

she will reside in the future with one of her sons, four of whom have been living over there for some years and are doing well.

A large drove of cattle reached Mr. J. B. Powles' on Wednesday evening last, on their way to a ranch near Norland. They were brought from Reaboro, Ops.

Rooms to let in McArthur's Block. Apply at the Gazette Office.

DENTAL.—Dr. Neelands, dentist, will be at the McArthur House, Fenelon Falls, on Tuesday, May 18th. He will have gas and local pain obtundors for extracting teeth. Call early and secure an appointment.

See Ladies' and Children's Hosiery at Mrs. R. McDougall's.

THE IRON BRIDGE.—Mr. Wm. Kennedy, of Bobcaygeon, inspector of county bridges, was at the Falls this week and had some slight repairs done to the iron bridge, the flooring of which is so much worn and so rotten that it is to be removed and new planks laid down immediately.

See Silk Handkerchiefs and Fine Embroidered Handkerchiefs at Mrs. R. McDougall's.

See young ladies' High Corsets, with braces, at Mrs. R. McDougall's.

PAINTED.—The fronts of both our village hardware stores are resplendent with fresh paint. The brickwork of Mr. Heard's store has been painted white and the woodwork olive green; and the woodwork of Mr. McGee's front is pea green. The other stores look dull and dingy by comparison, and there will no doubt be more painting done before long.

THE COW BY-LAW.—We are requested to give notice that on and after Monday, the 17th inst., by-law No. 314, better known as the "cow by-law," will be strictly enforced. It provides that no bull, steer, heifer or goose shall be allowed to run at large either by day or night, and that milch cows shall only be allowed to run at large between the hours of six o'clock in the forenoon and eight o'clock in the evening.

Come and see the black and white, blue and white, red and white, brown and white Sailors at Mrs. McDougall's.

THE MILL.—They are rushing things at the new mill, and a great change in its appearance has been made since this time last week. The framing of the main building and one of the wings is all finished, the rafters are up, some of the siding has been put on, and shingling will be commenced before the end of the week. Mr. Thomson tells us that the machinery will begin to arrive in about a fortnight, and he has very little doubt that the mill will be finished and ready to commence operations in eight or ten weeks.

See Kid Gloves, Silk Gloves and Mittens at Mrs. R. McDougall's.

A GOOD JOB.—The work of digging a drain from Mr. Heard's store up to Dr. Wilson's corner, commenced about a fortnight ago, has just been finished, and the men employed have made a good job of it. From some reason there was an underground kink, or jog, or obstruction of some kind at Mr. Heard's, and the result was a sort of bog at the corner fifteen or twenty rods north; but the new drain is deep and wide, with stone walls and a roof of cedar logs, and there is not likely to be any more trouble.

A SHETLANDER.—One of the smallest Shetland ponies that ever came to the Falls was in the McArthur House stable from Saturday last until Monday, and a considerable percentage of the inhabitants of the village went to see it. The little creature, like most of its breed, is beautifully formed, is jet black in color, stands about ten hands high, and weighs only 375 pounds. Its owner drives it in an ordinary road-cart, between the shafts of which it looks not much bigger than Jerry Twomey's St. Bernard dog. It will be here again this week.

Come and see the black rustic Sailors at Mrs. McDougall's.

FITTINGS.—Monday last was a great day in the Falls for what in old times used to be commonly called "fittings," as some people call them still. Mr. H. J. Lytle moved from the brick house near the railway station into the Greene homestead, on Francis street, which he recently purchased; Mr. Andrew Sutherland, station master, moved from the large frame house at the corner of Francis and Market streets into the house vacated by Mr. Lytle; and Mr. Webster moved from the Greene homestead into the house left by Mr. Sutherland. All day long waggons laden with furniture were going in both directions past the Gazette office, and great vigilance must have been exercised if some of the fitters did not find themselves, when settled in their new homes, in possession of household effects that did not belong to them.

Your Eyes.

The insidious nature of many diseases of the eye renders it unsafe to defer treatment.

The time to seek aid is when your eyes begin to fail, when you first become aware that your sight is not as good as it should be. Continued strain of the eyes complicates matters and makes relief or cure more difficult.

If there is anything seriously wrong you cannot know it too soon. If the trouble is slight our help may be of great benefit to you. Perhaps a little timely advice may save you both trouble and money.

It is our business to ascertain the nature of eye troubles, and our optical department is thoroughly equipped with the best appliances for this purpose. Neither time, expense nor care have been spared to bring it up to a high standard in every respect.

The benefit of this is at your disposal FREE.
Do you want it?
Do you need it?
If so you are welcome to it.
