

RACED EIGHT THOUSAND MILES.

Two Sailing Vessels From London to Sydney and San Francisco.

One of the most exciting and closest ocean races ever engaged in was that between the British ships Arctic Stream and Cromdale, now in San Francisco. They left the starting point within five minutes of each other and, after battling against contrary winds for over 8,000 miles, there was only a difference of two hours between them at the finish.

Although a much smaller vessel the Arctic Stream held her own throughout, and on a tonnage allowance would have won hands down. Capt. Bowen is well satisfied with the showing made by his vessel and is of the opinion that if the race was run over it would be his vessel that would be two hours ahead at the end of the voyage.

The Cromdale and Arctic Stream left London on August 1 last. Down the channel the vessels scudded along under lower topsails and reefed foresail. As they disappeared from view there was not a hundred yards between them, and the tugboat captains remarked to each other that it was going to be a close race. Both vessels were bound for Sydney, N.S.W., and Capt. Andrew and Capt. Bowen sighted each other three times during the race. After getting clear of the channel they ran across each other again when fourteen days out. Then they lost sight of each other for a month and a half, and then on the third occasion when they were both making their easting from Tristan d'Aouha.

During the entire run of 8,463 miles the vessels were nearly all the time under two or three topsails and reefed foresail, yet, nevertheless, the average was 240 miles a day. The Cromdale and Arctic Stream both came to San Francisco from Sydney, N.S.W., the former with 3,111 tons of coal and the latter with 2,312 tons. On this occasion the Cromdale won easily, as she made the run in seventy-four days, while the Arctic Stream took eighty days to cover the distance. This was not a test of the sailing qualities of the two ships, however, as light and baffling winds prevailed nearly all the way from Australia to San Francisco. They are not likely to meet again for some time, as the Arctic Stream is going back to Sydney, N.S.W., with a load of wheat and the Cromdale remains in San Francisco.

THINK OF THESE THINGS.

It is good luck to pick up a pin only when you see one on getting out of bed.

Pick up all the pins one sees in the course of a day, else one will be cheated or lose a bit of money before nightfall.

It's good luck when the crackling sparks from a wood fire spring toward you.

When the palm of your hand itches rub it with the rough edge of a piece of money and you will soon receive money to rub that piece.

If you dream three times in succession of birds you will fall heir to a fortune within a year.

Something agreeable will occur in 12 hours if you happen, unconsciously, to put any garment on inside out. To reverse the garment changes the luck.

If you open a book upside down you will presently overhear something disagreeable of yourself.

Blue-eyed people are more lucky than dark-eyed ones.

Tell your secrets only to grey-eyed friends.

MAUD'S PRESENCE OF MIND.

Minnie—Did you hear of Maud Edith's wonderful presence of mind?

Mamie—Dear me, no. What was the occasion?

Why, when her wheel began to run away down hill she pulled back on the handle bars and screamed "whoa" as loud as she could.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures what all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario.

A DOUBLE RESCUE

Two Young Ladies Brought Back to Health and Strength.

One Was Threatened With Consumption Following an Attack of Pneumonia—The Other Was in an Advanced Stage of Anemia—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restore Health After Other Medicines Fail.

From the Truro, N.S., News.

Among the residents of Truro there are none better known or more highly esteemed than Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Turner. Mr. Turner is an elder in the Presbyterian church, and a man whose word is as good as his bond. In his family reside two young ladies, Miss Christie, an adopted daughter, and Miss Jessie Hall, a sister of Mrs. Turner. Both young ladies are known to have had trying illnesses, and were said to have been restored to health by a popular medicine, the name of which is a household word from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Judging that their story would be of popular interest, a reporter called upon them and asked for such information as they might choose to make public. Both young ladies were averse to publicity, but when it was pointed out that their experience might be helpful to some other sufferer gave a statement for publication. Miss Christie, whose case is perhaps the most remarkable, is given precedence. She said: "I am now 19 years of age and have never been very strong. On the 26th of July last I was attacked with pneumonia, brought on by a severe cold. I was confined to bed for almost eight weeks, when I was able to get up once more. During these weeks I was under treatment by our physician, and still continued taking his medicine. I did not appear to recover my strength, however, and on the 14th of Nov. was again forced to take to my bed, this time suffering from great weakness and nervous prostration. The doctors' medicine now seemed to do me no good, and I grew gradually worse. I became so low that it seemed hardly possible that I could live long. The doctor said that I was in consumption and that medicine was of no more use to me. At this time an article was published in the paper concerning the cure of a young lady in Toronto by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and Mr. Turner at once brought some. After I had used about six boxes I began to get gradually better, my strength began to return, my appetite improved, and I had sound refreshing sleep at night. I have now used fifteen boxes of Pink Pills and have no hesitation in saying that they have effected a wonderful cure in my case.

In the case of Miss Hall the Pink Pills have also accomplished marvels. She was attacked with dizziness, severe headaches and fainting spells, followed later by swelling of the feet and limbs, together with other symptoms of anemia. After having been treated by a physician for some time without noticeable improvement she decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. After using a few boxes of the pills there was a decided improvement in her condition, and with the continued use of the medicine full strength, health and activity returned, and Miss Hall is now feeling as well as ever she did in her life. Both Mr. and Mrs. Turner were present during the interview, and strongly endorsed what the young ladies said, and expressed their thanks for what Pink Pills had done for them.

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles will avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, which for the sake of the extra profit to himself, he may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail.

THE KILLED AT ABBA CARIMA.

An estimate of the losses sustained by the Italian troops in the disastrous battle of Abba Carima, in Abyssinia, has been made. There took part in the engagement five Italian generals, of whom two were killed Da Bormida and Arimondi, one was taken prisoner, Abbertone, and two returned to headquarters, Baratieri and Ellena. Two of the seven colonels engaged were killed, one was captured and four "retreated." Fifteen out of twenty-four commanders of battalions were killed. The total number of Italians who went into action was 9,500, of whom only 3,000 have returned, many of them wounded, while only 400 are prisoners. On the battlefield 5,600 Italians were left dead or wounded. With the 4,400 native troops similarly accounted for, the total loss in killed of the white and black regiments engaged in the battle reaches 10,000 men.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CASE OF INDIGESTION.

SUFFERS SO SEVERE PAINS THAT HE COULD NOT MOVE AT TIMES.

A CURE COMES THROUGH SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE.

Unequivocal Testimony of John Snell, of Wingham, Ont.

This is a case of confidence. Mr. Snell had been severely afflicted with kidney disease, and was cured of this trouble by South American Kidney Cure. He liked the name, and when indigestion took hold of the system in some of its worst forms he was naturally drawn to South American Nervine as a cure for the disease. He tried the medicine, and, though he had suffered intensely, it required only two bottles to entirely cure him. It is not possible in cold type to describe the terrible hold that this trouble had taken on Mr. Snell's system, for as a matter of fact the pains in the upper part of the stomach were at times so severe that the whole system became paralyzed. But there is an explanation for the surprising cures that Nervine effects. Its great discoverer got at the root of disease when he proved that healthfulness depends on the condition of the nerves centres. From these flow the life blood that create health. Nervine does not act the part of pain killer in the sense of temporarily removing disease at one part, but it strikes at the nerve centres, and gives life and health to them, and then, like a steam purified at the source, the whole system soon becomes purified.

A word spoken in season, at the right moment, is the mother of ages.—Carlyle.
