

CHARLES KELLY.—Don't fail to hear Chas. Kelly, the celebrated bass singer and guitarist, in Dickson's hall this (Friday) evening, 25 and 15 cents.

ELECTION MEETINGS.—Mr. John Austin, Liberal candidate for East Victoria, will address the electors at Victoria Road on Tuesday, Feb. 8; at Bexley on Feb. 9; at Head Lake town hall on Feb. 10; at Norland on Feb. 11 and at Cobocook on Feb. 12. All meetings at 7:30 p. m.

Don't be trying to get a seat at the Foresters' Concert on Feb. 9th, when the hall is full. Secure your seat just where you want it, at Lytle's drug store.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING.—A meeting of the East Victoria Farmers' Institute (local meeting series) will be held in the school house at Powles' Corner this (Friday) evening, commencing at 7:30. An interesting programme of short addresses and discussions by prominent farmers of the vicinity will be presented, and will be interspersed with good vocal and instrumental music. A Babcock tester will be on hand and samples of milk will be tasted for anyone who may so desire.

The committee of the Foresters' Concert, Feb. 9th, will make a consideration of the comfort of patrons. Perfect order and a good evening are promised.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—Loyal Orange District Lodge No. 4 of Fenelon held its annual meeting in the Orange Hall at Glenarum on Tuesday, January 11th. The district lodge was declared to be in a prosperous condition, several new members being initiated during the last year. After the usual routine of business the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. Dis. Master, Bro. L. Dayman; D. Dis. Master, Bro. J. Aldous; Dis. Chap., Wm. Thorbury; Dis. Rec. Sec., Bro. John T. Thompson, Jr.; Dis. Fin. Sec., Bro. S. A. Suldaby; Dis. Treas., Bro. Robt. English; D. of C., Bro. Thos. Roberts; D. Sec., Bro. Neil McGillivray.

A PRETTY PONY.—Mr. John H. Brandon's daughter, little Miss Fanny, has long been wanting him to give her a pony, and when, in Port Perry, a couple of weeks ago, he saw one that he thought would suit her, he bought it and brought it home. It is a pretty little animal, thirteen hands high, seven years old, a good traveller, piebald in color, quiet and gentle, and thoroughly broken to both saddle and harness. Mr. Brandon says that it is one of a number of Indian ponies that were brought from Montana, and a slight brand on its right shoulder shows that it has been a member of a herd running on the plains.

Are you going? Where? To the Foresters' Concert. Yes, of course; I wouldn't miss it for anything, so I got tickets at Lytle's—saves crush and trouble at the door, you know.

FORESTERS' CONCERT.—Comment has it that the Foresters, in securing the appearance of the talented artists, Misses McCullum and Zeigler, before the Fenelon Falls public at Dickson's hall on Feb. 9th, are endeavoring to establish a record for Court Phoenix in the provision of entertainments. Plainly, the committees of the future will feel the need, if anxious to rise to the mark of the coming concert, of putting their best business energy to the front, or failing. The expression is made that the financial results of the concert have not so much been a subject of Foresteric deliberations as the placing of a good thing before the people, who it was conceded always knew and patronized a really artistic presentation. An assured fact is that the purchase of tickets by the plan at Lytle's is a well thought of convenience.

A COLD SNAP.—Up to the middle of last week the winter was exceptionally mild and pleasant, the mercury generally standing somewhere in the neighborhood of the freezing point, and only on three or four occasions dropping below zero, and then only for a very short time. But a snowstorm set in on the 27th, and next day a genuine old fashioned "cold snap" commenced, and lasted considerably longer than usual, as if to make up for lost time. A great deal of snow has fallen and has drifted so much that some of the country roads are nearly blocked, but the train has not yet been delayed. Wednesday was Candlemas day, and if the bear was fool enough to come out of his comfortable den in such bitter weather he couldn't see his shadow, which—according to the belief of a great many persons—is a certain indication that the winter won't last much longer.

A SIMA.—Mr. John Jones of this village, who is very fond of live things, has added to his menagerie a small monkey, which for a couple of days after its arrival drew such a crowd to his tenuous establishment that he was forced to take his new pet to his house, where it was kept until it had been interviewed by those who particularly wished to make its acquaintance, and was then taken back to the shop and put into a large cage, about four feet high, built for its accommodation. Mr. Jones's parrot and Jim, the monkey, take scarcely any notice of each other; but his little spaniel, Brownie, and Jim are great friends, and romp together in the most amusing manner whenever the dog is put into the cage. From the monkey's appearance and playfulness we judge that it is quite young; and, if so, and it be properly cared for, Mr. Jones may enjoy its society for a good many years.

NEW RINK.—A meeting was held on Friday evening last for the purpose of discussing the building of a new rink, to be used for curling. It was decided to go right ahead with the project, and committees were appointed to look after the various details. The building will be about 165 x 35 feet in size, and will cost in the neighborhood of $400, of which shares to the extent of $200 have already been disposed of. The new structure will fill a long felt want, as the ice in the present rink has never been satisfactory, the skates of the skaters cutting it away at places and making it unlevel, and the time for curling was limited, as the skaters and hockey players had to have their share of it. It is expected that, with good straight ice, and the rink open for curling every day, many new members will be added, a great impetus given to the game, and, with a larger membership and constant practice, our curlers will be able to go forth and outcurl all creation, cover themselves and this village with glory, and win more tawards and things than they will know what to do with.
