institute will be admitted free upon producing their tickets; others will be charged five cents.

Home Again.

Our village sports have all returned home from the happy hunting grounds, and this year the amount of venison they brought with them was rather below the average. Messrs. Whissile, Edwards and Robson, who formed a party by themselves, got four deer and a fine bear, coming two years old, which latter was shot by Mr. Whissile. There are people who delight in "fooling" a newspaper reporter, and if they can gammon him into publishing something that isn't true, their happiness is complete. The first yarn we heard about the bear was that it and George tackled each other, that he got the brute down and, while it was under him, managed to despatch it with his rifle. This was too much for even our credulity, so we made inquiries and finally got at the truth, which was, that the bear was discovered in its den, that Mr. Whissile stirred it up until it opened one eye, and then fired a shot that went through his victim's upper jaw and out at the top of its head. The fact is, the poor brute was murdered in bed, and died before it had time to discover that it was "a bear with a sore head." The skin was rather small but in good condition, and its new proprietor sold it for $12. The others from the Falls and its vicinity got less than a dozen deer amongst them, which was hardly one each all around. The biggest was shot by Mr. M. H. McCallum, who, per contra, lost all of his five hounds; but he has already heard where one of the lot is, and will probably recover the majority of them.

Village Council.

Fenelon Falls, Nov. 12th, 1902. Council met at call of reeve, all the members present except Mr. McGee. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Mr. McGee entered and took his seat. Moved by Mr. Austin, seconded by Mr. Sandford, That the solicitor be instructed to write Mr. John Pugsley, giving him until the 20th inst. to comply with the terms of the demand made upon him, and in default of compliance that action be taken to forfeit the lease.—Carried.

Personals.

Mr. J. J. Nevison took a business trip to Lindsay on Tuesday. Mr. Joseph Marrs, of Toronto, was at the Falls, visiting his relatives, from Friday last until Monday. Mrs. James Jewell left, last week, for a few days' visit to her daughter, Mrs. Detcher, at Peterborough.

Mr. Bert Townley left on Monday for a business trip to Kilmount, Minden and Haliburton, and returned on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. S. Perry, of Saginaw, Michigan, is at the Falls, accompanied by two children, visiting her sister, Mrs. F. H. Magee.

Mrs. T. H. DeCew and her daughter left on Monday for Sand Point, about six miles from Arnprior, Ont., where Mr. DeCew has been engaged for some time past building a stove factory.

Powles' Corner.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

This has been a very wet season, and everyone knows that rain will produce mud, and, as we are not blessed with sidewalks here at Powles' Corner, the caretaker of the church has been charged with neglect of duty, and he is also charged with depending on the public to support him and his family. One of the trustees of the church makes these ignorant and untruthful statements. There is no Christianity about any person who will make such statements. There is no person on the face of God's earth who can keep a church perfectly clean under the circumstances stated above. Two-thirds of those who attend the League every Wednesday night go more for curiosity than anything else, and they all have to step right out of the mud into the church. If those who are finding fault had come as near doing their duty as the caretaker has, the basement of the church would not be in the condition that it is. Children who have a natural color in their faces turn blue in cold weather, and parents who send small children to the S. S. have protested against the neglect. Money has been raised from time to time to complete the basement, and why is it not done?

Mr. M. Day and his brother David came home last Monday from the Northwest. They seem to like the country well, and will probably go back next spring. The boys say it is hard to get free grant land.

The wet weather still continues, and some farmers are almost idle, the ground being so wet that they cannot go on to it. The threshers find it very disagreeable moving, and sometimes get stuck in the mud.

Miss J. Bell, of Bury's Green, has been visiting her cousin, Miss Mary Fell, here.

The social last Wednesday night shoved the proceeds of the fowl supper away up to $96. The basement of the church will surely be overhauled and completed now.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Again.

Ed. F. Davis has secured possession of Twomey's hall for Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th, in order to give the Fenelon Falls public an opportunity to see his spectacular and mammoth production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The dramatization of Mrs. Stowe's historical story has ever been a favorite with the women and children, and they always go to see the performance, no matter what the grade of excellence may be. The Davis Company is said to give the best production of the play seen in Fenelon Falls in a long time. The organization is headed by the famous sisters themselves. The characters of Uncle Tom, Eliza, Little Eva and Marks are ably presented, and the large corps of colored singers and dancers, bloodhounds, etc., give a realism to the performance. The scenic and mechanical effects are good, and the picturesque transformation scene forms a fitting close to the whole. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

MORE BOOTS AND SHOES.—See Mr. Nevison's advertisement on our eighth page. He has opened out a choice assortment of boots and shoes, which he says are as good as any in town and will be sold as cheap, and we have no reason to doubt his word.

THE CREAMERY.—Mr. Sandford has requested us to correct the statement, (given on good authority) in our issue of the 7th inst. to the effect that the new creamery would be closed from the end of December until about the first of April, as it is to be run continuously, as far as is now known. It is turning out from 300 to 400 pounds of butter every alternate day, the number of patrons is steadily increasing, and the present indications are that the creamery will be a decided success.

He was not to provide seats, as the first intention was to use those in the church on the hill; but new ones, which will cost $400, have been ordered from the Globe Furniture Company, of Waterdale, and they are to be here by the 30th inst. ACCIDENT.—Mr. Wilfred Jewell met with a painful though not serious accident, last Saturday, while he and Mr. Bidwell Burgess were cutting some wood at Mr. Philip Burgess', on May street. They were using a cross-cut saw, in the teeth of which a "slicer" got stuck, and, just as Mr. Jewell was in the act of removing it, his companion set the saw in motion, with the result that the thumb of Mr. Jewell's right hand was badly torn and the third finger slightly lacerated. He went to Dr. Graham, who dressed the injuries, which will keep him idle for a few days.

BAPTIST ANNIVERSARY.—The Fenelon Falls Baptist church anniversary was held on Sunday and Monday last, and it was in every way a success. Excellent sermons were preached, morning and evening, by Rev. L. S. Hughson, of Lindsay, and special music was rendered by the choir. The fowl supper on Monday evening in the vestry was partaken of by a large number of persons from town and country, and they were delighted with the number and variety of the good things provided. After supper the chair was taken by the Rev. B. Davies, pastor of the congregation, and addresses were delivered by Revs. Macnamara, Sinclair, Garbutt and Hughson. Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Lindsay, was present, and offered up the closing prayer. The cash proceeds of the anniversary amounted to $70.

An Explanation.

"C. R. Co." rubbers are rubber shoes MADE IN CANADA by the Canadian Rubber Co.

FINED.—Nine young fellows appeared before Col. Deacon in Twomey's hall on Tuesday afternoon, charged by Constable Brook with having, on the night of November 5th, too exuberantly manifested their Protestantism by letting off fireworks and doing other things forbidden by one of our village by-laws. Two of the accused, who pleaded guilty, had each to pay a fine which, with costs, amounted to $4, and the trial of the others was adjourned until Tuesday next. Of course Mr. Brock is blamed by a good many people, who think that he ought not to have prosecuted the boys for having a little fun on the Guy
