BROUG & A YOUNG LADY OUT OF THE SHADOW OF DEATH.

A Remarkable Case That Vividiy Shows the Wonderful Health-Restoring Power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

From the Orangeville Banner.

There is no doubt at all that many people are prejudiced against proprietary medicines, and equally no doubt many look upon the testimonials published as much in the nature of an extinctured with this feeling it has, so far as one medicine is concerned, had its doubts removed. We refer to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, concerning the curative qualities of which strong claims have been made, and proofs advanced in their support which seemed equally strong. But it is when one comes across in their own locality a been made public, that doubt disappears and conviction follows. Such a case the Banner came across and investigated and now gives the facts. The case is that of Miss Sarah Langford, an estimable young lady who resides in the neighborhood of Camilla. We were told she had been brought near to death's door and had been restored to health through the agency and investigate for ourselves.

'I had la grippe in the spring of 1894, I did not seem to get over the effects of the attack, and as the summer progressed became weak and list-Any kind of work became a burden to me. After pumping a pail of water from the well, I would have to stand and hold my hands over my heart for a moment or so, it would flutter so violently. I could not go up-stairs without difficulty, and towards the last would have to rest on the steps, and when I had got, to the top, lie down until I could recover my breath. I became a mere skeleton, my cheeks were like wax and my lips colorless. I lost all appetite and my meals often went untasted. Medicine seemed to have no effect upon me. I was getting weaker all the time, and at last began to give up hope of recovery. My parents were of course in great distress, and I who called to see me that they thought a dear lady friend died and I managed out of love for her to drag myself to her funeral. The sensation of seeing soon follow her, was a strange one. Shortly after this an aunt of mine; Mrs. Wm. Henderson, of Toronto, came to visit at our place. My condition troubled her very much and she insisted on my trying Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To please her I consented but with very little hope of any good result. KING GEORGE OF GREECE.

His Throne and His Life in Peril-His Great Wealth.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the Grecian crown. King George is now occupying a peculiarly trying position. By attempting to seize Crete he put himself at the head of the mob in defiance of the feeble protests of his premier and now he faces almost certain defeat in war, and perhaps, a revolution that may drive him from his throne. The king has always had an eye to the future, and in recent years has built himself a magnificent palace near Copenhagen, to which he might retire to end his days in the ease to which he has always been partial. The king of Greece is, therefore in a situation of extreme peril-not alone to his throne, to which he may be philosophically resigned, but also to his life and the lives of his family, a contingency that can certainly not be contemplated with equanimity. "For two years I was troubled with kidney disease. I suffered intense pain, and frequently was unable to work. I doctored at intervals, but got little or no relief. I began to grow worse, and the pains were frequent and intense. About this time I saw South American Kidney Cure advertised as a speedy relief for all Kidney troubles. I purchased a bottle, and it gave me wonderful relief in a few hours. I improved steadily, and after taking four bottles I am completely cured. I consider it worth its weight in gold, for it assuredly saved my life."
