An American contractor is building a power house in London for the Metropolitan Railway, which has been happily termed the "miracle in bricks," a tribute to the remarkable speed at which the construction is being erected. The British bricklayers do not challenge the speed, but they claim that it has been exceeded in at least one instance by London bricklayers.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

NOT ALTOGETHER MODERN.

Breech-loading guns are usually supposed to be a nineteenth century invention. The London Chronicle says that in the shop of a Dublin gunsmith at Cork Hill is on view a breech-loading rifle which was offered to the British war office at the close of the eighteenth century. It was rejected on the ground that it took too much ammunition. That the breech-loader is older still, and that there is little new under the sun, has been proved at Tobermory Bay, Mull, where Captain Burns of Glasgow has, with the permission of the Duke of Argyll, been searching for relics of the Admiral of Florence, one of the vessels of the Spanish Armada known to have been blown up in 1588 in that far-away water. With the aid of an old chart the diver went down into twelve fathoms and came across a bronze breech-loading cannon, four and a half feet long, eight inches in diameter at the breech, and bearing the date of 1563. The diver also discovered a pistol, heavily incrustated with lime, a sword blade and a kedge. The relics are to be exhibited in Glasgow.

SWEET SARA.

Sir Samuel Sims saw sweet Sara Sampson swimming. Suddenly she seemed sinking. Sir Samuel stood stunned. Striding seawards, spurning shingle, Sir Samuel swiftly swam Sara-wards. Sir Samuel skillfully supported swooning Sara; swimming shorewards, Sir Samuel successfully succoured Sara. Seeming somewhat shaky, Sir Samuel sampled some spirits—special Scotch. Sara saw Sir Samuel's self-sacrificing spirit; Sir Samuel saw Sara's sweetness. Sir Samuel soon sought Sara. Striding slowly, Sara sighed softly. Sir Samuel seemed speechless.

"Say something, Sir Samuel," said Sara.

"Say, Sam, Sara," said Sir Samuel.

Sara, smiling shyly, softly said "Sam."

"Sara—Sally!" stammered Sir Samuel. "Sweet Sara—sweetheart!" Sara solemnly surrendered.
