The New Regime.

Those who in the past have sneered at Orangeism as an organization of zealots controlled by an inner ring of office-seekers and place-men, can no longer cast reproach upon a body which has demonstrated itself to have principles to which the members intend to sternly adhere.

The Government has done everything that money and power could do to prevent the Grand Lodge expressing its opinions fully and clearly. The man supposed to be the most skilful and experienced manipulator and organizer in the Dominion has led the Government forces after having drummed up every civil servant and place-man who by hook or crook could gain admission to the Grand Lodge of this great Protestant Society. There is not the slightest doubt that their intention was to defeat Hon. N. C. Wallace, the Grand Master, and to prevent any resolutions being passed condemnatory of the Government and those members of the Order who in Parliament prostituted their principles by either voting against the six months' hoist of the remedial bill or indirectly endeavoring to coerce Manitoba, but in this they have been signally defeated.

Unfortunately for the Orange body, it has been too often used by its leaders to obtain offices, and unconsciously the Order was beginning to consider itself entitled to a certain number of Government situations, never thinking for a moment that these positions were the price paid by a Government to prostitute an organization, the sincerity of the rank and file of which cannot be questioned.

Many years of this sort of thing resulted not only in damaging the reputation of the Orange society, but made it more difficult for anybody, however earnest, to change the conduct of the leaders. A large number of Orangemen are in the public service, and many of them got there by serving the Government without question of right or wrong. At the critical moment when a Reformer rose up, anxious to restore to the organization its original impulse, these Government hacks were summoned to prevent the much-needed reorganization. Admitting, as observant people must, that the Orange body is a great power for good or evil, Canada is to be congratulated that the heel-ers were so woefully beaten at the session of Grand Lodge just concluded.

The policy of Hon. Clarke Wallace was upheld in everything. The recreant members of Parliament were censured, the Grand Master praised without stint for his conduct in Parliament, and he was re-elected without opposition amidst the greatest enthusiasm. The exposure of men who had betrayed their principles was complete and overwhelming, and but one thing is to be regretted, and that is the re-election of Mr.
Birmingham to the Grand Secretaryship.

Mr. Birmingham is that genial type of a man who loves to work for a Government, and is astute enough to do his work reasonably well, even if a portion of his task is the betrayal of the principles of the society which he professes to love. No doubt his re-election will be claimed by the Government party as a victory, while as a matter of fact it is not a matter of surprise that a man who knew every delegate present and has many personal friends, should have found sufficient followers who, heartily detesting his conduct politically, did not feel inclined to deprive him of his salary and position after having drubbed him unmercifully in resolutions and debate. Mr. Birmingham has escaped by the skin of his teeth from being thrown out of office, and it is to be regretted that any false idea of friendship should have prevented his official extermination. In large bodies, compromises are sometimes made for harmony's sake; but this compromise, we may rest assured, was a social and sentimental one, entirely irrespective of politics or any weakening on remedial legislation.

Enough was done and said in the important assembly just closed to prove that in the coming contest the main leaders and the rank and file of the Orange body will be Protestants first, and political partisans only when their partizanship will not come in conflict with their principles.—Toronto Star.

Sir Richard Cartwright began a series of meetings in South Oxford on Tuesday last.

King Alfonso of Spain will be ten years old this month. He can hardly expect many happy returns from Cuba.

Mr. St. Louis's Margin.

The Ottawa Government should be disposed to give a favorable consideration to the recent requests of the representatives of the Trades and Labor Congress, for at times they can find it in their hearts to be liberal in their allowance for wages—when they are sure the bulk of it will find its way into the pockets of a favorite contractor, and thence circuitously into the campaign fund. Just look at the wage bills with which Contractor St. Louis on the Curran bridge was credited. Unfortunately the workmen in the case got little benefit of the fancy prices. Their share of the "orgy," as the Mail and Empire happily termed it, was merely the regulation hard-pan wages. They can understand what a glorious margin the contractor had on the following rates allowed him by the Government:—

$4 a day for foremen.
$6 a day for foremen for night or overtime.
$8 a day for foremen on Sunday.
$12 a day for foremen on Sunday
overtime.
$5 a day for team.
$10 a day for team on Sunday.
$2 50 a day for derrick.
$3 75 a day for derrick for overtime.
$7 50 a day for derrick for overtime on Sunday.

St. Louis put on all the men he wished and got paid for them.

There were 2,000 men on the works at one time.

There were many idle.
No Government timekeeper.
No regular count.
No Government foreman.
No Government supervision.
No Government record of men or materials.
No Government classification of labor.
Unskilled labor was paid for as skilled labor.

There were no public tenders for timber.

Inferior timber was supplied.
Carters' delivery tickets for lumber are missing.

There were no checks as to quality of timber and lumber supplied.

Large quantities are missing.
New timber was burnt as firewood, carted away and stolen.

Government teams had to haul lumber that the contractor was to deliver.
$29,896 was paid for $6,000 worth of stonecutting.
$16,715 was paid for $3,000 worth
of stone cutting.

Stone was hauled by teams twenty miles along the railway running from the quarry to the works.

The Government was warned all along of the frauds, but allowed them to continue, and paid the bills as they came in.

When the work was completed the Government issued a commission to investigate.

Pending the investigation the Government paid St. Louis a balance of $105,000 for wages on an account that the Chief Engineer discredited and would not certify to.

The commission unanimously reported incompetence, extravagance and fraud.
The people's money was lost.

No one has been held responsible.

Clouding the Issue.

WINNIPEG, June 1.—Dalton McCarthy has come and gone. He made a profound impression wherever he spoke, his legal standing in the Dominion being such that the Privy Council's decision on the school matter were received almost without question.

Attorney-General Sifton has assumed complete charge of the organization in Brandon, and there is scarcely a shadow of doubt that the riding will return Mr. McCarthy, though his opponent is out as an anti-remedialist.

The remedialist is sure to be defeated in Marquette, although the Patron will split the opposition vote. Every effort is being made to cloud the great issue with the Hudson Bay Railway, and such like bribes. But Manitoba is determined.

The betting in Winnipeg is two to one in favor of Martin.

The Methodist Conference, meeting this week, will pass a strong resolution in favor of national schools.

Queen Victoria will, if spared, enter the 60th year of her glorious reign on June 21st, 1896. If she lives until June 21st, 1897, she will have eclipsed the record of George the Third, who died in the 60th year of his reign.
