had happened, and Wickham rousing him. himself to answer. As Harry and Lucy moved more slowly through the wish I could make you understand!" quiet woods, the voices in front gradually died away in the distance. there was no reply. She was still pale and faint from the Then she looked at him pityingly. shock of Ardel's danger, and in a Foolish as she thought it, his pain frank, sisterly fashion, sne took Tre- was very real. vor's arm for support. At the touch of her hand, the great passion that don't doubt you believe all you say underlay all his thoughts, his life it- for the moment; most boys begin self, welled up tumultuously, raging like that, I am told. Presently you against all barriers of reason. Her will meet some nice girl of your own mere presence close beside him thrill- age, and you will laugh together, and ed him with unutterable rapture, he I will laugh with you, over this folknew not why, or how. Love and ly about an old maid." hope and fear filled his soul with He grew desperate. "Lucy," throbbed with ecstasy at the thought his voice thrilled her, "can you realof winning her for his own-but the ly think me a raw schoolboy, who next came the dread pain of loss; the doesn't know his own mind? Cannot yielding of her to another chilling you understand?" him to the very marrow of his bones. "What is there to understand?" she strong will, he kept his passion un- er the wildness of his words. "You he said; for even yet the faint the belief that I am talking to them on the still air.

death was an abiding horror. There teen years ago." are two Ardels, unlike in everything | "But is there no hope for me, even except mere outward form."

Lucy?" he asked abruptly. She look- Do you still love Dr. Ardel?" ed up at him in surprise. "Don't She blushed softly. "Is this fair, talk of love, like a good boy. Oh, Harry?" if you knew, even for an hour, the But he was too fiercely in earnest Dr. Ardel I once knew, you could not! to care. ask that question!"

and loved you?" he began eagerly; answer." but checked himself, as he met her startled eyes.

"The real Dr. Ardel is dead," she its way with her. answered softly, after a pause, speak- "Do you still love Dr. Ardel?" "only his body lives. It's too sad now, and he was the master. to talk of. Do you know, Harry, you sometimes strangely remind me musingly. no one ever tell you this before?"

hear it first from you. It gives me at a word or a laugh, the feeling of hands and feet, till a string courage to say what I have got to passes as swiftly as it came. Often tiny bead-like bubbles streamed up say. I want you to let that resemblance plead for me. You can- But it is in truth dead. There is Presently he was out again, dripnot know how- I love you: with a love that is more than half my being. My soul is weak with longing. I feel that you are the best part of is Jeannette--" my life, and lacking you, I must

She stopped short, dismayed, as this fervent declaration reached her, trembling and growing pale and red by turns, at the intensity of the man's passion in his words and voice. But when she looked again at the boyish face of the young lad . who spoke so earnestly, a half-amused smile dimpled her cheeks, and sparkled for a moment in her blue eyes. "My dear Harry," she said very gently, "is it as bad with you as all that? I thought you had more sense. I thought you had clean forgotten this folly. But all boys are the same, I suppose. So you want to marry your grandmother, and this is the 'great love' of your life: your long life of eighteen years. I suppose you think yourself in earnest. my poor boy, and I must not laugh at you."

Her playful words stung him to the soul. He felt how true they seemed: how powerless he was to dispute their truth; and all the time

He stood for a moment, abashed The sportsmen passed on, Ardel and dumb, before her, looking the still chatting gaily, as if nothing foolish schoolboy that she thought

> "Oh!" he cried at last, "how "Understand what?" she asked; and

"My dearest Harry," she said, "I

One moment his heart cried, and again the earnestness

Yet, by the fierce strain of his repeated, more and more puzzled ovare not like other boys, I know. "How lightly he laughs at death," Sometimes you almost cheat me into echoes of Ardel's laughter reached man, not merely wiser, but older than myself. But I cannot long for-"Is it not strange?" she answered, get that you are, in truth, a boy "Eva-your mother, I mean-has of scarce half my age-a boy whom I ten told me that, to the Dr. Ardel dangled on my knee when Dr. Arof the old days the mere thought of del first brought me to Lavella, fifif-? Is my age the only obstacle? "Which Ardel do you love best. Answer me this one question, Lucy.

"Answer me! answer me!" he "If he could come to you again, [cried; "my whole life hangs on your

> The strange power his earnestness gave him, in spite of his youth, had ing rather to herself than to him; persisted. She was the schoolgirl

"I hardly know," she answered of him, in thought and word? Did sight of him seems to revive the feelings of long ago, and tender thoughts long minute prone on the cool white "No one, Lucy; and I am glad to and memories storm my heart. But, floor, with a gentle upward motion and often I mourn for my dead love. through the clear water.

noticed the strange eagerness in his nately round his head like feather but his age frightens her. It is all every easy motion, like the ridges a terrible tangle now. But if you and dimples of swift flowing water. chose Jeannette, may--' be. Yet still there may be a way ed, half-dressed, to Trevor, who had found out of this maze, and happi- been watching him with whimsical ness at the end for all."

Harry?"-very carnestly.

ery day that goes by this folly be- for all that, I'll be bound." comes more foolish? I cannot, I will not have your young life wrecked by such madness."

"You have no choice in this, Lucy, and I have no choice. 'So long as you are free I must strive to win

you. Strange as it may seem to you were not an old man, but-why, Harwhat you have said just now has ry, I'm at least three times as old given me new hope. I must see as she is." Ardel at once. Don't look frighten- 'Not quite,' the other answered ed. I shall tell him no secrets of curtly. He did not seem to like yours. Oh! if the past could be re- the topic of Ardel's age. called!" The last words were mut- "Well, you know what I mean. It's tered under his breath, as if forced a lie to say 'a man is as young as from him by a sudden pang of tor- he feels.' In that case I'd be under turing remorse, and did not reach twenty; I feel like a boy. I love to her ears.

on some outside topic, and she an- times feel quite miserable about it? was still in a tumult. But present- if I never had any real youth." ly their talk glided smoothly into familiar channels. Was it alto- thought better of it. gether chance that, ever and again, some stray turn of thought-a phrase like everybody else, but I have not -brought her memory back to that the least remembrance of it." summer evening long ago, when she and Ardel walked for the first and last time together under the trees at Lavella?

steps, and Lucy in her room, alone, repented of that pleasant walk, and ly, half fearing for her own heart, till, with a sudden trembling, it came upon her _that she had found the desperate remedy she sought, and she wept bitterly at finding it.

Meanwhile, Harry Trevor, passing round to the court-yard, found Ardel in pleased contemplation of a great pile of slaughtered game that had been emptied from the carts.

"Seventy-five brace to my own gun him towards the house.

you?" said Trevor to Ardel, as they crossed the great hall together.

"Of course you can, old man. Come to my room now, while I am getting you, old chap, to make fun of a fel- only those who have been similarily my shooting togs off, and having a low. She's sixteen and I'm forty- afflicted can understand what agony tub. You don't mind talking while seven. There are thirty strong rea- I endured. I put myself under the I'm tubbing, do you? No-Come along then."

Ardel's dressing-room was on the ground floor, and a full half of the word "old." space was covered by a great plunge room threw a waving reflection up to the high ceiling. When Ardel, throwing off his shootface flushed by healthful exercise, the strong frame, deep-chested, and clean limbed.

For a moment Ardel paused on the "Sometimes the mere bath's brim, drew a deep breath, and went in head foremost, and lay for a no one living whom I like better ping and glowing, draped in a huge than yourself, Harry, if you would rough towel through which his limbs only not spoil our friendship. There and chest showed marble white. He caught up two fifty-six pound

"But Jeannette loves Ardel?" She Jumb-bells, and swung them alterweights, the muscles smoothly rising "Sometimes I half fear she does; and sinking on legs and arms with So far not a word had been spok-"No, Lucy, never; that can never en. It was Ardel began. He turnadmiration, hardly knowing how to "And you will forget this folly, say what he had come to say.

"Well, Harry, old man," he cried, "My love is part of my life," he | "what's on your mind? Out with answered slowly; "it can only cease it. Can I help you in any way. You with my life. I can wait and hope; look a bit seedy and worried. Have I cannot change. dare not despair. you been moralizing over the slaugh-When I next speak to you, per- tered pheasants, as the melancholywhat's his name?-Jacques, moraliz-"Never, never, never, you poor ed over the wounded deer? He had mad boy. Cannot you see that ev- his share of the venison at dinner

> "It's a serious matter, Ardel; to me, at least; terribly serious, perhaps not less to you. You must bear with me patiently if you can. I want to have a few words with you about-Jeannette."

> He had meant to end the sentence with Lucy. He could not tell in the least how the other name came instead.

other could reply.

her happiness is very dear to me." man'-with an uneasy little laugh- stified, with wide-open eyes and lips are used you find only healthy, hap-But there is new hope for you in "I wasn't quite sure of the brother- apart.

> Trevor laughed outright at him. "Jealous," he said. "Well, you need the other answered, and passed from

I might have a chance, perhaps, if I it comes to nursing animosity.

be with young people, and do what A brief space they walked on in they do, and get laughed at for my silence. Then Trevor lightly touched pains. Do you know, Harry, I someswered, shyly at first, for her heart I do so want to be young. I feel as

Trevor started as if to speak, but

"Well, I suppose I was young once

"Not the least?" saved people's lives. Lucy especial- healthy condition ly is always trying to recall those As an illustration of how even the marry, of course."

"Wby?" Trevor asked. sons why; she's a young girl and care of an excellent doctor, but got I'm an old man."

Harry Trevor winced again at the bath, lined with white porcelain not be cannot be, I suppose. But ly knew me; I could not move hand tiles, where the tepid water dimpling there are other women of a more or foot and had to be turned in bed in the bright sunshine that filled the suitable age. There's Miss Ray, for in sheets. The pain I endured was example."

woman in the world for me. It is after taking a few boxes there was ing clothes, made ready for a plunge her or nobody, and that spells no- an appreciable change for the better; Harry Trevor noted with a curious body. Don't laugh at me, Harry, the pains began to leave me, and my kind of envy (himself conscious of like a decent fellow, but I feel as if joints began to limber. I kept on the humor of it) the dark, handsome Lucy Ray was years older than I taking the pills until I had used a chance to choose?"

> times more than half afraid of her, I life." cannot help it. I fear I must be a These pills not only cure rheuma little mad," he wound up ruefully. | tism, but all other blood and nerve "look at things from the bright side, tion, kidney troubles, neuralgia, parnot the black' -he had brightened up tial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, etc.

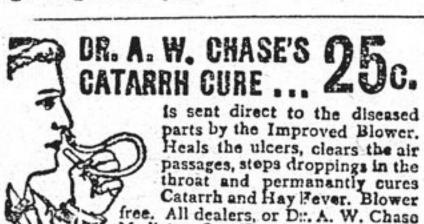

> wonderfully himself. never said a word of all this to full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Jeannette?"

be too absurb."

hope I'm not a cad, and that Ont. would be the act of a cad. I don't believe she cares two straws about me in that way, but if I thought she did, all the more reason for saying nothing-for going clean away out of this. It would be mean to take advantage of her youth. Why, I'll be when she is still a young girl."

"You put it unpleasantly, Vivian," age together-yet--''

"There is no 'yet' about it. I feel now I ought to cut and run out Modicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo.

"You know she and I have been pause, and the intense earnestness of where there are infants and young always like brother and sister, and his voice fixed the other's attention children. They speedily relieve and at once, "believe me there is hope cure all the common ailments inci-Then Ardel's face lightened at for you even yet. I am glad you dent to childhood. In fact I think once, and he broke in with desperate spoke out so freely. It helps me in the Tablets are a blessing to chilhaste. "I know it is, Harry. I know what I may have to say to you, dren." it ought to be. I have often longed when I can find strength and courage. It is such sincere, honest words as to speak to you about her, but I have a secret to tell, and a choice these that has made Baby's Own The feminine organism is an intri- the stomach after meals, nervous somehow I never could get the words to offer-a grim secret; a strange Tablets the most popular medicine cate mass of delicate and sensitive sick headaches, irritability sleepless- out when I had the chance. I need choice that may utterly change both with mothers all over the land. The nerves which require an enormous ness; spells of weakness and dizziness not say there is one whose opinion our lives, but it will be for you to Tablets can be given to all children

Ardel looked at him, utterly my- well grown child, and where they and shrivel up and by means of pain by medicines composed of alcohol seen her look at you now and again can say, nothing you can do, can mail at 25c a box by writing The and irregularities make known their and other stimulants, but the hope in a way that gave me a nasty give me the love of Jeannette or the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockright to take it." "Don't be too sure, even of that,"

> not be; she's ten times as much with the room abruptly, leaving Ardel (To be continued.)

RHEUMATISM CURED

RIGHT WAY AND A WRONG WAY TO TREAT THE TROUBLE.

Liniments and Outward Applications Cannot Cure-The Disease Must be Treated Through the Blood.

Rheumatism is one of the most common ailments with which humanity is afflicted, and there are few troubles which cause more acute suffering. There is a prevalent notion, also, that if a person once contracts rheumatism it is bound to return in cold or damp weather. This is a mistake; rheumatism can be thor-"Sometimes I have the queerest no- oughly driven out of the system, but tion. I seem to remember in a vague, it must be treated through the misty kind of way, as if it was blood, as it is a blood disease. Rub-They parted at the great stone about somebody else, that I was a bing the affected joints and limbs little kid called Harry, and that is with liniments and lotions will never nonsense, of course. But it stops cure rheumatism, though perhaps it cast about for means to end his fol- there. I have tried till my head may give temporary relief. Dr. Wilached to get a glimpse into the past, liams' Pink Pills have cured more but it was no use. The first thing I cases of rheumatism than perhaps really remember is you, a little boy, any other disease except anaemia. teaching me, a big man, to read These pills drive the rheumatic poiswords of one syllable. They tell me on out of the system by their action I was a wonderful josser once upon a on the blood, and the trouble rarely time, that I was a great doctor, who returns if the treatment is persisted made all sorts of discoveries and in until the blood is in a thoroughly days, but they have gone clean out of most aggrevated forms of this trou--not a bad bit of shooting," he said my head. I'm nothing now but a ble yield to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, complacently as he ran his arm blundering duffer, with the brains of the case of Mr. J. J. Richards, of through Trevor's and turned with a schoolboy, and to crown all I must Port Colborne, Ont., may be cited. needs fall head over heels in love Mr. Richards says:-"About three "Can I have a word or two with with a schoolgirl, whom I can never years ago I suffered from a most severe attack of rheumatism. I could neither lie down nor sit up with any "Why! every why. It's not like degree of ease, and I am guite sure Then I tried another no benefit. and still another, but with no better results. By this time I had become "Well," he said slowly, "what can- so reduced in flesh that friends hardsomething awful. Then I was urged "Don't chaff. There is only one to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and am, instead of years younger. I dozen boxes, by which time every seem to have a kind of dream of trace of the trouble had disappeared. another life, when I was a wee chap, I firmly believe that had it not been and she was a grown woman, and for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I would read fairy tales to me. I'm some- have been a rheumatic cripple for

> "That's mere folly," said Trevor; diseases, such as anaemia, indiges-"Have you The genuine pills always bear the for Pale People," on the wrapper "Never, and never will. It would around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers at 50 cents a box, or "Why not, at least, give her the six boxes for $2.50, or sent by mail, post paid, by writing to the Dr. "Look here, Harry; whatever I am Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, FACTS ABOUT THE DEEP SEA. Great Britain and America do more deep-sea measuring than all the other nations put together. More than one-half of the sea floor lies at a an old man without hair or teeth depth of a little less than three miles Some of the deepest places are holes in the ocean bed. One of these in Harry answered with a grim smile, the South Atlantic covers 7,000,000 "but you put it straight. I agree square miles, or 7 per cent. of the husband and wife should grow to old surface of the globe. The Indian Ocean is a great place for deep waters, twenty-four out of the known forty-three "holes" lying at the bottom of that body of water. Sea near the coast usually slopes away gradually to a depth of 600ft., and then drops rapidly to a depth of 6,000 ft. Variations of temperature do not extend deeper than 600ft. Below that the temperature never

A BLESSING TO CHILDREN.

"From the fulness of my own ex-But Ardel started and flushed at of temptation, but I feel, too, as if perience," writes Mrs. Samuel Hamthe name, and Trevor, suddenly see- I could not live out of her sight. I litton, of Rawdon, Que., "I can say ing his advantage went on before the haven't pluck enough in me to try." that Baby's Own Tablets are an in-"Vivian," said Trevor after a long dispensible medicine in every home from the tiniest, weakest baby to the py children in the home. You can "I don't know in the least what get the Tablets from any dealer in ville, Ont.

JEWELS ON AN IDOL.

The jewels of an Indian idol must you, and ten times as happy in your still utterly bewildered. But he be worth stealing if many of those pulled himself together quickly, for remarkably hideous images reserve "Oh! yes, I know. We get on no trouble troubled him long. At such valuable head ornaments as" pretty well together, sometimes," the luncheon he was again the gayest of made for the idol Parthasathy, in other answered with lover's modesty. the gay, chatting and laughing with the Triplicane temple at Madras. The 'She often seems to forget how old Jeannette in the volatile exuberance ornament is worth some 50,000 I am, and I generally manage to for- of youth, as if no serious thought rupees, and is made of sovereign gold, and rubies, the largest emerald being valued at 1,000 rupees and the His Most people are good nurses when gest ruby and diamond at 300 rupeer aniece.

he knew how false. Health and Vigor For Sickly Women

By Supplying an Abundance of Rich, Red, Life-Sustaining and System-Building Blood,

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Thoroughly Cures the Ilis Pecullar to Women.

amount of pure, rich blood to nour- come over you; you feel disheartened, I think more of. But I shirked this choose." ish them and supply them with the discouraged and despondent and fear subject. To tell you the truth, old vital force necessary to properly per- prostration, pralysis or insanity. form their functions.

tity or quality the nerve cells waste Not the false hope which is aroused might like to go one better, and I've you mean, Harry, but nothing you medicine, or they will be sent by starved and depleted condition. in the world will never cure the pearance of annoying symptoms. weakness and irregularities peculiar | As a blood-builder and nerve reis the most certain cure obtainable | youd a doubt.

for such ailments. thore are feelings of discomfort in on every box.

When the blood is lacking in quan- the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. and-sister business. I fancied you which finds foundation in added flesh twinge." Unless the nervous system is put and tissue, in better appetite, more in proper condition all the medicine buoyant feelings and gradual disapwomen. Because Dr. Chase's storative Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is Nerve Food contains the elements of bound to benefit your whole system. nature which go to form new, rich By noting your increase in weight blood and create new nerve force it while using it you can prove this be-

Fifty cents a box, 6 boxes for When the nervous system becomes $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson. exhausted the whole body is more or Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect get it myself, till all of a sudden I had ever touched him in all his life. studded with diamonds, emeralds, less affected and the various organs you against imitations the portrait catch her looking at me in a halffail to perform the duties devolving and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, frightened kind of way, and I know upon them. Digestion is impaired; the famous receipt book author, are right well what she is thinking of.