

A PIONEER'S STORY.

Following an Attack of LaGrippe He Suffered Day and Night for Four Years—A Well Known Clergyman Endorses His Statements.

From the Record, Windsor, Ont.

Among the residents of Kingsville, Ont., none is held in higher esteem than Mr. Jas. Lovelace, who is known not only in town, but to many throughout Essex county. When a correspondent of the Record called upon him and asked him to verify certain statements as to his cure from a painful malady after several years of suffering, he cheerfully did so. Mr. Lovelace said:—Four years ago I had an attack of la grippe, which left me with a severe pain in the pit of my stomach. After trying household remedies and getting no relief, I consulted a doctor, but after a long treatment which did not help me, I became discouraged and concluded there was no relief for me. Night and day for four years that pain never left me. At times it was so bad that I had to give up work. I had frequently read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and perhaps as much out of curiosity as with any hope that they would help me, I bought a box. I followed the directions carefully, and by the time the box was finished I was surprised to find that I was getting relief. I could not understand how, after all the medicine I had previously tried had failed, this one box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should help me. I now cheerfully continued their use and by the time I had taken five boxes every trace of pain had left me and I felt as well as ever I had done in my life. To-day I am as sound as a dollar and believe there is no man of my age in Essex county who can stand a harder day's work.

Rev. R. D. Herrington, Baptist minister at Kingsville, says:—Having known Mr. James Lovelace for the past thirty years, I believe the above statement made by him to be strictly true. I might also say that I have been greatly benefited myself by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The young duchess of Marlborough is very fond of animal pets, and has at Blenheim quite a menagerie, which comprises two ostriches, several eagles, vultures and an ibis. The duchess has also a tame snake purchased in Egypt.

Distressing Dyspepsia.

The Miserable Lives of Dyspeptics made glad by KOOTENAY CURE.

Everything looks "blue" to the man who suffers from stomach disorders. When to this is added Kidney Complaint, then indeed, does life become a burden.

To be able to eat three meals a day, to go about without being punished by pains in the back and stomach, is a "consumation devoutly to be wished for."

Mr. James Boyd, of Hamilton, employed by the Electric Light and Power Co., was one of those whom Kootenay Cure released from suffering, and made a new man of. Under oath he says that for over five years he was a victim of Dyspepsia, and suffered greatly from severe pains in his back, due to disordered kidneys.

He only took a moderate amount of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, which has given him relief from his troubles. Now his wife has taken it for Nervous Prostration. She is completely cured, and says she never felt as well in ten years as she does at present. Thus man and wife were emancipated from the slavery of disease by Ryckman's Kootenay Cure. Could any proof of the worth of this remedy be more conclusive? Chart book sent free on application to the S. S. Ryckman Medicine Co., (Limited), Hamilton, Ont.

Cecil Rhodes the diamond king and capitalist of South Africa, is going in to farming on a large scale. He has purchased ten farms near Bulawayo, and will cultivate them. He will build the largest dam in South Africa.

MAN IN DISTRESS.

A whole family suffering. A dull aching of nerve or muscle, or the acuter pangs of neuralgia, toothache or lumbago makes life a misery. But Nervine—nerve pain cure—will relieve all these. Nervine is powerful, penetrating, and effectual.

The Queen, it is calculated, has now spent more time in Scotland than many Kings and Queens who ruled Scotland alone. In fact, her Majesty's spring and autumn sojourns in the Highlands since 1842 make an aggregate of about eighteen years.

A plaster made with "Quickcure" will remove difficulty in breathing, and more quickly reduce inflammation than the old mustard plaster. In severe cases, place hot applications over the plaster of "Quickcure" flannel cloths wrung out of hot water will not injure "Quickcure" but aid its effect.

A plaster made with "Quickcure" spread on cotton flannel, linen or cotton, will give more prompt relief from croup, than camphorated oil, or mustard. In severe cases, doctors tell you to apply hot applications also, over the "Quickcure" plaster, covering the chest and neck well.

NERVOUS GENTLEMAN.

Watkins hates parrots; he won't even allow a stuffed one in his house. Why—a stuffed one couldn't annoy him.

Well, he says his wife might get vexed and throw it at him.

AN UNBURIED KING.

It will surprise most people to learn that the late King of Spain, to whom a statue has just been dedicated at Madrid, is not yet buried but, covered with a winding sheet, lies on a marble slab in a vault of the Escorial. This is in accordance with a custom dating from the year 1700. The body will lie where it is until the present King dies. Then it will be deposited with great pomp beside the remains of his predecessors in the chapel of the Escorial.

WORTHY OF ENGLAND'S STEEL.

Maoris and Boers were fine and Chivalrous Fighters.

The honour and honor of fighting is no humeral and on one side, writes Rudyard Kipling in the Youth's Companion. Some thirty years since there was a war in New Zealand against the Maoris, who, though they tortured prisoners and occasionally ate a man, liked fighting for its own sake. One of their chiefs cut off a detachment of our men in a stockade, where he might have starved them out. He found they were short of provisions and sent in a canoe of pigs and potatoes, with the message that it was no fun to fight weak men, but he would be happy to meet them after a full meal.

As to honor, the Boers in South Africa did a very pretty thing. The war against them was one of the many bright jewels in England's crown cut and set by Gladstone, but it is some consolation to remember that they beat us horse and foot from one to the other. They were splendid fighters in their own way—at 900 yards, lying down behind long rifles, with their horses ready in the background.

After one battle, in which they had wiped out an English regiment and killed a general, they were at some pains to find the general's sword and return it to his widow, saying that the Lord was on their side, and they had killed a brave man and were sorry for it.

We got very little out of the war except the knowledge that it paid to shoot straight. Two on three men won the cross for saving wounded under fire.

One officer, after seven of his men had been killed at Laing's Neck, picked up a wounded comrade, who was shot dead in his arms, but he went on again and saved two more men. Much the same kind of thing happened at Wesselsdrom and Hejuta—both defeats for us. The only good thing in the whole wretched business was that we abode by the issue of the first fights instead of turning on an entire army corps and running the Boers utterly, as some unwise people thought was our duty.

LETTER FROM THE RECTOR OF THE QUEBEC HIGH SCHOOL.

Dear Doctor Levers,—I should like to add another testimonial to the number of "Quickcure." I have been troubled a good deal lately with Boils, and tried Quickcure. I can only describe its effect as magical; I felt as though I had never been troubled at all, and was completely well in two days. Wishing you every success with your valuable discovery, I remain, yours very truly, Signed, T. Ainslie Young.

DID YOU EVER THINK?

That a kind word put put at interest brings back an enormous percentage of love and appreciation?

That though a loving thought may not seem to be appreciated, it has yet made you better and braver because of it?

That the little acts of kindness and thoughtfulness day by day are really greater than one immense act of goodness once a year?

That to be always polite to the people at home is not only more ladylike, but more refined than having "company manners"?

That to judge anybody by his personal appearance stamps you as not only ignorant, but ill-bred?

That to talk and talk and talk about yourself and your belongings is very tiresome for the people who listen?

THE INFLUENZA.

It has been averred that Lord Salisbury was the first victim of influenza in Western Europe, and that the malady was conveyed to him through some Foreign Office dispatches from St. Petersburg.

PAPER HOUSE.

There is a paper eating house in Hamburg, which has walls composed of a double layer of paper stretched on frames, and impregnated with a fire-water solution. The roof and walls are fastened together by means of bolts and hinges, so that the entire structure may be rapidly taken to pieces and put up again.

JAPS CHANGING.

Some astonishing changes in the physical type of races as a result of intercourse with foreigners have been pointed out by M. Albert Gaudard to the French Ethnographic Society. The Japanese, who since the revolution of 1868 have been rapidly adopting European modes of life are losing the eccentricity of their eyes and the prominence of their cheek bones, while recently born children have less flattened noses than their ancestors, with a skin not so yellow. Europeans settling in Japan, on the other hand, gradually lose the rosy color of their skin and tend to acquire an eccentricity in the Adhemar Leclere, who has observed in Cambodia a striking change in his countrymen, the French residents soon beginning to acquire the type and the gait of the natives.

WHAT HOLLAND IS DOING.

She Has Recovered an Immense Territory from the Sea.

In 1883 the surface of Holland covered an area of no more than 8,768 square miles. By October 20, 1877, at the conclusion of a survey, it was found that so vast a quantity of land had during those 44 years been recovered from the sea that the area had increased to 12,731 square miles. The Dutch have for some time been considering a project for draining the Zuyder Zee. It is proposed to reclaim from the sea about 450,000 acres, the value of which is estimated at $26,000,000 guilders. The cost of this important work is estimated at 189,000,000 guilders, or with the accumulated expenditure, including measures of defense and payment of compensation to the fishermen of the Zee, at $15,000,000 guilders. It was stated in 1869 that the work would take 31 years and that every year 10,000 hectares of land would be restored to cultivation. Part of the scheme suggested a large dyke 30 miles in length, from the extreme end of North Holland to the western coast of Friesland. This dyke, 35 meters at the base and 6 meters high, would take nine years to build.

FACT, FANCY AND FABLE.

Have convinced people that Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, should be given the preference. Get rid of your corns; get rid of them without pain; use Putnam's Extractor and no other.

When the telephone was first placed in one of Queen Victoria's palaces she was promised that the first message should be sent by a brass band. As a delay occurred, no band was on hand and the eminent electrician sang "God Save the Queen," instead. The Queen was asked if she recognized the air, and replied: "Yes, it is the National Anthem, but very badly played."

A plaster made with "Quickcure" spread over the nose, will suppress cold in the head in a surprising manner, owing to its reducing inflammation of the mucous membrane. The Quickcure Co. have received many letters corroborating this.

Cora—"College men seem very much inclined to take life easy." Dora—"Yes; even when they graduate they do it by degrees."

Dr. Geo. H. Parke, Surgeon 8th Royal Rifles, Quebec, writes: "I have used with much success, 'Pheno-Banum' (or 'Quickcure') in dressing wounds, which suppurated even under the dressing of iodine; the effect was remarkable, all discharge ceasing, and health granulation setting up at once, after first application of 'Quickcure.' I consider its antiseptic action, as valuable as its marvellous pain relieving properties."

Beggar—"Can you help a poor man to—?" Pedestrian—"I think you have touched me before." Beggar—"Possibly, sir; possibly. You see I'm a stranded photographer, and the old habit of retouching clings, sir."

The Earl of Leicester has given $10,000 toward the fund to rebuild the Jenny Lind infirmary at Norwich, England, one of the royal jubilee projects. He is the eldest son of the first Earl, Thomas William Coke, for half a century representative of Norfolk in the House of Commons, and himself has been Lord Lieutenant of the county for as long a period.

"Quickcure," warmed and dropped from a spoon into the ear, will cure earache. It acts like a charm. Or make a plaster of "Quickcure" and put behind the ear.

A publisher offered Sir Richard Burton $2,500 for his "Arabian Nights." It took an immense amount of work, but in the end it yielded over $80,000, of which more than $50,000 was clear profit.

Apply a little "Quickcure" to a pimple or any blemish of the skin, and cover with thin paper, and it will disappear in twenty-four hours, leaving the skin natural and healthy; as it destroys the germs which enter the skin and cause pimples, boils, etc.

The Empress Dowager of China sent to Queen Victoria as a jubilee gift a picture painted by her own hand on a roll twelve feet long and five feet broad. It consists of an expanse of rocks and trees, with storks wearing red crests, the emblem of longevity.

"Quickcure," or "Pheno-Banum," is used and endorsed by many physicians and dentists who have tried it and who keep up with the new discoveries in medical science, as they investigate, to enable them to cope with the ever increasing new diseases.

PUTTING PLANTS TO SLEEP.

All plants, even in tropical countries require a period of rest. Some repose in the rainy, others in the dry, and others again in the cold or in the hot season. Herr Johannsen, a Scandinavian, believes he can abridge this period by intensifying the "sleep" with chloroform of ether. Bulls or buds exposed to the vapors of these anaesthetics resume their period of activity sooner than those not so treated. It has also been observed that the tubercles of orchids placed near warming pipes and thus more completely dried, began to spring sooner than others kept in the ordinary way.

A GOOD CASE.

Lawyer A—What do you think of taking Snowden's case? He doesn't seem to have much chance to sustain his allegations, but he has lots of money he is willing to put into the trial. Come, what do you say? You have looked into the matter. Has he a good case?

Lawyer B—I think we have. You say he has plenty of money.
