

IS SAID TO BE 130 YEARS

MIGUEL VEJAR THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA.

Has Suffered Hardships, Drank Many a Gallon of Whiskey, Smoked Cigarettes, Violated All the Laws of Hygiene, and Yet Lives to Be Probably the Oldest Man in the World.

The oldest living person in the United States is a half-breed Indian, Miguel Vejar, who lives in the valley of the San Jacinto, in Riverside County, Southern California. He is one hundred and thirty years old. In 1891 Chief Urbaza died on the tribal reservation near San Diego, aged one hundred and twenty-seven years. Miguel Vejar was born in Northern Mexico at about 1766.

His wonderful age is verified by the records that were carefully kept until 1891 by the priests in the Franciscan Missions of Southern California. In 1891 they were transferred to the Cathedral of San Luis Rey, in the City of Mexico. Among the San Diego records of the Indians is the statement, dated August 9, 1788, that "Miguel Vejar, a Mexican Indian, rather intelligent, of good habits and very industrious, aged twenty-two," was a vaquero of the mission herds. In March, 1791, there is an entry of the birth of a female child to Miguel Vejar, aged twenty-five, and his wife Lugardo, aged twenty-four.

The records of the San Gabriel Mission, now in the cathedral in the City of Mexico, show that Miguel Vejar, "son of

A TEACHER'S STORY.

THE HEALTH OF THOSE IN THE PROFESSION FREQUENTLY UNDERMINED.

Thos. W. Crofer, Late Principal of the Alberton High School, Gives Some Valuable Advice to His Former Collaborators in the Sundry Teaching Profession.

Mr. Thos. Crofer, late principal of the Alberton, P.E.I., high school, has passed through an experience that will prove interesting to thousands of others engaged in the teaching profession throughout the country, more especially those whose health has been impaired by overwork in crowded and often badly ventilated schools. "Three years ago," says Mr. Crofer, "I assumed charge of the high school at Alberton, and found the pupils in my department in a rather backward condition, as their former teacher had to resign on account of ill health. When I began work, however, I was in excellent health, and although I was never very fleshy, I was quite muscular and athletic. I was a great lover of out-door exercise and sports, and was an enthusiast over the game of football. Anyone who has ever beheld a genuine game of "old Rugby" will know that it is not at all a game for weaklings. I merely state these facts to show that at the time I took charge of the high school I was capable of undergoing almost any amount of hard labor. During the two years of my service I labored very hard in bringing my pupils to a high state of proficiency, for I wished to have the school in as prosperous condition as possible under my management. Besides the close confinement in the school room during the day, I generally studied until twelve at night, in order to be well prepared for entering on a college course when my teaching days would be over. The people at the hotel where I boarded used to warn me against over-taxing my strength, but I disregarded their kind advice. Towards the end of my second year, however, I began to feel the effects of my double work I had imposed upon myself. My eyesight began to fail rapidly, and it was not long until I had to consult an eminent oculist, who ordered for me a pair of specially ground glasses. He attributed the failure of my eyesight to excessive night reading, and forbade me to read any more by lamplight. But the weakness of my eyes was not all. Insomnia attacked me and I was unable to sleep at night and used to toss about on my bed until morning without getting the slightest degree of rest. When I rose in the morning it may be readily imagined I was in no fit condition to begin my daily work. My appetite was so poor that often I was unable to partake of any breakfast, and this of course rendered my condition all the worse. I became so thin and emaciated that my friends thought I was doomed to death. At the end of the school year I had become so weak that I resigned my position, and at that time it did look as if my days on earth were numbered. I went to the country to give myself some chance to recruit, and at the urgent advice of a friend I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I remained on my brother's farm for a whole year, during which time I used the Pink Pills, towards the end, however, only taking them at intervals. I had not been taking the Pink Pills long before I began to experience benefit from their use, and from the day I first felt benefit I steadily progressed towards recovery. I was able to take sound, refreshing sleep, my appetite became excellent and my weight increased so much that friends whom I had not seen for some time scarcely recognized me at first sight. I am completely restored physically, and I can take heavy lifts or engage in any kind of hard work without feeling the least weariness, and this improved condition of affairs I owe to the excellence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My eyesight is also gradually returning and I hope ere long to be able to discard my glasses. My story, which I fear has been somewhat tedious, shows how many young men and many young women also have their health shattered by sticking closely to the teaching profession. However there is an effective remedy within the reach of all. This remedy which I have such pleasure in recommending is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines have failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

ACCIDENTS WILL HAPPEN.

But This Time it Was a God-Send to Mr. John Brown, a G.A.R. Veteran, of 2446 Marshall St., Philadelphia—Dodged Shot and Shell in the Interest of His Country. Only to be Attacked by That Insidious Disease, Catarrh—But Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder Cured and Permanently, too—This is What He Says:—

"By a mere accident I came across Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. I was a great sufferer from that dread malady—catarrh. To-day it gives me unbounded pleasure to state for suffering humanity's sake that this wonderful remedy effected a speedy and permanent cure in my case, and I am willing to spend the remainder of my days in spreading the good news to my fellow sufferers."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

HEART PAIN.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart Defies the Most Intense Pains—No Matter How Long Standing the Trouble, it Masters Disease in Half an Hour, and in the Case of John Crow, Five Bottles Cured Heart Disease of Ten Years' Standing—Here's His Testimony Unsolicited:—

John Crow, son of Mr. George Crow, farmer, near the village of Tara, Ont., writes: "I was alarmingly afflicted with palpitation and enlargement of the heart for nearly ten years. I doctored with the best physicians and tried numerous remedies with very little benefit. In our local papers I noticed Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart advertised, and I determined to give it a trial. Inside of half an hour I had relief. I have taken about five bottles, and feel to-day that I am as well as ever I was. I am completely cured."

and has no recollection even of their names. There can be no doubt he has over one hundred great-grandchildren, whom he never knew, and a large number of great-great-grandchildren. Physiologists will have to study old Miguel Vejar closely to find the secret of his extraordinary long life. He has suffered hardships among the mountains and on the burning deserts, like other strong men who died years and years ago. He drank many a gallon of fire-water in his day and, along with other red-skinned young bucks, painted the tribal pueblo a deep carmine many nights. He was a smoker of cigarettes (not the white man's kind) for about a century, or until he got too old to roll them himself and to rustle for his favorite variety of the weed. He has violated all the canons of hygiene from his earliest days, for it is doubtful if he has ever had a genuine bath, and he has not washed his person for a generation or more.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE. RHEUMATISM.

Spinal Disease and Hemorrhage of the Kidneys Cured.
Carried from His Chair to His Bed for Eighteen Months.
MONTREAL, August 12, 1896.
My wife, Mrs. Thomas Bird, suffered for a long time with kidney trouble, which finally became so aggravated and painful that she was compelled to enter the hospital. Her case was pronounced by the physicians who examined her to be Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, and after a long course of treatment she was discharged from the hospital as incurable and informed that she had only a few years to live. While making arrangements for sending her to England I was persuaded to give her your medicine, Kootenay Cure. After taking the medicine for a time, she began to improve and has since continued to do so. At the present writing both she and I are satisfied that she is cured, and that Kootenay has been the means of saving her life. She now has a good appetite, sleeps well, has a good color and her kidneys are working with regularity. No one who knew her terrible condition last winter could realize to-day that she is the same person, such a remarkable change has taken place. Wishing you continued success with your wonderful medicine, I remain,
Yours gratefully,
THOMAS H. BIRD,
Porter, Queen's Hotel.

OTTAWA, August 7th, 1895.
I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the services Kootenay Cure has done me. I had been treated by the best physicians in Ottawa for Rheumatism, but they told me that my case was so complicated, my trouble having originated from La Grippe, that any relief they could give would only be temporary. Just at this time I heard of Kootenay Cure. I had very little hope of relief at first, the Rheumatism having settled in my muscles and almost destroyed my nerves. However, I determined to try once more and began to take the medicine, and in my case, physically speaking, old things have passed away and all things have become new. I can go anywhere, unaided. My nerves are as strong as ever they were in my life and there is no change in the atmosphere has any effect on me now. I cannot thank you enough, but write this so that some other sufferer may read it and seek relief. You can refer any person to me at my residence, 199 Albert Street, Ottawa, and I shall be only too happy to give them any information in my power.
Yours gratefully,
MRS. THOMAS A. BIRD,
199 Albert St., Ottawa.

OTTAWA, September 20, 1895.
I declare solemnly that, after having suffered more than two years from complicated malady of the kidneys, which reduced me to the most complete helplessness, I was cured perfectly by using Dr. Ryckman's new remedy called "Kootenay Cure." I recommend this medicine to the attention of all, especially those who are suffering from diseases of the kidneys.
