The Boom of the Goldbug.

By signs of entomology, that rule the present minute, There isn't any doubt at all what sort of bug is in it; The June bug, the doodle bug, potato bug and all Have got to skip the trolley, for the goldbug has the call.

From where the Yukon rips along to swell the Behring deeps A wild auriferous rallying cry to echoing welkin leaps, And from the heart of everywhere beneath the spreading sky The goldbug and his larva rise unto the rallying cry.

A glow of hope is on his eighteen-carat appetite, He multiplies each minute of each fleeting day and night; And, like a swelling avalanche that never sways nor swerves, He launches out to burrow in Alaska's rich preserves.

So let the coleoptera stand back and give him room, There is no bug of all the bugs can match the goldbug's boom; For, like a certain other bug conspicuous in fame, Although he has no wings at all he'll "get there just the same."

Our Mining Resources.

OPINION OF EXPERTS ON EASTERN ONTARIO DEPOSIT.

(Montreal Witness.)

"We have in Hastings county thousands of acres of land that carry choice minerals of every kind, such as gold, silver, lead, asbestos, nickel, garnet etc., and people need not go thousands of miles away from the old Provinces of Ontario and Quebec to engage in profitable mining, under conditions, too, which entail untold hardships and privations," remarked Mr. C. S. Sanderson, of Ormsby, Ont., to a Witness reporter, while in the city a day or two ago, in company with Mr. Weddell of Trenton, Ont.

"And, as we are not selling any stock, I am not giving you any boom talk," continued Mr. Sanderson. "Yes, and this has been one result of the fires which have laid portions of the country bare, so that we can now see the rocks, and as a consequence have discovered that they are very rich in minerals," added Mr. Weddell.

Mr. Sanderson is the manager of the Anglo-American Mining Company, which is opening up 80,000 acres of choice timber and mineral land along the Central Ontario Railway in Hastings county, and he feels certain that there are thousands of tons of mineral-bearing quartz veins anywhere from three to a hundred or more feet wide. They have cut across twenty feet in places, and cannot find any side to the veins. Mr. Sanderson also states that they have mountains of iron, but they place very little dependence upon it, because the prices are so extremely low that they cannot see their way clear to operate at the present time. The claims of Messrs. Sanderson and Weddell were also borne out by Mr. Miller, at the recent mining convention in this city, when he declared that this district had not received fair treatment so far, and that some years ago, when these deposits were first opened, little was known about arsenical ores and difficulties were naturally met with, and the owners appeared to have lost courage, and worked the mines more with the intention of selling them than of trying to make a profit. Mr. Miller also mentioned that he had visited the Deloro mine in Marmora township, and at a depth of 180 feet the vein was found to be still well defined. The Deloro mine is now being worked by an English syndicate, who have one hundred and fifty men employed there night and day. Near by is the mine which Mr. A. W. Carscallen, M. P., has sold to an English syndicate from Newcastle-on-Tyne for $55,000, and adjoining this is the Ledyard mine, where a shaft has been sunk to a depth of one hundred and fifty feet.

In Malone township there is the Crescent mine, owned by Montreal parties, where a mill has been erected at a cost of $20,000. The Gladstone property, owned by Mr. Henry Corby, ex-M. P., and Mr. Robert Weddell, is about thirty miles from Trenton, and is one of the richest mines in North Hastings. It carries heavy free gold, which has run from $23 to $250 a ton. There has been $60,000 already taken out. This vein of free gold is ten feet wide, and has already been traced for more than 1,400 feet. The shaft is now down eighty feet, and several crosscuts show the ore standing right out. The gold can be panned right out of the dust.

The Eldorado, or the old Richardson mine, in Madoc township, where some years ago $300,000 were taken out of one pocket in a very short time, and which was afterwards closed, is now in working order again. Adjoining this is the St. Charles Weddell mine, which, under test, has produced from $50 a ton of pure gold and upward. The concentrates show four ounces of gold to the ton on a basis of ten per cent. of the ore, and the tailings which have been left through an imperfection of the mill have shown $7 a ton. There will shortly be a further test of one hundred tons of ore now in store at the mill. The shaft is now sunk to a depth of thirty feet, and it is proposed to go down one hundred feet. A building 42 x 26 feet is in course of construction here. The Bannockburn mine is also being operated on a large scale, and a tunnel is being made. Adjoining this is the Weddell mine, where galena and gold, the reporter was informed, are found equal in richness to anything that has been found in Rossland, B. C.

Zuger township is quite rich in minerals, and a carload of ore now lies at Mill bridge station for a test. Shafts fifty feet deep are sunk in the Weddell and Chard mines. True fissure veins are to be found here, and the ore runs seventy-five per cent. of lead and fifteen ounces of silver.

In Limerick township, near Ormsby, there is practically a mountain of garnet ore, and the reporter was shown a small piece which was literally studded with the gem. There are hundreds of quartz veins in the township that carry different classes of metals that have proved very satisfactory on assay.

The reporter was also informed that an excursion had been tendered to the British Association, which meets in Toronto next month, to visit the mines of Hastings County, and it had been accepted.

Mr. William Kelly of Marmora, who has also been in town, stated that about a month ago he had met Mr. Rathbone, the celebrated geological expert, who was sent out by a rich London company of South Africa and who was there during the Jameson raid, and Mr. Rathbone had stated, after he had examined several properties in Marmora, that the district was equal to anything he had seen.
