

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.—Do not forget that the anniversary services and festivities in connection with the opening of St. Andrew's Church will be held on Sunday and Monday next. Full particulars were given in last week's Gazette and in artistically printed posters from this office.

Some four hundred (400) Sample Hats. Call and choose your Millinery early at Mrs. McDougall's.

POSTPONED.—We fully expected to publish the Fenelon Agricultural prize list in this issue; but Mr. W. T. Junkin, secretary of the Society, has been appointed clerk of the Rosedale works, and the duties of his new position kept him so busy that he could not give us the list until yesterday (Thursday), and, consequently, its publication will have to be deferred until next week.

A large assortment of Sample Hats (one of each kind) in all the latest styles, just opened at Mrs. McDougall's.

GONE FISHING.—Yesterday morning Mr. E. R. Edwards left for Senora lake in the township of Sherborne to join Mr. Geo. Whissie, who has been there upwards of a week, and the two will enjoy the sport of salmon fishing until the 1st of November, when deer hunting commences, and the pair of chums may be expected home about a month from now with as many deer as the law allows them to shoot.

Eggs and produce taken in exchange at Mrs. R. McDougall's.

$25 REWARD.—The village authorities have issued a large number of bills offering a reward of $25 for such information as shall lead to the conviction of any person guilty of willfully destroying any property in the corporation. This action—which it is to be hoped will have the desired effect—has been taken in consequence of the recent commission of several acts of wanton mischief, conspicuous amongst which was the cutting of the bands of about fifty bunches of Howry & Sons' shingles which were piled up in the vicinity of the railway station.

A NEW BAKERY.—On Tuesday morning Mr. Thomas Littleton commenced the work of building a new bakery on the site of the one destroyed by fire last Saturday week, and, but for the delay caused by rain, it would have been nearly finished by now, as it is not very large and only one story high. Our statement last week—based on information obtained from a person who professed to know all about it—that the burnt bakery was built over fifty years ago by a man named Brady, was wrong, as it was put up by Mr. Jordan about forty-two years ago. The mistake was of no importance, but the Gazette likes to tell the truth, and will make three or four attempts rather than not succeed in doing so.

A Horrible Death.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 5.—A reclus named Bernard Sherman, who lived in a little hovel at Hinkley, with a large St. Bernard dog, was found dead on Saturday. The old man settled there twenty years ago, and he was only seen when purchasing his supplies. He had not been seen for a long time, and an investigation was begun. When the door to the hut was broken into the old man was found lying dead, chained to a post, the condition of the body telling of a terrible struggle, which the doctors ascribed to hydrophobia. Just outside the hovel was found the dog. The beast's death had been caused by an axe wound in the head. The supposition is that the brute went mad and bit his master. The old man, realizing that death was inevitable, had locked himself in when he felt the madness coming, chained himself fast, locked his fetters with a padlock and thrown the key away. Buried under the floor of the hovel was found $13,000 in gold.

Storm-Ridden Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., October 5.—Reports from the remoter sections where the storm visited increase the number of dead. At Double Sick, in Levy County, a large settlement, nearly every house was swept away. Nearly every house in Lafayette County has been destroyed. Nothing is left of Mayo, the county seat. All of the timber and 15 per cent. of the residences are down. At Cedar Keys the rescuers are looking up dead bodies along the coast. Scores of spongers and fishermen are still missing, and the probability is they have been drowned. The details, meagre at first, give but a faint idea of the destruction that had been wrought by the storm and of the destruction of hundreds of people along the path of the tempest. From Cedar Keys on the Gulf almost to the doors of Jacksonville come the most heartrending stories of ruin. The storm not only laid the forests low, but swept away residences and outbuildings and left hundreds, if not thousands, of people without food or shelter. The condition is one of actual suffering that has never before been experienced in this State. From all parts of the stricken district come appeals for aid.

Forest Fires.

MARQUETTE, Mich., October 5.—Destructive forest fires are burning two miles south of this city along the line of the Marquette and Western Railway. Nestor Junction, on the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway, seventy miles west of Marquette, is in serious danger. The Junction is the location of much valuable railway property. Forest fires are also raging in the immediate vicinity of Humboldt, a mining village of two hundred population, thirty miles west of this city.

PASADENA, Cal., October 5.—Forest fires are raging on the mountains, and only strong efforts prevented the fire from crossing Dark Canon and sweeping the whole front range, on which the Echo Mountain Hotel and Mount Lowe railway are located. Those who were fighting the fire report a solid sheet of flame forty feet high rushing and roaring down the canon, and it was only when it reached the low brush that they were able to cope with it at all. Then by back-firing they managed to check it. It has burned over a strip twenty miles long and from two to five miles wide. A huge fire is now burning in San Gabriel Canon, a dense cloud of smoke obscuring the sky north-east of Pasadena.

The Deer Season.

The Ontario Government will make a determined effort this year to enforce the game law. The entire staff of detectives are to be sent into the hunting districts with instructions to spare no expense in enforcing the law. Asked about the matter the other day, Detective Inspector Rogers said: "Yes, it is correct; the Government intends sending the inspectors of criminal investigation and some of the frontier police into the deer country this fall, from the Bruce Peninsula to the Ottawa River, to see that the game law is respected during and after the hunting season. He will see that all persons hunting have a license, and also that no shooting be done on the waters. The pot hunters will not have such a chance this year, as they cannot get their deer to market as easily as in former years. Now, a person to ship a deer has to produce his license to the shipping agent personally and sign the tag in his presence, and the signature on the license and tag must agree; otherwise the company will not receive any deer. The penalty for hunting without a license, for hunting on or near the water, is $50 and not less than $20, together with costs, or three months' imprisonment, together with the confiscation of their arms."—Exchange.

Another Popocratic dream exploded! A Boston court has decreed that a husband's persistent snoring and habit of tickling the bottoms of his wife's feet do not constitute reasonable grounds for granting a divorce. But it's an awful combination.

A bicycle race with a panther was the exciting experience of an English lady in Singapore one evening lately. When riding slowly homeward along a road outside the town, the cyclist found that she was being quietly stalked by a huge black panther. She had the presence of mind to start off at full speed, and soon distanced her pursuer.

Four persons landed from the Austrian corvette Albatross on a scientific expedition in the South Sea were killed and six others wounded by the natives of Guadalcanal, one of the Solomon Islands. The bodies of the dead were not recovered, as the islanders are cannibals. M. Foullon, the geologist of the expedition, was one of those killed. The Albatross bombarded the shore in retaliation, killing many natives.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Few Questions.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Sir,—Will you kindly allow me a small space in your paper to ask for a little information. Why have our councils employed men on our streets who pay no rates or taxes, or who have only just arrived in our midst? Is it done out of a spirit of benevolence, or do they get more or better work out of a new arrival than out of an old inhabitant? Cannot our school trustees find in our village a ratepayer capable of repairing our public schools? Our villagers have to pay the school rate, many of them with no children to attend school; outsiders are called in to do the work and receive the benefit thereof. Is it to the country people the trustees go when election time draws near? I think I may safely say, without fear of contradiction, it is not. Why are sidewalks built on certain streets for the accommodation of one or two residents, while others have to wade through mud, slush and snow to reach their gates? Do those favored few pay a higher rate of taxation, or is it because, being a little better off in this world's goods, our council think a dollar from them will go farther towards keeping our streets in repair than the poor man's dollar? Is that fair and just? Why make fish of one and flesh of another?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space, I remain,

Yours, etc.,
RATEPAYER.
