

NEW SENSATION IN MEDICAL WORLD

Collingwood Bright's Disease Cure
Brings to Light Others Equally Wonderful.

Mrs. Fred. Philip of Eglington
Tells of Her Remarkable Experience.

Discharged From Two Toronto
Hospitals—Dodd's Kidney Pills
Brought Back Her Health.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—(Special).—The report from Collingwood of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Thomas Adams of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills has aroused great interest here and the discussion of it has brought out the fact that Mrs. Adams' case is not an isolated one, that right in Toronto there are people who, suffering from the most dreaded and fatal of Kidney Diseases, have found a positive and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

One of the most striking cases that has been brought to light is that of Mrs. Fred. Philip, now residing on Broadway ave., Eglington, one of the northern suburbs of the city. That Mrs. Philip was suffering from Bright's Disease and was in a most dangerous state, there is not the shadow of a doubt. She was in two city hospitals, Grace and the General, and left both places without a hope for the future.

IN THE HOSPITALS.

In Grace Hospital the doctors wished to operate on her, but she objected, and leaving the hospital called in another doctor. He told her at once that she had Bright's Disease and had her removed to the General Hospital. The doctors here demurred to an operation on account of the danger.

On being discharged a second time without benefit Mrs. Philip stopped the doctors and started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. The result is that to-day all the terrible swelling is gone, she is able to do all her own work as well as look after her bright little four-year-old child.

In an interview Mrs. Philip spoke freely of her terrible trouble and gave unstinted praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

MRS. PHILIP'S STORY.

"I was sick for six months," she said, "before taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. During that time I was six weeks in Grace Hospital and two months in the General Hospital. I was told in both places that nothing more could be done for me. I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills in April and am still using them. They have done me a world of good. The Dropsy has all left me and I am now doing all my own work just the same as I was before I was sick."

The talk these cases has caused has also served to show how general the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills has become and how numerous are the cures effected of Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Dropsy, and all the other results of diseased Kidneys. In fact, cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills can be found by the hundred, but a case in which they have failed to cure has yet to be reported.

The Crown Prince of Germany is the only child of the Emperor who is not left-handed, a trait common for centuries in the Royal family of Prussia.

President Loubet will resume his study of astronomy as soon as he lays down the cares of State. An observatory is being built in the grounds of the chateau which the President recently purchased.

Sarasate, the eminent violinist, declares that his extraordinary command over his favorite instrument is due to the fact that he has practised on an average six hours a day ever since he was twelve years of age.

The Dowager-Empress of Russia is very fond of the Danish black or rye bread, such as is baked for the soldiers. During Her Majesty's visits to Denmark she eats this kind of bread every day, and when at home a loaf is sent to Russia every fifth day.

The Queen of Holland's chief hobby is amateur acting. She takes the liveliest interest in dramatic art, and never fails to attend the first night at the theatres. A few years ago she had a theatre built for use at the Los, where plays are performed under her direction.

A man who resumes active Parliamentary life after a break of forty years is something in the nature of a political curiosity. Such has been the experience of the Hon. John Dennistoun Wood, who has just been elected a member of the Tasmanian Parliament in succession to the late Speaker. He quitted Colonial politics at thirty-five and now returns to them at seventy-five.

Sir August Manns, the great conductor, was born seventy-eight and a half years ago at Stolzenburg in Pomerania, Prussia. His father was a glass-blower earning $5 a week, on which he brought up a family of ten children. The worthy old man himself was something of a fiddler, and after working hours would take down his instrument and play a tune or two. But the master at whose feet the young August sat was an old soldier, who had come home crippled from the wars.

Mr. Clyde Fitch, the successful American dramatist, has been wonderfully lucky with his plays, making, it is estimated $200,000 a year out of them. He works very rapidly, seldom more than half an hour at a time, and makes a point of taking six months out of every year as holiday. He is a great Shakespearean scholar, and loves all the Elizabethan dramatists. This love he attributes to his having had an English governess with a cultivated literary taste, and before he was nine years old she assisted him to publish a weekly newspaper. Its circulation, though limited, was not quite so much so as its staff, for the youthful publisher was also reporter, editor, compositor, and all.

The Earl of Leicester holds, in more than one respect, a unique position in the British peerage. He has been the father of eighteen children, of whom fourteen survive, and he numbers among his sons-in-law four earls, a viscount, and a baron. There is a difference of age of close on half a century between his eldest daughter and his youngest son, and he is at once a great-grandfather several times over, and also the proud father of a boy of ten. Another most astonishing fact in Lord Leicester's family history is that his second marriage (to Miss Georgina Cavendish) took place exactly 100 years after his father's wedding, the respective dates being 1775 and 1875.

Sir Henry Thompson was the pioneer of the movement in England for the adoption of cremation. He is one of the foremost surgeons in the world and, besides, a man of extraordinarily varied attainments. He has exhibited his paintings at the Royal Academy and the Salon, Paris; written novels of merit, produced standard works on cremation and surgery, and at eighty-three years of age drives a motor-car. A friend called upon him to discuss cremation. The great specialist was at home in Wimpole Street, London, but "not at home" for the moment to patients no matter how exalted their rank. The privileged friend was shown into Sir Henry's—not surgery, but studio. There he was hard at work on a picture for an exhibition.

Lord Charles Bessford, who would be hard to beat for popularity in the Navy, had a favorite hobby as a boy which was on a way prophetic of his future calling. This hobby was pastime was that of modelling boats, and he was exceedingly skillful in this direction. These boats he would give as birthday presents to those people for whom he had some special affection. Quite a number of them are in existence. "I would give anything to get one of them back," he remarked one day, "as a reminiscence of my schoolboy days. I offered one old friend $250 for a little model which certainly was not worth $1. But neither he nor any of those who possess them will part with them. So, after all, I must console myself with the thought that my little boats are regarded by those who have them with a certain amount of affection."

A California Doctor With 40 Years Experience.

"In my 40 years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Los Angeles physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people. I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use.

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee in place of coffee when giving my patients instructions as to diet for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone.

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. I find it just the thing to build up gray matter and keep the brain in good working order.

"In addition to its wonderful effects as a brain and nerve food Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in perfect, healthy tone. I carry it with me when I travel, otherwise I am almost certain to have trouble with my stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape-Nuts the most scientific food in the world.

FATHER OF THE MAN.

"Father," asked Tommy, the other day, "why is it the boy is said to be the father of the man?"

Mr. Tompkins had never given this subject any thought, and was hardly prepared to answer offhand.

"Why—why," he said, stumbling, "it's so because it is, I suppose."

"Well, pa, since I'm your father, I'm going to give you a ticket to the circus and fifty cents besides. I always said that if I was a father I wouldn't be so stingy as the rest of them. Go in, pa, and have a good time while you're young. I never had any chance myself."

Mr. Tompkins gazed in blank astonishment at Tommy. Slowly the significance of the hint dawned upon him. Producing $2.50 he said:

"Take it, Thomas. When you really do become a father, I hope it won't be your misfortune to have a son who is smarter than yourself."

The King of Siam is only sixty-five years of age, for he ascended the throne at fifteen. Mrs. Leonowen, an English governess, whose pupil he was for six years, described him as an apt scholar, handsome, affectionate, and generous, with lofty ideals. Chulalongkorn has verified that character by progressive rule. He has given Siam an enlightened government and yet zealously guarded native customs and institutions. Hence, while building canals, railways, light-houses, and hospitals, he still serves as a priest in the Buddhist temple. He has organized his army on the German model; has also abolished the second King, who exercised one-third of the Royal power, and has established instead a Legislative Council of nobles.

"That large man thinks himself a pretty important personage in this place, doesn't he?" asked the stranger. "Important?" exclaimed the native. "Why, if you tell him we're having fine weather here, he swells up as if he thought he made it."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

PATHETIC CUSTOM.

The wives of the North of England colliers observe a very touching and pathetic custom when an accident occurs in the pit. Directly it is known to the wife of a collier that an accident has happened in the pit where her husband works, and that his fate is uncertain, she throws open the house door, and, however inclement the weather may be, she keeps the door open and a candle burning in the window, night and day, till the man is brought home, dead or alive. In some cases the door has remained open and the candle alight during several weeks.

REPAINTING OF LINERS.

The great Atlantic liners are, as a rule, repainted every trip. The sides of the average first-class liner from water-line to rail represent an area of about an acre. The outworks of decks and cabins amount to almost as much more, while the outside surface of the two great funnels and masts totals over half an acre. Thus there is an area of about two and a half acres to be covered on the big liners at the end of every voyage. The painting of the funnels is the most important and difficult of the whole undertaking, and the men carry on their work from swinging seats.
