A New Confederation.

In a lecture delivered before the Imperial Institute in London Dr. Jameson, Administrator of the Matabele and Mashonaland territories, stated a few facts which show the tremendous changes that have taken place there since the power of Lobengula was broken a year ago. In Bulawayo, the capital of the late king, 100 brick houses had been built before the end of last August; there was a population of 1,900 whites in the town; in the adjoining gold fields 2,000 prospectors were at work, and six hundred of the fierce native warriors who had escaped the disastrous fire of the Maxim guns were peacefully at work making brick for the houses of their conquerors.

But, great as are the changes already affected, they are nothing to those promised for the future. These recently acquired territories are, Dr. Jameson says, almost as large as Europe; the climate is suitable to Europeans; they are rich in minerals, including iron and coal; wheat, corn and vegetables can be grown in abundance; for grazing they are unsurpassed; and, to cap all, Dr. Jameson promises that there will be direct railway communication from Cape Colony to Bulawayo in three years. British South Africa promises ere long to equal in importance the Canadian Confederation and the Confederation about to be formed in Australasia.—News.

A Thin Dodge.

According to the Mail, the remedial order is not an interference with Manitoba, but the foundations of a precedent which will justify the federal power in interfering, should the majority in Quebec ever encroach upon the constitutional rights of the minority in that province. It is wonderful how well Sir Mackenzie Bowell has disguised this beneficent design of building a bulwark around Protestantism. It will be observed that Sir Mackenzie is extremely busy defending Protestantism at some point where Protestantism is not in the slightest danger. There is no reason to apprehend further danger to the minority in Quebec. With the assent of that minority to the Jesuits Estates' Act, all Canada, outside of Quebec, recorded a vow to interest itself no more in the internal affairs of that province. Manitoba is not to be wronged now in order to establish a precedent that will protect a minority in Quebec against wrong in the future. The minority in Quebec will have to learn to do just what the minority in Manitoba should do—look to the majority at home for redress, and cease to raid the arena of federal politics in search of help against the oppressor.—Telegram.

Chinese Monstrosities.

The Chinese have queer ideas about monstrosities and their right to dispose of such freaks. A woman at Woo-Foo, province of Lukion, recently gave birth to a child having four perfect eyes. The family were very greatly exercised over the matter and tried to get the priest to kill the monster. This he refused to do, telling them that the best way to guard against the recurrence of such a calamity was to exhibit it in a cage on the streets for a few days. The priest stated the length of time that would be necessary to make a public show of the monster in order to propitiate the evil spirit that was responsible for the freak, and when the time was up the mother coolly drowned her four-eyed offspring in a tub of water.

She Had a Presentiment.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 6.—Joseph J. Willis, head engineer of the Louisville Veneer Mills Company at Campbell and Fulton streets, met death on Thursday in a terrible manner. While oiling the machinery he was caught by a flywheel, which makes about 200 revolutions in a minute, and was dashed against the wall and ceiling of a room, crushing him to death instantly. A peculiar fact in connection with his death is that Mrs. Willis had told her husband in the morning before he had gone to work that she had had a presentiment that something would happen to him. He laughed it off, and went to work, whilst at which he met his death.

It is reported that China has accepted seven of the eight conditions of peace and this week will see the war ended.
