

Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison, Sr., have been busily employed for some time in moving their household effects from Verulam to their new home in this village.

The sympathy of the community is with Mr. and Mrs. Kingsboro in their recent sad bereavement. The very sudden death of their eldest child was a shock to every one.

The tea meeting in connection with the True Blue lodge, held on the 6th inst., was a decided success.

Fell's Station.

(Correspondence of the Gazette.)

Fractional School No. 11 was favored by a legal, kind and efficient visit from our much respected trustee, Mr. McFarland. During his afternoon's stay Mr. McFarland took a deep interest in the different exercises, and concluded with a very appropriate address to the school, in which he expressed his surprise at the progress made by the pupils, and commended the thoroughness of the teacher. He also spoke of "the relations existing between teacher and pupil," and hoped that the time was not far distant when they would have every convenience in the way of appendages to the school house. It is to be hoped that others will follow his good example. Trustees and teachers should not stand and be satisfied to gaze at each other from opposite ends of the educational problem. It has been said that "distance lends enchantment to the view," but not in this case. Dr. Arnold at Rugby, whose long experience with youth gives weight to his opinion, declared that the difference between one boy and another consists not so much in talent as in energy. And if it is required that pupils should have energy, what about teachers and trustees? Should we not unite our energies? We should all (ratepayers, teachers and trustees) co-operate in leading out the young minds and see that all the faculties and propensities of the children, above all the conscience, the balance-wheel of the moral system, are trained into perfect accord with the principles of positive truth and absolute justice. How necessary, then, to our professional success, is that social nature which leads us to familiar acquaintance with the parents and friends of the school. Someone has said that we never know a man until we have known his mother, and some irreverent wag has added, "Yes and his mother-in-law." Sufficient data is therefore required before attempting to educate a child.

Following is the school report, which is according to standing at the examinations and reviews, representing about four of the highest percentage in each class:—Fourth Class—Lena Brandon, Omar Herron, Ada Patten, Anna Poulson. Third Class—Oliver Wilson, Albert Patten, Dolphus Levely, Lizzie Hughes. Sr. Second—Maria Stinson, Burritt Herron, Otta Poulson, Martha Stinson. Jr. Second—John Bulmer, John Hughes, Ellen Wood, Fred. Levely. First—Willie Wilson, Mabel and Sarah McFarland, Martha and Arthur Tipling.

The temperance talk was a success, so far as attendance at least was concerned, and must be productive of superior fruit, if the kind monitions and good advice given by the teacher be only carried out. He clearly proved that the leaving off of a bad habit for a good one was making progress in the world. If we imbue immortal minds with high principles and right principles, with a fear and dread of offending God and our fellow-men, and teach them that temperance consists in the moderate use of good things and total abstinence from bad things, we engrave on memory's wall something which time cannot efface, but which will brighten to all eternity.

HURRY UP.—Farmers who wish to pay for the Gazette with wood had better hurry up, as the sun is getting stronger every day, and the sleighing may begin to go at any moment.

DENTAL.—Dr. Neelands, dentist, of Lindsay, will be at the McArthur House, Fenelon Falls, on Monday, March 16th, on the arrival of the train from Lindsay, and will remain Tuesday. He will have a complete gas (vitalized air) apparatus for extracting teeth. Call early and secure an appointment.

OPTICAL.—Mr. I. Whitesmith, optician, of Maquilla, will be at Mrs. Hamilton's store, Fenelon Falls, on the third Friday in March (the 20th), and the third Monday in each month afterwards until further notice is given. No charge for testing sight. A specialty made of bringing back prematurely weak sight and of fitting young people's glasses. —32.

PERSONALS.—Mr. Ernest Smith, who has been foreman all winter in a lumber shanty near Wahnapiatae, on the north shore of the Georgian Bay, came home to the Falls last Monday for a brief visit to his mother and other relatives.

...Mrs. L. B. Quigg left on Saturday last for Uxbridge, to take a last farewell of her brother, Mr. Wellington Bolster, who died the following day.... The Misses Jennie, Manie and Addie Swanton were at the Falls on Tuesday attending the funeral of their father, Mr. Samuel Swanton.... Mr. R. M. Butler of Toronto was at the Falls from Wednesday afternoon until this morning.

LEAP YEAR CARNIVAL.—A leap year carnival will be held at the rink here on the evening of Tuesday next, the 17th inst. There will be liberal prizes given for a two-mile race, a potato race and a tug of war. There will also be a spectator's prize. Dusty, of Uxbridge, and McLean, of Orillia, are expected to skate a matched race at 9 o'clock. Band in attendance. Admission 15c.; ticket holders 10c. Rink open at 7.30; sports commence at 8.

A LITTLE BETTER.—Great anxiety has been suffered for several days past by the relatives and friends of Mr. John Jordan, who has been lying in a critical condition at his residence on Colborne street from an attack of double pneumonia, or inflammation of both lungs. The first symptoms of which he noticed on the 24th ult. He was at the worst last Tuesday evening, and Dr. Wilson said that if he lived through the night he would have stronger hopes of his recovery. This (Thursday) afternoon he is not only alive but so much better than he was two days ago that the probability of his restoration to health is greatly strengthened, although he is yet far from out of danger.

An ex-National School teacher named Patrick Tobin died at Whitegate, near Middleton, County Cork, recently, at the very remarkable age of 110 years.

Adam Turner, an undertaker, recently stood as a Parliamentary candidate for North Belfast, Ireland. He offered to "bury free" every man who would vote for him.

Informers stand a slim chance in Georgia. Here is a unique paragraph from a rural newspaper: "Any person driving over this bridge faster than a walk shall, if a white man, be fined $5, and if a negro receive 25 lashes—half the penalty to be bestowed on the informer."

Ligonier, Ind., claims to have living there the largest and the smallest men in that State. George Washington Walker is 46 years old, weighs 560 pounds, and his weight is steadily increasing. He is five feet ten inches tall, measures seventy-six inches around the waist, sixty-eight inches around the chest, and his arm is a trifle more than two feet in circumference. During the hot weather he lives entirely in the cellar of his house. Jesse Allen, a neighbor of Walker, is 19 years old, has legs exactly a foot long, and he stands but three feet six inches high. He weighs seventy-five pounds.

Latest reports from Australia report that the intense heat there is causing untold damage. Crops are burning up, cattle are dying for want of food and water, and infants and old persons are succumbing by hundreds in the thickly populated sections. The hospitals are crowded, and in many sections fever epidemics prevail. Inland the extraordinary climatic conditions take the form of electric cyclones, destroying orchards and crops, killing cattle, blowing down buildings and fusing telegraph lines. Ice is selling by the ounce at fabulous prices, and frozen butter turns to liquid in its passage from the ice chest to the table.
