Of the thousands of persons who gained rewards in previous competitions, word is yet to be received from a dissatisfied competitor. Address: The LADIES' JOURNAL, 73 Adelaide St. W., Toronto, Canada.

HURLED TO THEIR DEATH

A STREET RAILWAY CATASTROPHE IN CLEVELAND.

A Motor Car Plunges Down an Open Draw—All the Passengers Killed—Fell Into a River—The Driver Mistook the Signal.

A despatch from Cleveland, Ohio, says:—A heavy electric motor car, containing between 20 and 30 passengers, went through the draw of the Central Viaduct at 7.45 o'clock on Saturday evening, and dropped 101 feet to the river below. Every passenger in the car was killed. The Central Viaduct is a huge stilt bridge, 3,000 feet long, made of iron. It connects the Heights and the prosperous residence section on the South side with the business centre of the city. Directly over the river is a drawbridge of the pivot swinging pattern, and this is 101 feet above the surface of the water. The South Side Street railway passes over the bridge. On either side of the draw there is a safety switch, which, unless the conductor alights and holds up a hand, will send a car into the gutter, instead of allowing it to go on the draw.

The first reports from the scene of the disaster seem to place the blame on the conductor. They were to the effect that the ill-fated motor car, containing between 20 and 30 people, approached the draw just as a vessel was nearing it, and the bridge attendants had closed the big iron gates and were preparing to swing the draw. As is the rule, the car stopped, and the conductor went forward to release the switch in case the way was clear. He must have been blinded by the electric light, for an eye-witness declares that although the gates were closed, and the draw was already in motion, the conductor raised the switch handle. The motorman applied the current, and the car shot forward and struck the gates with a crash. There was only a moment's pause, and then the heavy car ground its way through the wreckage and plunged over the brink into the black abyss, amid the screams and frantic struggles of the passengers, who at first intimation of danger rushed to the rear door. The car struck the water with a great splash, and then there was silence. Soon men began to rush shouting about, and police patrol wagons and ambulances were soon flying to the spot in response to telephone calls. In an incredibly short space of time the work of rescue had begun. As the car went over the brink of the abyss the motorman jumped from the vestibule front. All the other occupants of the car, with the exception of the few who had managed to jump as it tumbled over, went down to certain death. The car disappeared from sight as soon as it struck the water, and everyone of the passengers was drowned.

The number of victims of the terrible accident on the big Central Viaduct is placed at fifteen. All the dead whose bodies have been recovered have been identified, but four persons who are supposed to have been in the ill-fated car as it made the awful plunge are still missing, and there seems to be no doubt that their bodies will be taken from the bottom of the river when the heavy iron trucks of the wrecked motor are raised.

A P. E. Island Lady Restored to Health.

Attacked With a Hacking Cough, Loss of Appetite and General Feeling of Lassitude—Pink Pills Restored Her Health After Doctors Failed.

From the Charlotte Town Patriot. Times without number have we read of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but generally the testimonials telling the tale had laid the scene in some of the other provinces. This time, however, the matter is brought directly home, and the testimony comes from a much respected and Christian woman. Mrs. Sarah Strickland, now residing in the suburbs of Charlotte town, has been married many years, and blessed with a large family and although never enjoying a robust constitution had, until a year ago, been in comparatively good health. About that time she began to feel "run down," her blood became thin and a general feeling of lassitude took possession of both her mind and body. Her family and friends viewed with alarm the gradual development of her illness, and when a cough—at first inconstant, but afterwards almost constant, especially at night,—set in, doctors were summoned and everything that loving, tender care and medical skill could do was resorted to in order to save the affec-

Joking their Mother on Her Appetite, tionate wife and mother, whose days appeared to be numbered. Her appetite was almost completely gone. Food was partaken of without relish, and Mrs. Strickland was unable to do even the ordinary, lighter work of the household. She became greatly emaciated and in order to partake of even the most dainty nourishment a stimulant had at first to be administered. While this gloom hung over the home and the mother sorrowfully thought of how soon she would have to say farewell to her young family, she was induced by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Though utterly discouraged, and almost disgusted with medicine she yielded more in a friendly way than in a hopeful spirit. After using the pills for a short time a gleam of hope, a wish to get well again took possession of her and the treatment was cheerfully continued. It was no false feeling but a genuine effort nature was making to reassert itself, and before many boxes were used the family were joking their mother on her appetite, her disappearing cough and the fright she had given them. The use of Pink Pills was continued for some time longer and now Mrs. Strickland's elastic step and general, excellent health, would lead you to imagine that you were gazing upon a different woman, not one who had been snatched from the very jaws of death. She was never in better health and spirits, and no matter what others say she is firm in her belief that Pink Pills saved her life and restored her to her wonted health and strength.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for all troubles resulting from poverty of the blood or shattered nerves, and where given a fair trial they never fail in cases like that above related. Sold by all dealers, or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Shenectady, N. Y. A Bad Wreck —of the constitution may follow in the track of a disordered system, due to impure blood or inactive liver. Don't run the risk! The proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery take all the chances. They make a straightforward offer to return your money if their remedy fails to benefit or cure in all disorders or affections due to impure blood or inactive liver. The germs of disease circulate through the blood; the liver is the filter which permits the germs to enter or not. The liver active, and the blood pure, and you escape disease.

When you're run down, debilitated, weak, and your weight below a healthy standard, you regain health, strength, and wholesome flesh, by using the "Discovery." It builds up the body faster than nauseating Cod liver oil or emulsions.

In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." B. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

My Baby

was a living skeleton; the doctor said he was dying of Marasmus and Indigestion. At 13 months he weighed only seven pounds. Nothing strengthened or fattened him. I began using Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites, feeding it to him and rubbing it into his body. He began to fatten and is now a beautiful dimpled boy. The Emulsion seemed to supply the one thing needful.
